NEW MEMBER FOR CHIMNEY ROCK BOARD

Lake Lure Development To Be Rapidly Pushed—Small Army Of Workmen To Be Used.
 Election of F. Pickens Bacon, of Tryon president of the Southern Mercerizing Company, to membership in the board of directors of Chimney Rock Mountains, Inc., was announced Saturday by officials of the company.
 Mr. Bacon is a representative in the General Assembly from Polk County, and is prominent in the Hogback Mountain development and the Lake Lanier project at Tryon. In a statement made yesterday he declared that he considers his connection with Chimney Rock Mountains, Inc., one of the most important he has made. He plans to take an active part in affairs of the company, which, he said, will mark an active co-ordination of interests between Polk County and the balance of Western North Carolina.

 Efforts will be made by Mr. Bacon, he said, to secure construction of a hard surface highway connecting Tryon with Lake Lure at Chimney Rock. This road would be the main link for traffic from Greenville, Spartanburg and points South, to the resort development at Lake Lure.
 Mr. Bacon's election to the board of directors is the third recently made to the governing board of the organization. Frank Coxie of Asheville and E. W. Ewbank of Hendersonville, during the past few weeks have become directors in the company.
 Work on construction of the big dam that will create Lake Lure, covering 1,500 acres, will start at once. and will be rushed to completion by June, 1926, the date for completion of the company's initial program of improvements on their 8,000 acres near Chimney Rock.
 Contract for the dam recently was let to the Dunavant and Gunther company and the E. H. Clement company, of Charlotte, on their bid of $700,000. A small army of workmen soon will be on the site to carry out the construction.

DEATH OF YOUNG MAN

Harris, March 26.—Moody, the nineteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Collins, of Harris, died at the home of his parents on Thursday, March 19th, of pneumonia. Moody, who was a student at Harris consolidated school, was an exceptionally bright young man of an amiable disposition and held in high esteem by both his fellow students and teachers.
 The interment took place on Friday at Hick's Grove. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. C. Gentry and Rev. Wilson. The entire school attended in a body.
 Mr. Silas Bland, of Sulphur Springs, who has been in declining health for some time, is quite ill at his home.

TRIANGULAR DEBATE HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

The foremost event in the minds of North Carolina high school pupils just now is the coming state-wide high school triangular debate. This is to be held next Friday evening, March 27th at 8 o'clock. Forest City is grouped this year with Rutherfordon and Cliffside the same triangle of the last year. The query this year is: Resolved: That North Carolina should adopt the Port Terminals bill for water transportation. Forest City upholds the affirmative side of the question with Cliffside at Rutherfordon and the negative side with Rutherfordon at Cliffside. Rutherfordon will debate the negative against Cliffside for the affirmative here. News comes from Chapel Hill that more schools have entered this year than ever before and this promises to be one of the best high school debates ever held in North Carolina.
 The Forest City High School will be represented on the affirmative against Cliffside by Miss Margaret Moore and Charles Dalton with Miss Reba Blanton as alternate. The negative side will be upheld against Rutherfordon by Miss Alma Putnam and Robert Lee Harrill with Miss Annie Lee Biggerstaff as alternate.

HONOR THY FATHER AND THY MOTHER

"Honor thy father and thy mother" is one of the commandments God gave to the world, yet how often do we break it. Probably when we are not aware of the fact. Our whole lives are either an honor or a dishonor to our parents.
 The failure or success of our lives are not always due to our parents, but in the eyes of the world our actions reflect on our parents. Life is what we make it. We inherit traits both of body and character from our parents, and we are proud of the fact, but we are born with a will power so it is up to us to do honor to our fathers and mothers. Naturally when people see us their minds wander to our parents and home. Are we an honor or dishonor to them? If we will but ask ourselves this question and ponder well our words and actions to see whether or not our parents will be honored by them we will not commit so many rash acts or say so many words that we ever afterward regret.
 More often in school life than any other walk it seems our parents are judged by what we do. If we do not do our work well and consistently people say we have not had proper training at home. When nine times out of ten we have failed to make use of the training we have had. If we are a spendthrift they say our fathers and mothers are not wise in allowing us to be so wasteful.
 There is not a true father or mother who would purposely give their children advice that would lead them astray. The fact that the world judges our parents by the lives we live is a condition we cannot remedy. So it is up to us to see that our lives bring honor instead of reproach to them.

DONKEYS

Donkeys are four-footed veta-brates; they consist of ears, viciousness, stubbornness and kick—mostly kick.
 Donkeys are very much like people; if you put several to working together, part of them will be balking or pulling the wrong way. If a donkey balks there is no use to beat him and try to make him go and if you pet or coax him it makes him worse. The best thing to do is just to leave him alone and pretty soon he will get ashamed of himself and come along.
 Donkeys are like the girls of R. H. A.; they are good kickers. They wind up and then unroll with such velocity that they can kick the hair off a bald-headed man and make a fellow see stars in the day time.
 Donkeys have large ears and they stand out from their heads just like Henry Warlick's, and look somewhat like his.
 Donkeys are as stubborn as Prof. Prickett and just as hard to manage. Donkeys don't talk; they sing. They make a noise just exactly like Prof. Walker. No wonder Samson killed so many men with the jaw-bone of one.
