SECRETARY OF WAR DICKINSON RESIGNS

Henry L. Stimson of New York to Succeed Tennesseean.

Jacob McGarock Dickinson, secretary of war, has resigned from the cabinet. President Taft has appointed Henry Lewis Stimson of New York, Republican candidate for governor last year, to succeed him.
Mr. Dickinson is the second member of Taft's cabinet to retire to private life. Secretary of the Interior Ballinger having been the first.
Secretary Dickinson gives business reasons as his motive for retiring from the cabinet. While there have been reports from time to time in the past year that Mr. Dickinson contemplated returning to private life, the official announcement of his resignation came as a surprise to official and political Washington.

DICKINSON AND STIMSON.

Mr. Dickinson's letter to the president follows:
Dear Mr. President—As my affairs have recently changed as to require my personal attention in Tennessee, I herewith tender my resignation as secretary of war, to take effect as soon as may be compatible with the public interest. I cannot expect to show how I appreciate the honor and care which you have bestowed upon me and the uniform kindness with which you have always treated me. The memory of having enjoyed the privilege of being associated with you and my colleagues in the cabinet in the discussion of so many great questions affecting the welfare of our country will always be cherished by me as inestimable.
With all good wishes for you, and with the hope that one so able, patriotic and devoted may long be spared for the services of his country, I am, very sincerely,
Yours truly,
J. M. DICKINSON.

It was explained in behalf of Mr. Dickinson that most of his private fortune was invested in a coal company in Tennessee. The company was recently placed in the hands of a receiver. In order to protect his interests Mr. Dickinson decided to resign. It is his purpose to return to his home in Tennessee.

SENATE SOLVES PROBLEM.

Frye Still President Pro Tem. of the Upper House.
For the present at least there will be no vital controversy over the election of a president pro tempore of the senate.

Senators have discovered that they have a president pro tempore in the person of Senator William F. Frye of Maine, who resigned the office recently.
In poring over the rules of the senate one of the elder statesmen found an answer to the puzzle.
The elder statesman ran across a rule that was adopted by the senate in 1800. It reads as follows:
"It is competent for the senate to elect a president pro tempore, who shall hold the office during the pleasure of the senate until another is elected and shall execute the duties thereof during all future absences of the vice president until the senate otherwise orders."

NEW AERIAL INVENTION.

Glenn Curtiss Perfects Apparatus to Launch Planes From Warships.
Glenn H. Curtiss has invented and will soon make tests of an apparatus for launching aeroplanes from the decks of warships in action without requiring any elaborate special rigging and without interfering with the firing of the guns.
Lieutenant Theodore G. Elyson, U. S. N., is working with Mr. Curtiss by order of the war department.
Mr. Curtiss explains that his plan does not call for any change in the aeroplane, but is a simplified method of launching flying machines. The necessary apparatus may be rigged up in five minutes.

WHY DO THEY

never settle until it is settled right, is more worthy of notice than is usually given it. The liquor men claim they are going to settle the liquor question by regulation, but hundreds of years of failure to regulate shows any mind whose gray matter has not been poisoned by alcohol that this is not the right settlement. If prohibition is such a failure why does every class of liquor men fight it so vigorously?—Alabama Citizen.

LABOR UNIONS TO STAND BY McNAMARA

Make Known Their Attitude in Alleged Dynamiting Case.

Executive officers of the international trade unions with headquarters in Indianapolis, after a meeting in the Carpenters' building, issued a statement defining their attitude in the McNamara case.

The statement asserts that the arrest and extradition of McNamara set a dangerous precedent which involves the legal rights of a citizen and is a menace to organized labor.
"It is this a new short cut for the overthrow of trade unionism?" asked the labor leaders.

McNamara, known personally to many of those who signed the statement, was declared to be an "industrious, reliable, painstaking and courteous gentleman." The labor leaders asserted they were slow to believe him guilty of the crimes charged to him, and they pledged him funds with which to provide an adequate defense.
The statement recites that the labor organizations, with headquarters in Indianapolis, employ many persons at good wages and have millions of dollars on deposit in Indianapolis banks. A hint that the headquarters of the various organizations might desert Indianapolis if the procedure in the McNamara case is indorsed officially is contained in the statement.

Methods of raising funds to insure the best legal aid possible in the trial of McNamara and the others charged with complicity in the dynamiting cases were not discussed at the conference.

Frank Duffy, secretary, said all international organizations would take individual action in obtaining subscriptions. The funds so obtained will be sent to the American Federation of Labor.

OHIO DENOUNCES SENATE.

People Aroused Over Vote Giving Alleged Bribers a Chance to Gain Immunity.

All Ohio is ringing with denunciation of what the state calls the brazen effrontery of the senate in voting an immunity bath for itself to escape the charges of bribery.
The house passed a bill repealing the provision in the law which gives immunity to those who testify before a legislative investigation as soon as the plan of the senate became known. The senate rejected this measure by a vote of 22 to 2.
Six legislators already have been indicted, and the public prosecutor and the detectives declare that they have evidence enough for conviction against fifty men—some legislators, others bribers.

