

CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN IS ON

Effort to Stamp Out Tuberculosis is Endorsed by Prominent Forest City Citizens.

Mrs. F. I. Barber, seal chairwoman, states that an intensive effort will be made this year to help stamp out tuberculosis among the children of Forest City, by training them in good health habits.

In schools where health habits have been taught during the last two years by means of the modern health crusade, which is promoted by the State Tuberculosis Association and local health associations the percentages of undernourished children have decreased, number and length of absences from school on account of preventable illness and physical defects have been steadily reduced. The number of children who have to repeat grades on account of time lost is being gradually lessened. These results represent to the taxpayers a saving of money invested in the up-keep of schools and teachers' salaries and have greatly strengthened the support of the public health movement and the Christmas seal campaign.

Help to Conquer Tuberculosis.

Prominent men and women in Forest City say:

Mayor L. C. Lowrance: It is the patriotic duty of all citizens to buy Tuberculosis Christmas seals. The remarkable public health movement in the past 15 years has increased the average of human life by 2 1/2 years. Our city is strong only as our men and women are our future torch bearers. Buy seals and help to train them in health habits that give them health and strength.

Postmaster M. M. McCurry: The Tuberculosis Christmas Seals are a splendid way to educate our people that they may help to conquer tuberculosis. They are a beautiful decoration on the package conveying a wish for good health to the recipient. There are a few words of caution about using seals on mail that I want to give.

- 1—Do not place the seal on the face or address side of letter.
- 2—Place the seals on the back of your letter.
- 3—Be sure that all mail is properly addressed in ink or typewriter and that the return address is plainly placed in the upper left hand corner.

4—Buy Christmas seals and use them liberally.

5—Mail your Christmas mail early.

Mrs. Arthur McDaniel, President of Woman's Club: The value of the Tuberculosis Christmas seal cannot be estimated. It is a rare privilege for every club woman to help in the great campaign that is gradually eradicating the dread disease which takes so pitiful a toll of our childhood and youth. The Tuberculosis Christmas seal helps to educate individuals in habits of health, thereby giving happiness and strength as well as building a resistance against not only tuberculosis but other diseases.

Mrs. R. E. Biggerstaff, President Parent-Teachers Association: Our most precious possession is the child. If we give all the girls and boys in our community good health habits we are helping to give them a better chance of being vital, vibrant, efficient men and women. The Tuberculosis Christmas Seal through its campaign of health education helps our children to grow strong and healthy. I earnestly urge every member of our Parent-Teachers Association to contribute liberally with time, influence and funds to the great Tuberculosis Christmas Seal sale.

Mr. F. R. Wilkins, Post-Commander of the American Legion: The American Legion heartily endorses the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal sale. Training in good health habits fights tuberculosis and helps to lessen the burdens of afflicted humanity. Every legionnaire who contributes to this campaign is carrying on a brave fight that finally shall mean victory over disease.

Rev. M. F. Moores, Minister: On the threshold of this blessed Christmas tide the appeal of the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal carries a message of hope, faith and love both to the well and the ill. Every one who contributes to this worthy cause gives threefold—to the one who needs health, to the Master whose love enfolds each generous giver, and to his own peace of mind in a cause well worth helping.

Rev. G. R. Gillespie: When I see the unselfish work which is so wonderfully carried on through the Tuberculosis Seals, I say, God bless the Christmas Seals and speed the cause to greater achievement than ever before.

Mr. J. W. Eakes, Superintendent of Schools: Good habit formation is so easily acquired in childhood and youth. The campaign of the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal has for its ideal, giving each child those attributes which build physical, mental and spiritual health. Money spent for Christmas Seals is an investment that pays dividends in health, happiness and longer life.

Dr. Amos C. Duncan, M. D.: The Tuberculosis Christmas Seal campaign through its program of salvaging the undernourished child and keeping the well child healthy brings health and happiness to many children who otherwise might not receive these priceless blessings. Buying Tuberculosis Christmas Seals is buying health.

Dr. R. R. Howes, Dentist: The correction of dental defects and the proper care of the teeth of the children is rendering a valuable service to our community. The Tuberculosis Christmas Seal funds are available for this great health work which is so far reaching in its good effects. Buy Tuberculosis Christmas Seals and keep this service at its highest efficiency.

Miss L. M. Bell, Home Economics Teacher: The Tuberculosis Christmas Seals help us to reduce undernourishment among our school children by providing funds for school lunches for those who cannot afford to pay for them, and to purchase school scales, thereby creating an interest in gaining.

Farmers Bank & Trust Co., by R. W. Minish, V. P.: The Christmas Seal has become a sound investment as well as a dream come true. To be sure, Einar Hoelbell and Emily Bissell belongs the credit for the beginnings of the great work, but every contributor who has purchased a Christmas seal has strengthened its power. He not only helps those who are ill and whose lives are unknown to him, he also protects his own health and that of his family. Thus, in turn, he raises the physical standard of the entire nation.

Mr. F. I. Barber, President Kiwanis Club: Tuberculosis Christmas Seals help the underprivileged child by training him in good health habits and by the correction of physical defects. EVERY Kiwanian heartily endorses the Christmas Seal sale.
