SOUTH AMERICAN COFFEE NAMED "LAKE LURE"

Chimney Rock, Dec. 1.—That business men of South America are sentimental and seldom forget is attested by the receipt by Dr. Lucian B. Morse, of sample packages of Brazilian coffee sold under the trademark name of "Lake Lure" complimentary to the local development project by that name.

It is recalled that a year ago last June the motorcade of the State Highway Commission, guided by Chairman Frank Page, of Raleigh, gave the road representatives from twenty foreign nations of Central and South America, a thousand mile journey over the good roads of North Carolina. The party, numbering well over a hundred, and including prominent foreigners, were dinner guests of Dr. Morse on top of Chimney Rock. Here was pointed out where it was proposed to create Lake Lure by the erection of a concrete dam 104 feet high just five miles below Chimney Rock. The representatives from Brazil where this coffee comes from were The Charge d' Affaires of Brazil, Dr. Don Samuel de Sousa Leao Gracie, Timothea Pentead, Theodore Augusto Ramos, Lino Campos and Sampaio Correia. It is presumed that it was through their influence that a high grade export coffee should be named after Lake Lure in Western North Carolina, although definite word has not yet been received.

"SERVICE"

"I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service."—Rom. 12:1.

As you think of the word "service" what does it mean to you? What are you serving and how are we to serve?

There are many, many ways in which we can serve Christ. And may it be Jesus Christ that we serve. May we serve Him only for Christ has told us that we cannot serve two masters, for either we will hate the one and love the other; or else we will hold to the one and despise the other.

First, let me say that we may serve Christ by helping others. "By love, serve one another." How many of us try each day to make some one happy? Just a smile or a word will oftentimes make someone happy. We think of self too much and forget God, our loving Saviour and others. May we place God first, then others and lastly self. May dear Jesus help us to live each day that we may live for others. We never lose anything by doing little deeds of kindness. If there are those that hate us and say unkind things about us it is our duty to pray for them and to love them. Oh! that we all had that great and tender love in our hearts that Jesus has. If we could then we would be willing to forgive at all times. Of course it is very hard indeed to love and pray for those that hate us. The real true Christian can and we must do so in order to be Christlike and to serve Him who loves and bestows His bountiful blessings upon us all. Always be thinking of others and in the end may we forget the crown we've won while thinking still of others.

Once a little girl, whom I shall call Mary, was sick all the time and could not get out and play as other little boys and girls did. She sat all day long in a chair by the front window or front door and watched the little girls and boys pass, going from place to place. And many times she could see them carrying beautiful flowers and Oh! how she longed for the beautiful flowers. One day as one of Mary's little girl friends was passing she stopped in to see Mary. She carried in her hand a beautiful red rose. Poor little Mary wanted the rose, so she was given the beautiful rose. It made her so happy and not only her but the one that gave it was just as happy. Why do you suppose she was so happy? Just because she had done a deed of kindness and by doing this deed she received great happiness. It is just the same way with our own lives. When we do good deeds we receive great joy. Mary's little friend left and went back to her other little boy and girl friends and told them what she had done. They all planned some way in which they could make little Mary still happier. The next day as Mary was sitting by her window what do you suppose she saw coming. It was many of her little friends coming with hoes, shovels and different tools to work with, also flower seeds, to make Mary a flower garden. Can't you just imagine how Mary's heart was overflowing with joy. The flowers were planted and each day they were watered by the little boys and girls. Now Mary was happy and forgot about being sick and all her troubles.

These little boys and girls had found an opportunity to make someone happy. Just such wonderful opportunities are hidden in your own lives, dear friends. Will you not make up your mind and make your life a useful one?

Christ says "Knowing that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord, whether he be bound or free." Christ also tells us, "He that overcometh, keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations."

Let us not only serve Christ by helping others, but let us serve Him by worshipping Him and giving Him our money and talents, by obeying Him, by prayer and there are many other ways we might mention. We all have a great task before us. We all have different works and it is our duty to go ahead and develop that talent which God has given us whether it be great or small. Be like Peter and say, "Such as I have give I unto Thee" and God will ask no more of us.

In serving Christ we have many, many temptations but may we put on the whole armour of God and the breastplate of righteousness, that we may be able to stand against the wiles of Satan and above all may we take the shield of faith. May we not do our deeds just to be praised by men but may we do them because it is the sincere desire to our hearts and because we love Christ. Let us give Him all the honor. For we owe it all to Him.

Are you willing to consecrate your service this day unto the Lord?

Let us resolve this day that we will serve Him, who died for us all, more and try to do always the things He would have us do. May we lay ourselves upon the altar of God and let Him use us in the ways He sees best. Let us all be faithful servants always carrying a smile and a song on our lips, helping the world each day to smile and sing. And when our work here on earth is done and the death angel calls us home may we hear that sweet and welcome voice say, "Well done thou good and faithful servant."

HOW ARE WE USING OUR TIME?

"Life is not something with which we can do as we please, but something that has been entrusted to us, which we are to invest in the best possible way for Him who gave it." Time is what we live in, it is a section cut out of eternity for us. Time defines for us the limits in which our work must be done. We should make the best use of our time; but it is one thing that most of us do not value as we should.

Do we own our time? No, our time, all of it, belongs to God. (All things were created by Him and for Him. Col. 1:16.) And we must use it as His stewards. We must use our time to help bring in the Kingdom of God.

Let us examine ourselves and see just what we are doing. How much time do we, as students, spend in communing with God, either in prayer or Bible reading? Do we need our daily Bible readings laid down in the B. Y. P. U. quarterly?

Do you give God the time that is due Him? Are we Christians every day or just Christians on Sunday? How much time do we devote to the promoting of God's Kingdom? We must use our time in doing more of God's will. We can do more of God's will here on the campus by seizing every opportunity of contributing to the good of others. It may be in helping and cheering a classmate, by giving him a lift, a kind word, a look of sympathy or a smile.

How much time do we spend in serving others? We would all profit by following the motto, "God first, others second and self third." For after all there is only one thing in life that is worth while and that is service. Service to God and our fellowmen. Real happiness comes when we forget ourselves while serving others. The happiness of life is made up of little courtesies, little kindnesses, pleasant words, good wishes and good deeds. Is your life a happy one? If not try serving others and you will find joy in living.

The moments in which we are living are the best things that we have.

They are ours, that is they have been entrusted to us. How are we using these moments? We as stewards, while here preparing for future life, forget that we are living today. While it is true that we are preparing for a greater life, we should not put off the tasks until tomorrow that we should do today. We should be about our work at all times. We are living now. But what kind of a life are we living? Is it a life that is pleasing to God? Why not begin now to make our lives what we have planned for a long time. We can find no better time than this hour.

Life is short. Let's make it count for the most. Every one can do much, here in school, on the campus or elsewhere toward making a better day. As a prayer of self dedication we suggest the use of Frances R. Haver-gal's great hymn, which begins with these words:

"Take my life and let it be Consecrated, Lord to Thee.
Take my moments and my days;
Let them flow in ceaseless praise,
Take my hands; let them move
At the impulse of Thy love,
Take my feet and let them be
Swift and beautiful for Thee."