The indictment of another senator is expected through the testimony of W. H. Phipps, once state oil inspector, recently appointed auditor of the Philippine Islands. He was recalled by orders from the war department just as he was embarking at San Francisco.
It is said that one senator demanded $1,000 from Mr. Phipps as the price of his vote for a Cleveland subway bill.

EXPORTS TAKE BIG JUMP.

Figures for Past Twelve Months Pass $2,000,000,000 Mark For First Time.
Exports from the United States crossed the two billion dollar line in the twelve months ending with April, according to figures just published by the department of commerce and labor.

This is the first twelve-month period in which the figures have touched or passed the two billion dollar mark. The exact figure for the twelve-month period was $2,012,749,595 and for the ten months of the fiscal year ended with April, $1,753,777,835. For April the exports were $188,004,276, which is larger than those of April in any earlier year in the history of the trade.
The imports for April were $120,128,182, being nearly $14,000,000 below April of last year, and for the ten months ended with April, $1,274,937,987, against $1,318,233,036 in the corresponding months of last year, a decline in imports of about $14,000,000 in the single month and of over $43,000,000 in the ten month period.
In the ten months ended with April $653,000,000 worth of merchandise entered free of duty and $862,000,000 worth was dutiable.

ORDER FREIGHT INQUIRY.

Western Rates on Wool, Hides and Pelts Considered Unreasonable.
A comprehensive investigation of alleged unreasonable freight rates on wool, hides and pelts from western points of origin to eastern destinations has been ordered by the interstate commerce commission.
The inquiry will affect wool, hide and pelt rates throughout the country.
The investigation, instituted on the commission's own initiative, developed from complaints filed by the National Wool Growers' association and the Oregon railroad commission against western carriers, alleging that existing rates on wool, hides and pelts were excessive, exorbitant and discriminating.

SOLVES A GOOD MYSTERY.

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B. Rader, of Louisville, W. Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheumatism, from which I had been an almost helpless sufferer for ten years. It suited my case as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters has no equal. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50c. at all druggists.

REBEL CAMP AT JUAREZ IN TURMOIL.

Madero Helps Navarro to Escape Orozco's Vengeance.

The insurgent government of Mexico had no more than begun to establish itself in the eyes of the people when events demonstrated its incapacity.

Francisco L. Madero, the provisional president, allowed his chief general to draw a revolver on him. Then he spirited away his chief military prisoner to save him from harm at the hands of the insurgent army.

At first the insurgents were making great headway in establishing a stable government; now they are in turmoil. Events crowded themselves upon one another in Juarez. First the insurgents insubordinated against their own leader and demanded the resignation of Madero. Then they howled "Death to Navarro!" so strenuously that Madero slipped him into an automobile and fled to the city of the river. There he told the military prisoner to get to El Paso as best he could.

Navarro abandoned the horse which Madero had furnished him when the automobile ride out of Juarez was ended and waded the turbulent quicksand between the two neck deep.
It is declared that Madero has not asked his cabinet to resign and that he will not, that the protest was merely fomented by Orozco, who was angered at not being made secretary of war. The cabinet, in fact, offered its resignation in a body, but Madero did not accept.
Some of the rebel leaders, it is said, demanded that General Navarro be turned over to them to be put to death. Madero refused.

Then General Orozco had a talk with Madero at his headquarters. Orozco held a revolver in his hand as he talked. Before the two parted, however, they were in calmer mood. They embraced in Mexican fashion and then Orozco left.

General Villa's command has been ordered south to watch for any federalists that may be approaching from Chihuahua, and the trouble in town may be over, as these men are the most troublesome in the organization, and the most being foremost bandits.
While all this is going on there is still talk of peace.

SELF GOVERNMENT FAILS.

Great Britain's Experiment in Egypt Proves Disappointing.
Sir Eldon Gorst, the British agent and consul general in Egypt, frankly acknowledges that the efforts made to develop self government in Egypt have been disappointing.
The legislative council and the general assembly, he says, have become "mere instruments of nationalist agitation against the occupation." They seek to render the business of the government impossible.
"The conclusion to be drawn," says Sir Eldon, "is that the policy of ruling this country in co-operation with native ministers at the present time is incompatible with that of encouraging so called representative institutions."

REAR ADMIRAL GIBSON DEAD.

Was Civil War Veteran and Active in Spanish-American Trouble.
Rear Admiral William C. Gibson, U. S. N., retired, is dead at his home in Brooklyn in his seventy-third year. He entered the navy as a volunteer in 1862 and served through the civil war and became an ensign in 1868. He became commander in 1898.
In the Spanish-American war he was in command of the City of Peking, in which troops were taken to Manila. He was promoted to captain in 1900 after serving two years as senior member of the board of inspection at the Brooklyn navy yard. He then took command of the Texas and retired on July 23, 1900, with the rank of rear admiral.

KILL WOMAN SUFFRAGE BILL.

New York State Assembly Refuses Them Right to Vote.
Two hours of oratory, a reference to notable women from Cleopatra down to Mrs. Carrie Nation, a discussion as to the number of wives Solomon actually had and a few passages at arms which furnished merriment for the galleries marked the deathknell of woman suffrage in New York state for this year in the assembly chamber at Albany.
There is just one faint hope that the matter will come up again. The senate judiciary committee can report it if it wishes to do so.
