SOME HIGH LIGHTS IN GOVERNOR'S CAREER

North Carolinian By Birth and Of Scotch Ancestry; National Figure.

Lumberton, Jan. 20.—Angus Wilton McLean, who was inaugurated governor of North Carolina at noon, Jan. 14, in the city auditorium at Raleigh, was born in Robeson county, April 20, 1870.

A North Carolinian by birth and a Scotchman by ancestry, the new executive has sentiments closely akin to those of his immediate predecessor, Cameron Morrison. The two men are also Presbyterians.

The new governor is a son of Archibald Alexander and Caroline Purcell McLean. After graduating from the McMillan military school, in 1884, he entered high school, completing his course there in 1889. He then attended the University of North Carolina, where he received his degree as bachelor of laws in 1892. The same year he began the active practice of law in Lumberton and was elected county attorney, which position he held until 1904.

Married Miss French.

In 1904, Mr. McLean was married to Miss Margaret French, of Lumberton. From 1898 until 1914 he was president of the Bank of Lumberton. He then assumed the presidency of the National bank of Lumberton. Until his gubernatorial victory he was senior member of the law firm of McLean, Varner and McLean. He was also president of the Virginia and Carolina Southern Railroad company and was prominently connected with several cotton mills in his section.

Mr. McLean was elected chairman of the democratic executive committee of Robeson county in 1892, later being elected a member of the state executive committee. In 1916 he was elected democratic national committeeman from North Carolina, which position he held until the national convention of 1924 when, after he had been nominated for governor, he was succeeded by United States Senator F. M. Simmons.

Mr. McLean was a delegate at large to the national democratic convention of 1904, when he was assigned a place on the rules committee. Again, in 1912, he was a delegate, this time being assigned to a place on the committee on permanent organization. He was chairman of the national campaign committee in 1912 and 1916.

During the world war the state's new executive was prominent in national affairs. In 1920 and 1921 he was assistant secretary of the treasury. In 1920 and 1921 he was assistant secretary of the treasury. In 1918, 1919 and 1920 he was a member of the war finance corporation. In 1920 and 1921 he was managing director of this organization, also a member of the railway loan advisory committee of the United States treasury. He was a member of the selective service advisory committee and general counsel in North Carolina for the alien property custodian.

Active in Red Cross.

Mr. McLean founded the Robeson county chapter of the American Red Cross and was chairman of the county liberty loan committee.

In the meantime, Mr. McLean was elected chairman of the board of trustees of Flora MacDonald college and a member of the official

Stop Night Coughing This Simple Way

People who have persistent, annoying coughing spells at night, and who through loss of valuable sleep are weakening their systems and laying themselves open to dangerous infections, can stop their distressing trouble promptly by a very simple treatment. Hundreds who have hardly been able to rest at all for coughing, have gotten their full night's sleep the very first time they tried it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is that you usually sleep as soundly as a babe the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription is highly recommended for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and spasmodic croup—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. It is on sale at all good druggists. Ask for board of the Union Theological seminary in Richmond.

The new governor holds membership in the following organizations:

The North Carolina Historical society, the American Bar association, the North Carolina Bar association, of which he is an ex-president, the Clan MacLean association, of Glasgow, Scotland, the American Academy of Political and Social Science, the Scottish Society of America, of which he is an ex-president, the Sigma Chi fraternity, the Cape Fear club, of Wilmington; the Capital club, of Raleigh; the Carolina Country club, of Raleigh; the Chevy Chase club, of Washington; the National Press club, of Washington and the Racquet club, of Washington.

The Caledonian club, a Scotch organization with headquarters in New York, invited Mr. McLean to deliver the principal address at its Burns day dinner in 1924. He accepted this invitation and accounts of his address appeared in Scottish papers in this country and in Scotland.

Mr. McLean is an active member of the Presbyterian church at Lumberton, with which he has been officially connected for many years. His wife is a Baptist.

The Governor and Mrs. McLean have three children: Angus Wilton, Jr., Margaret and Hector, the last named being the youngest.
