

WOMAN'S CLUBS OF FOURTH DISTRICT HAVE GOOD MEETING

Delegates from Four Counties
Attend Federation Meet
Here Last Friday.

The Fourth District Convention, North Carolina Federation Woman's Clubs, which was held here Friday was a great success from every viewpoint. More than 250 ladies, from 21 clubs and affiliated societies, of Lincoln, Rutherford, Gaston and Cleveland counties were in attendance. The meetings were held in the auditorium of the Cool Springs high school building.

Morning Session.

The morning session opened at 11 o'clock by singing the Club Woman's Hymn. Mrs. Frank H. Chamberlain, of Lincoln, president of the Fourth District, presided. The collect of the Club Women of America was given by the convention. Greetings from Rutherford county were presented by Prof. Clyde A. Erwin, followed by warm welcome addresses from the Forest City Club, by Mrs. D. H. Sutton and from the Forest City Kiwanis Club, by Dr. R. R. Howes. Mrs. James Abernethy, Jr., of Lincoln, responded heartily to the welcome addresses. Minutes of the last meeting were read, committees appointed, roll call by the secretary were a part of the routine business of the morning session. The remarks from the chairman of districts, Mr. E. H. Williamson, of Fayetteville, was very interesting, while the message of Mrs. E. L. McKee, district president, of Sylva, was the feature of the morning session. She urged the ladies to exercise the right to vote and to stand by the state welfare program.

Local Lady Sings Solo.

Mrs. Nell Padgett Norris sang at the morning session two beautiful numbers, "The Spirit Flower," by Campbell Pipton and the "Indian Love Call" from "Rose Marie." Mrs. Norris rendered these two musical selections perfectly. Classical and as difficult as they were, Mrs. Norris never sang more beautifully in her life.

Luncheon.

The meeting adjourned at 1 p. m. for luncheon, which was served in the school cafeteria. Miss Lillie Maude Bell, teacher of domestic science in the high school, assisted by a class of young girls, were in charge of preparing and serving the luncheon. Much praise was given them for the quick, efficient and capable manner in which the lunch was served and the systematic handling of the large crowd.

Afternoon Session.

Mrs. Kate Burr Johnson, state commissioner of charities and public welfare, was the principal speaker for the afternoon session. She urged a survey of women in industry in the state, told why it was needed, discussed mother's aid and the need for the enlargement, discussed the legislative program of the Federation and the state board of charities and urged the ladies to stand back of the program and to be sure and vote on November second.

Another interesting feature of the afternoon session were reports from all the clubs in the district showing their varied activities. Some time was taken up with the reports of the music chairman, report of committees, questions and other routine business. Mrs. A. M. Glickman rendered two beautiful vocal solos, "Trees," by Bafback, and "Just a little Cottage," by De Sylva, which brought forth much applause.

The attendance prize went to the Macpelah Woman's Club, for having the largest number of delegates present.

Shelby and Gastonia each invited the Clubs to meet there next year, but the Cleveland Capital won.

Officers Elected.

The officers elected for the next year are president, Mrs. J. D. Costner; Mrs. L. D. Henderson, secretary and Mrs. C. F. Gold, Rutherford, legislator chairman.

The club adjourned late in the afternoon after an unusually busy ses-

LATEST NEWS OF CAROLEEN

Various Items of Interest
Gathered by The Courier
Correspondent.

Caroleen, Oct. 26.—The Parent-Teachers Association, of Caroleen, had a very interesting meeting at the Caroleen grammar school building last Wednesday afternoon. An excellent program was planned and carried out, as follows:

Work and play for high school students, by Mrs. D. E. Colvin.

Poem—P. T. A. Sixth Grade Children.

Suggestions for Parents—Miss Ora Smart.

Poem, Be a Teacher—Miss Essie Hemphill.

How P. T. A. Can Help the School—Mrs. J. B. Jones.

Mrs. J. B. Jones, the present president, was unanimously re-elected. A prize of one dollar was offered to the room which had the most mothers present. Miss Ella Lynch's room won the prize. Quite a large number of mothers and all the teachers were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Pimento Lynch and two daughters and son and his wife, of Hendersonville, spent Sunday here visiting Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Lynch. Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Lynch and family also had dinner with them on Sunday.

On Tuesday afternoon the members of the Methodist Missionary Society held a missionary Bible reading class at the home of Mr. L. B. Harrill. A most interesting study was enjoyed. Mrs. J. P. Hornbuckle, the president, presided over the meeting. After the business and study hour, a social hour was enjoyed, delicious refreshments being served, consisting of salad, stuffed peppers, crackers and black coffee. Those enjoying the afternoon were Mrs. J. P. Hornbuckle, Mrs. L. A. Phillips, Mrs. Chas. Shober, Mrs. Rutledge, Mrs. G. C. Hardin and Mrs. A. Mitchell.

