OFFICERS CAPTURE STILL

Officers Levi Thomason and Ray Dalton, Rural Policemen with the help of Deputy Gurley Laughter of Polk county and Chief Davis Elliotte of Columbus, captured a still in operation near Uree Tuesday, July 28. Three men made their escape. It was red hot and juice pouring out. It was a copper outfit. Arrests will likely follow soon. Several stands of beer and two and a half gallons of whiskey were taken.

They also found another still eight miles west of town, one mile South of the Charlotte-Asheville highway. It was not in operation. It was a sheet-iron still, about 60 gallon capacity.—The Sun.

We have a new line of goods recently received. They include some fine new voiles; and light weight Summer Suits for men.

Nice line of new Baronette satin slips for ladies.

It would be a good idea to look over our general line of dry goods when in town.

Lot of Shoes, Ladies' Coats, Umbrellas, etc., that are now being sold cheap.
