MAGNIFICENT NEW COURT HOUSE TO BE DEDICATED NOV. 3

Program to Begin at 11:15 A. M. With Music by Spindale Band. Judge James Webb Principal Speaker.

Rutherford county's magnificent new courthouse will be dedicated next Wednesday. A program has been arranged for the occasion and hundreds of people are expected to attend.

The exercises will begin at 11:15 a. m. with music by the Spindale Band. This well-known musical organization needs no further comment. Under the leadership of Mr. D. C. Cole, it has won for itself a name in the county and this section of the state.

At 11:30 Judge James Webb will deliver the dedicatory address. Judge Webb will also have the honor of holding the first term of court in the new building. It was at the request of those in charge that Judge Webb was assigned to hold this term of court; and fittingly so, as Judge Webb was born in Rutherford county, though he lives in Shelby. Judge Webb is noted for his oratory and an eloquent address may be expected.

At 2:30 p. m. memorial services for the late Judge Michael Hoke Justice will be held. Hon. Clyde R. Hoey, of Shelby will present to the county a life-sized painting of Judge Justice, on behalf of the Justice family. This portrait is by a well-known Washington, D. C. artist, and will occupy a prominent place in the new building.

Judge Justice brought fame to the county, as well as himself by his eminent work as one of Rutherford's three court judges, and it is very appropriate that his portrait should adorn the new temple of justice. Hon. Clyde R. Hoey was an intimate friend of the late Judge Justice and a great address is anticipated.

THE NEWSPAPER AN INSTITUTION.

The Glendale, Cal., News says: The American newspaper is without doubt the most remarkable community institution in American life. It would be difficult to name any other agency in modern life which, while a private enterprise conducted for profit, is at the same time an institution which is regarded by the community in which it is published as particularly belonging to them.

This applies with greater force to the smaller city or town than to the metropolis. The newspaper in such communities if properly conducted is the most influential and important factor in promoting community growth of the best sort. Every effort or campaign for community development depends upon the publicity which the newspaper furnishes to interest the people in it. Without this publicity it is practically impossible in modern life to secure a unity of community effort sufficient to accomplish any great undertaking for the city.

This makes the newspaper a unique institution. Primarily it must be a business enterprise if it is to endure, and yet it must consider at all times the welfare of the community from a different angle and in a broader way than any other business enterprise.

It is gratifying to note that this spirit very strongly animates the great majority of the newspapers. Because it does and because of the general absence of venality among newspaper editors the power and influence of the American press is what it is today.

Ford

CLOSED CARS

Displayed in Colors

We are displaying for the first time Ford closed cars in three attractive colors: Fawn Gray, Highland Green and Royal Maroon.

A choice of the three colors is available on the coupe, tudor sedan or the fordor sedan; giving closed car buyers a most unusual selection.

The world-wide reputation which Ford cars enjoy today is the result of fundamentally correct design, quality materials—and more than twenty years of careful manufacturing.

Throughout all this time it has been the aim of the Ford Motor Company to make every Ford car a testimonial to Ford quality.

Ford cars are easy to drive—quick in traffic and inexpensive to operate. They can utilize driving and parking space that longer cars cannot be maneuvered into—a fact that is increasing in importance as traffic on the streets and highways becomes more congested.

It has always been a Ford policy to provide transportation at lowest cost and while such desirable features as starter, balloon tires and now a selection of appealing colors are now standard equipment on all closed car models, special equipment which is often wanted by some purchasers, but which would have to be paid for by all if adopted as standard, is not included in Ford car prices. Any of this equipment can, however be purchased at extremely low cost by the owner who seeks to individualize his car.