The officers of the intermediate B. Y. P. U. had a business meeting last Tuesday evening at the home of their leader, Mrs. Alda Mae Sparks. Interesting discussions, concerning the B. Y. P. U. work, were made and plans for a social were also discussed. The union will probably enjoy a weiner roast next week or at an early date. The intermediate B. Y. P. U., under the able leadership of Miss Sparks, is one of the most active and largest unions of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Martin, of Shelby, spent the week-end here visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Lynch and daughters, spent one day last week in Asheville, visiting Miss Mary Lynch who is a student at the Normal.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Harris were pleasant visitors among friends and relatives here, Sunday.

Mr. Frank Cole and family moved last week to Balfour, near Hendersonville, where Mr. Cole has accepted a position as overseer of the spinning room in a mill there.

Mr. Reid Dixon, of Hendersonville, spent the week-end here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Brunner Beam.

Rev. R. N. Childress leaves this week for Raleigh, where he will spend a few days with relatives and friends. Mrs. Childress, who has been spending sometime there, will return home with him.

On last Wednesday evening the Caroleen school teachers delightfully entertained the members of the Henrietta school faculty and a large number of other invited guests at Sulphur Springs. A large log fire was built near the spring, where hot coffee was made, and marshmallow toast, after which a delightful picnic supper was spread, consisting of an abundance of chicken, sandwiches, cakes, deviled eggs, pickles and many other good eats, which was prepared and brought by the Caroleen teachers. A beautiful moon also furnished an enchanted setting for the occasion, the evening being ideal in every way. There were possibly 75 guests attending the picnic party and every one present enjoyed themselves to the fullest.

On Saturday evening at the Henrietta-Caroleen high school building a Halloween party will be given by the tenth grade, and every one wishing to have lots of fun, and enjoy a real spooky evening are invited to be present Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. Admission will be free, also refreshments, while a number of stunts and features, admission fees being 1c-5c and 10c will be inside.

Mr. Albert Blanton, salesman and truck driver of the Harris Oil Co., got his left arm broken and his hand badly mashed Monday as result of an accident, which occurred near Shelby, when his oil truck and a large touring car, driven by Mr. LeRoy Dobbins, of Gilkey, smashed together, damaging both machines very badly. An entire load of gas and oil was destroyed, the truck being en route to the Wilson Construction Co., with a load of gas and oil. Mr. Blanton states that his signal was not seen or else unheeded by the oncoming car, which was advancing at a rapid rate. One child, an occupant of the touring car, was slightly hurt. All those in the accident went to Shelby, where medical aid was rendered them.

Thanks are also due the local Boy Scout troop for their excellent work in directing the traffic at the school house.

FALL STYLE SHOW BY CARROLL & BYERS BIG SOCIAL EVENT

To Entertain Friends This Afternoon and Tonight—Great Crowds Expected.

The fashion event of the season will be the Fall Style Show given by the Carroll & Byers Co., in their handsome new storeroom in this city, Thursday, October 28, afternoon and night. A host of live models, handsome young girls from this city and some from Limestone College, will display the fall's newest coats, dresses, millinery and accessories to match.

Splendid entertainment will be given throughout the program with music and refreshments.

A large crowd from every point in the county is expected to be present to witness this fashion event. The public is cordially invited. Hours are 4:30 to 6:00 and 7:30 to 9:00.

LADIES' NIGHT AT THE KIWANIS CLUB

Monday was teachers' and ladies' night at the Kiwanis Club and a most happy occasion. A large number were present and the decorations and the supper reflected credit upon Mrs. R. R. Blanton, who has done such good work in preparing menus for the Kiwanians and others.

Mr. J. W. Dalton, in charge of the program, of whom much was expected, did not disappoint the large crowd. He has gained much fame as humorist, and was at his best Monday evening, furnishing a program that delighted and amused all. His humor and fun, balanced with selections by the McDaniel Quartette, kept the crowd in jolly good humor throughout the evening.

All the latest and best magazines. A lot of new numbers being added to or news stand department. Courtney's 5c, 10c and 25c Store.

JUNIOR MUSIC CLUB ORGANIZED WEDNESDAY

Progressive steps were taken along musical lines last Wednesday afternoon, by the Senior Music Club in organizing a club for the music students of Forest City. About 40 pupils responded, and the interest manifested insures its leaders of a real live organization.

Officers for the coming year are: President, Sarah Ruth Doggett; vice president, Miriam Green; secretary, Mary Sue Morris; treasurer, Lee Moss Reinhardt.

At the close of the program Miss Mary Wilder directed musical games, after which Miss Goggans served home made candy.

