LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Last week we had a little touch of real winter weather, but we wonder what has become of the old time "knee-deep" snows. It seems to the writer that it doesn't snow as much as it "uster."

Dr. Chas. H. Stevens returned last

Saturday from Kentucky where he has been visiting for a fortnight and reports that the weather was below zero and a heavy mantle of snow was on the ground when he left.

Last spring Dr. Stevens preached a series of ten sermons on Sunday evenings on "Ten Great Falls." He is now preaching on Sunday evenings a series of ten sermons on "Ten Great Rises." His subject last Sunday night was "The Rise of a Foundling." His subject for next Sunday evening will be "The Rise of an Immigrant." The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

Mrs. J. B. Freeman and little son, James Mark, returned last week after spending several days with Mrs. Freeman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wilson, of Shelby.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. T. Greene moved last week to Forest City. We regret to lose this family.

Mr. Miles Haynes has accepted a position with the Cliffside Mills store.

All women and girls of the town are invited to attend the home economics classes that are held in the Memorial building on Monday and Tuesday nights of each week. Any person interested in cooking and sewing would be well repaid for attending these classes.

During the fall and early winter the classes studied problems of cooking, food preparations and child feeding. Beginning with this week the classes take up sewing problems and will make practical, useful garments which will give each member practice and a more thorough knowledge of the art of sewing.

Now that spring is almost at hand every woman and girl will begin to think of spring clothes that she or other members of her family must have. If you cannot sew already, by all means take advantage of these classes. Come to the Memorial building and become a member of one or the other of the Monday and Tuesday night classes.

Misses Nell Hart, Faye Mintz, Ada Bridges and Anna Belle Logan spent the week-end at their respective homes.

We earnestly hope that all our young people will take advantage of this work. Mr. Perry Morgan was to have come also, but writes that it will be impossible for him to come. Dr. Stevens will likely teach the Junior work, while Miss Farabow and Mr. Preston will have charge of the Intermediate and Senior work.

"Hope it does better than it did in lay work," rejoined the bright boy of the family.
