SEABOARD MAY BUILD NEW BRIDGE AT BOSTIC

The Seaboard Railway may build a new steel bridge across Second Broad River, one mile north of Bostic, to replace the old wooden trestle. While the present bridge is sufficient to carry the Charlotte to Rutherfordton traffic, it is expected that with the opening of Lake Lure and Western North Carolina, business will increase to such an extent that a new bridge will be necessary to carry the volume of freight.

FOREST CITY BOY WINS DEBATE AT WAKE FOREST

Wake Forest, Nov. 8.—Society Day in memory of a time when the two literary societies of Wake Forest College were the vital organs of the student body, rose to shine with a display of its former color and prestige when the day was observed here Wednesday. A large assemblage of students and townfolk attended the debate and oration that featured the day.

The Junior-Sophomore Debate was the first event on the program. Discussion of the question: "Resolved: That Congress should provide for a unified department of national defense, with coordinate divisions for the army, the navy, and the air service," provided students and attendants of the debate with a rather brilliant treatise.

R. O. Hendrick, of Davidson county, and W. B. Matheny, of Forest City, representing the negative side of the question for the Euzelian Society, were awarded an unanimous decision over M. B. Cree, of Richmond county and F. M. Howard of Robeson county, affirmative speakers for the Philomathesian Society.

ELLENBORO BOYS BUILD IDEAL POULTRY HOUSE

Ellenboro, Nov. 8.—The agricultural students of the Ellenboro High school, under the direction of their teacher, are building an ideal poultry house, according to the state plan, for Miss Bettie Green, who lives in the southern part of Ellenboro. It is 16 feet long by 18 feet deep and will comfortably house from 75 to 100 chickens depending on the size of the birds.

The foundation which is of cement, was placed down by the boys last week within two of their 90-minute class periods and the wood part of the building is now being constructed.

Each boy has figured the number of cubic feet of concrete in the foundation with estimates of the number of cubic feet of cement and sand needed to build this part of the house.

When completed the boys should know how to build an ideal poultry house and it should serve as a model for people living in the community who desire to build ideal houses for their flocks.

A SLIGHT ERROR

The preacher was on his way to attend a party for the children of the congregation. Leaving his hat and coat in the hall, he opened the living room door at the same time dropping to his knees and crawling in—making a strange noise meant to sound like the neighing of a horse. A dead silence greeted him. Sensing something wrong he looked up into the amazed faces of people at dinner.

The party was next door.

COUNTY LEAGUE MEETS

The Rutherford county League of Women Voters held an interesting meeting at Cool Springs High school Thursday afternoon. The president, Mrs. C. F. Gold, presided and told of the work of the league. Resolutions endorsing the Legislative program of the State Board of Charities and Welfare were adopted.

Miss E. Grace Miller of Asheville, secretary of the Associated Charities was the principal speaker. She discussed health and maternity cases in a most instructive manner. She has much experience in welfare work.

County Welfare Officer R. E. Price discussed mother's aid and the need of a full time welfare officer for this county.

Mrs. B. D. Wilson read the program of the league until next June.

The next meeting will be a Legislative one and will discuss law and ballots. The programs outlined are extra good and merit a full attendance upon the part of the women of the county.
