EDITORIAL JOTTINGS.

The farmers night program at the Kiwanis Hall Monday evening should make for a friendlier feeling between those drawn together. Forest City business men are vitally interested in the farmers' problems and wish to help them.

There is much complaint being heard lately of the jostling and crowding of negroes in certain places on Saturdays. They should be kept moving and not allowed to collect in groups.

Another complaint is made about the bootleggers, the loafers and the punch board gamblers. Some of our civic bodies are going to help the police in their efforts to abate these nuisances.

And while other matters are getting their attention, citizens should help the officers to break up the fast driving through the city. Some day a dreadful accident may happen if the speeders are not curbed.

Mr. Busy Merchant, don't forget that Christmas advertising should be given your early attention. The Courier carries more advertising than any other paper in the county. There is a reason. Results count.

A SPLENDID SPIRIT

Mr. J. C. McNeely, of the J. C. McNeely Co., and Mr. H. A. Mills, of the Kelly Clothing Co., of Shelby, were visitors to The Courier office Tuesday morning, when both left copy for ads in this paper. Mr. McNeely, acting as spokesman, said that their motive for placing this advertising in Rutherford County's leading newspaper was not to take trade away from the merchants of this county but he thought that in view of the opening of the paved road to Shelby, they possibly could attract some of the Rutherford county trade that was going to other cities outside the county—some of it passing through Shelby en route. There is always more or less trading away from home, mostly by the ladies—and for purely feminine reasons—and it is this class of trade they seek according to Mr. McNeely. He also expressed his pleasure at the growth of Forest City and said that as each city progressed the other would benefit.

THE CHURCH OF ROME AND THE SOUTH.

A Washington correspondent has cut loose with some "inside" stuff as to what the Church of Rome is going to do to the South if the South holds out against Al Smith the next time the party comes to nominate a man for the Presidency.

The Church of Rome, he says in such an eventuality, will organize itself to see to it that the South may as well shut its mouth for the balance of all time, or thereabouts, insofar as politics is concerned.

Two or three things stand out on the surface of this rather remarkable declaration.

The first is that it is, doubtless, untrue.

Some wild-mouthed leader of the Catholic Church, which develops one of that sort occasionally, about as often, in fact, as the Protetsant Church develops the same sort of cattle, may have uttered the edict to the South on his own responsibility, but we have more respect for the judgment of the Church of Rome than to put any great amount of credence in such a report.

Taking it, however, for whatever it is worth and giving it the highest possible coloring of authenticity, it sticks out conspicuously as a fact that it does nobody any good to be bantering the South for this sort of a battle.

The Democratic party is not going to tolerate Al Smith for President or as a candidate for that high office, if the decision rests with that party and influence of the party residing in the South.

He is totally unacceptable. Laying his religion on the shelf as an extraneous issue, if such is possible in the premises, Al Smith is too everlastingly wet to suit the South and he is not going to get its votes so long as it stays in its present channel of mind.—The Charlotte News.

All of which is very mild, indeed. But it is refreshing to see The News take this stand, while other newspapers of the state are daily filled with Catholic propaganda fostered by the Associated Press. It is high time the Protestant people of the nation awake to the fact that all the hosts of Rome are concentrating on the one object of political control of the United States. Even Catholic Mexico is taking a stand to separate church and state.

FAMILY WELFARE ASSOCIATION NEEDS CLOTHING, ETC.

The Family Welfare Association is greatly in need of clothing, shoes and any kind of wearing apparel at this time, as the supply we had on hand has been distributed where most needed, and there are several children of school age who are not prepared to enter school on account of not having clothes enough. Please let every housekeeper look over their clothes and see if there isn't something you can donate at this time. Will also ask that you not send in ragged or soiled clothing as we cannot handle these things. We are having a great many calls now for clothing, food and fuel and several who pledged to help the Welfare Association have not paid their pledges and we will appreciate it very much if those who pledged will be prepared to pay when asked to do so when cards are presented to them. Please send any clothing, etc., to Mrs. C. E. Alcock, secretary and treasurer.