The Juniors meet the third Wednesday in each month at the High school music room. All music students are invited to join and interested music patrons are asked to visit these meetings when convenient.

The following program was well rendered:

Solo "Autumn"—Fritz Spindler. Lee Moss Reinhardt.

Solo "Columbine"—L. N. Wright. Mary Frances Harrill.

Solo "Dancing Daisy Fields"—Mary Robert Reinhardt.

Story "The New Piece"—Sarah Ruth Doggett.

Story "Butterfly"—L. N. Wright. Johnnie Washburn.

Solo "Aeolian Harp"—Mrs. Crosby Adams.

Dorothy Green. Song "Vacation"—F. L. Bartlett. Helen Thomas. Story "Princess Zenia's Folly"—Ruth Reid.

JOSEPHUS DANIELS ADDRESSES VOTERS

Large Crowd Hears Noted Carolinian at High School Auditorium.

Hon. Josephus Daniels made a sparkling address at the High school auditorium Wednesday evening to a large audience. He made a special plea for the voters to cast their ballots, bringing out the fact that in past elections only 51 per cent of the qualified voters had cast their ballots. Representative government can not be secured when such apathy exists. It is every one's duty to vote—and this includes the ladies. He deplored the extravagance of the Republican party in national politics; brought out their impotency in state affairs and their lack of policy; attributing the prosperity and progress of the state to the Democrats, who have brought the state to its high eminence in the nation.

His splendid address should arouse the voters to their sense of duty.

HON. CLYDE R. HOEY SPEAKS AT CLIFFSIDE

The first gun of the political season was fired by that silver-tongued orator, Hon. Clyde R. Hoey, at Cliffside, Friday evening of last week. Brief announcement of his appointment brought out a crowd estimated at over 400—quite a tribute in these days of political apathy. The Courier wishes every voter in the county could have heard him. He was at his best and held his audience spellbound while he eloquently discussed the issues now confronting the voter.

Mr. Hoey was introduced by Hon. C. O. Ridings, who made a snappy short talk.

Tuesday is election day. It behooves every Democratic voter to come out and cast his or her vote. (The ladies should not fail to vote.) The Courier has not seen as much Republican activity in the five years the writer has been here as is being displayed now. Of course we outnumber them in this county, but it is imperative that the Democrats come out and vote.

Democrats, do your duty Tuesday.

SUCCESSFUL SALE

Jack's Leader Store reports a most successful sale, which started last Friday and is being continued. Jack says the success of his sale is attributed to the fact that he has made prices to meet cheap cotton. Read large bills for full particulars and don't fail to visit the Leader Store.

Full Style Show at Carroll & Byers Co., Today—Thursday, Hours 4:30 to 6—7:30 to 9 p. m.

W. N. C. CONFERENCE ADJOURNS AFTER A BUSY SESSION

Methodists Vote to Ban Cigarettes, Divorce and Booze. Appointments for Rutherford County.

Gastonia, Oct. 25.—After an unusually busy session the 37th annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, adjourned today, after being in session here since last Tuesday.

Bans Social Evils.

The most significant actions of the conference were the resolutions adopted in the social report banning cigarettes and "booze," and prohibition of divorce. A broadside was fired at the shorter school hours system and racial prejudices, and the conference went on record as favoring an industrial survey, and aimed a blow at child-labor. The outstanding measure recommended in the social report was an amendment that a committee be appointed to bring two bills before the state legislature at the next session, the first to prohibit divorce on all grounds except the "Scriptural ground," infidelity; and the second to require publication of intent to procure a marriage license for two weeks before the license may be issued. A committee, composed of all denominations, will be requested to present the bill. However, the bill will be presented, regardless of the attitude of the other denominations of the state.

A blow at child-labor was delivered in the declaration that in as much as the legislature of North Carolina has refused to support a constitutional amendment to prevent the employment of children, that the body go on record as opposing legal permission for employment to any child under sixteen years of age.

The conference branded as "insidious propaganda," all attempts of the press to discredit prohibition, and declared that such calls for a vigorous rebuttal on the part of Christian citizens, and asked that the conference and the ministry support the Anti-Saloon League.

In combatting delinquency in the state the conference went on record as favoring a state supported school delinquent negro girls at Elfland, a farm colony for women prisoners and a separate reformatory for boy criminals over sixteen years old.

ELECTION DAY IS NEXT TUESDAY

Candidates Busy this week. List of Republican and Democratic Nominees to be Voted on.

With election day less than a week away all candidates are busy in the final lap of their campaign. This year's campaign has been unusually "tame," considering the fact that many important offices are to be filled over the state and nation.

In this state possibly the most important matter to come before the voters is the proposed amendment to the state constitution and the referendum vote on the Veterans' loan fund. Both of these items are fully explained in another part of this week's paper.