ELEGANT FOUR COURSE DINNER

Mrs. S. B. Coleman entertained with an elegant four course dinner party on Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock, honoring Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Coleman, of O'Bannon, Ky., who are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Minish. A most tempting course dinner consisting of turkey and all accessories was served. The table was beautiful with its gorgeous center piece of chrysanthemums and place cards suitable to the season—Thanksgiving—were used. The invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Coleman, of O'Bannon, Ky.; Dr. Leslie, of New Castle, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Minish, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Thomas and Mrs. J. H. Thomas

THIEVES ACTIVE LAST WEEK

Auto thieves were busy in town Sunday night, and Mr. Cecil Watkins is short a tire, rim and tire cover and a motometer. He left his car parked in front of the Methodist church, and when he returned these items were missing from his car. No clue as to the identity of the guilty party has been found.

On Wednesday evening an attempt was made by some unknown parties to steal the car of Mr. Cowan Blanton. The would-be-thieves succeeded in getting the car into the drive-way, but their progress was stopped by a lattice fence across the yard. The noise awakened Mr. Biggerstaff, who called the police. Before their arrival the thieves departed, leaving the car against the fence, though very little worse for the encounter.

Somebody also helped themselves liberally from the coal bins of Messrs. T. R. Padgett and F. I. Barber Saturday night.

CAROLEEN NEWS OF LATE INTEREST

Caroleen, Nov. 16.—On last Saturday evening, Miss Ruth Robertson entertained a number of her friends at her home here, honoring her house guest, Miss Jess Wilson, of Bessemer City. The home was attractively arranged with yellow chrysanthemums and potted plants. Music, dancing and games were enjoyed throughout the evening. Delicious tuna fish and olive sandwiches and hot chocolate were served to the following invited guests: Misses Jess Wilson, Emily Hollifield, Ethel Robinson, Ada Smith, Berta Lee High, Mildred Hariman, Anne Wilson, Mamie Eakens, Messrs. Robert Neal, Hugh Hill, Gifford Lynch, Vernon Houser, C. L. Moore, Clyde Finley, Louie Smith, D. R. Harriman, Jr., and E. M. Simpson.

Missionary Meeting.
 A very helpful and interesting Missionary meeting was held last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Pink Harrill, by the members of Harrilltown Circle. A splendid program was rendered, being ably in charge of Mrs. D. F. Beachboard, and Mrs. D. F. Lynch. A social hour was enjoyed after the program hour.

about 12 members being present for the meeting.

Revival Begins This Week.
 A series of revival meetings will begin at the local Baptist church here next Sunday evening, the pastor being assisted by Rev. C. T. Tew, former pastor of this church, but now of Waynesville. Rev. Tew is a splendid preacher and the people of Caroleen are looking forward to his coming and being among them again, as he is by no means a stranger in our midst. A splendid singer, Mr. Huittle, who for sometime has been broadcasting and making records of his songs has been secured to direct the song services. A series of prayer services are being conducted each evening in the various homes in preparation for the coming services which are proving very helpful. A very inspiring meeting was held with Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Harrill Tuesday evening with a large number present. A joint prayer service will be held at the Baptist church Thursday evening, all the other congregations are urged to come to the service, which will be in charge of Prof. J. B. Jones.

Rev. R. N. Childress left Sunday for Raleigh, where he goes to attend the State Baptist convention. Mr. and Mrs. Pink Kennedy spent Tuesday in Forest City with Mr. and Mrs. John Hamrick.

Miss Margaret Lynch, who has been sick for several days, is able to be back in school.

Mrs. Martha Randall is spending this week with her sister, Mrs. Norman Hamrick.

Miss Ada Smith has returned home after spending several days last week in Rutherfordton with relatives.

Miss Louise Wilkie, of Charlotte, is spending a few days here with her grandmother, Mrs. Kate Wilkie.

There are some good pictures coming to the Movie. See the program.

The ladies of the First Baptist church will accept items for filling the box that will go to the Baptist Orphanage next Monday. Send articles to Mrs. A. H. McDaniel.

Salt, lime, cement. See Weathers.

Rev. H. C. Sisk filled his regular appointment at the Missionary Methodist church at Caroleen, last Saturday night and Sunday. He reports a good meeting and a large attendance.

Miss Emma Dalton is confined to her bed with a deep cold.

Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Dorton and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. William Lineberger, of Shelby, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Biggerstaff.
