

FAVORS BETTER CONVICT CONTROL

Welfare Official Says State Should Direct All Prisons and Chain Gangs

Rutherfordton, Aug. 29.—“We believe the state should assume control of all convicts,” stated Mrs. Kate Burr Johnson, commissioner of Charities and Public Welfare of Raleigh Thursday in addressing the Rutherfordton Kiwanis club at the Isothermal hotel.

“The state commissioner spoke on, ‘Prisoners.’”

She said in part: “We have three kinds of prison control in North Carolina, our state penitentiary at Raleigh, county jails, and convict prison camps in counties.

“Sixty of the 100 counties now have prison camps. The state should be responsible for the control of all prisoners. There should be careful classification of prisoners as to sick and well, feeble minded, and strong. Inefficient guards are often employed at prison camps. Our county prison camps are not an economic asset. There are too many idle people in our jail.

“We have no right to let able bodied men and women lie idle in our jails. We need men in charge of men prisoners and women in charge of women. Thirty-three per cent of all prisoners in the United States have gone back to prison again several times. Most of our prisons are not improving the morals of our prisoners. I shall never forget my first visit to the death row in Raleigh. I oppose capital punishment, for there is worse punishment than death. By the help of the Rockefeller foundation we are studying the record, or life history of 31 men in the state who have been in the death row at the state prison.”

ACCIDENTS DON'T HAPPEN

Most people think of accidents as happening, as something unavoidable. But generally back of every accident is a cause. For this reason, an accident death toll of 80,000 persons killed each year is useless.

Excepting those of natural origin—earthquakes, cloudbursts, cyclones, floods, etc.—experience of recent years points clearly to the conclusion that most accidents are avoidable.

The industrial safety movement, according to the testimony of experts in that field, has shown over and over again that accidents are preventable. If, then, they can be avoided by human agency, they are not accidents at all.

It has been demonstrated that fires can be reduced by the fire prevention movement. We know that while some automobile drivers have many accidents, others driving under similar conditions have almost none.

Once the safety habit is established, it is not difficult to maintain.

Whatever became of the old-fashioned girl who, at this time of year, had a dresser drawer full of dolles and fancy work prepared for Christ-hand to enjoy Western North Carolina until September 6.

A big banquet, staged in the rustic gymnasium overlooking Lake Lure, was the final jubilee of the regular camp which was attended by 125 boys and 30 councillors. Special medals for sports events, including aquatic which have a prominent place upon the camp calendar, were awarded the banquet. James Owens, a Florida youth, was awarded the silver loving cup for being voted the best all-round camper of the year; Jahlin Daniels, was awarded the gold medal as the best all-round athlete, in spite of his tender years—an unusual record, according to camp officials. A number of parents were present for the final banquet.

A special train upon the Seaboard railway, out of Rutherfordton, took the large portion of the camp contingent to Florida, breaking up at Jacksonville, some of the cars being routed through to St. Petersburg, Orlando, and Miami. Another group, largely from Cincinnati, departed Wednesday.

Chimney Rock Camp was the winner of the big silver loving cup awarded by the Asheville Chamber of Commerce in the first annual Lake Lure Regatta late in July.

Barnum Was Right ---But Conservative

“There's a sucker born every minute,” said Barnum. Had he lived in these piping times he probably would have added, “—and there's two tire dealers to catch him.”

Well, it's your own fault. We've been tooting away in these pages for months, tipping you off to the pitfalls and the snares.

We've told you about the padded list price, boosted to allow for just the “discounts” you angle for. We've told you the inside of the “long trade” and the “special deal.”

We've emphasized the fallacy of trying to get “something for nothing,” and of trying to out-smart the other fellow at his own game.

Dependable Value

Some of you just won't listen. But with an increasing number of sensible people, the old days of catch-as-catch-can buying are gone.

Why not? they ask. Why, in my tire-buying, shouldn't I have the same guaranties of dependable value and uniform price as I get in buying other things?

Well, they've learned that they get these assurances of fair dealing and money's worth when they trade with us.

There is every reason why it should be. We sell the best tires made—Goodyear Tires—you know how good THEY are.

I have them in every size and type, to fit every requirement, at prices based squarely on value. Nobody can buy tires of equal quality cheaper than we can, with our volume and experience. No one can sell them cheaper than we do and stay in business.

So long as we have the tire and the type and the prices and the right policy of doing business—why shouldn't they trade with us?

Intelligent Service, Too

Moreover, our men have another function than just selling tires. They're trained to be “fire engineers.” It's part of their job to sell you THE TIRE THAT WILL SERVE YOU BEST.

They know we're serious when we say WE DO NOT WANT TO SELL A TIRE TO ANYONE UNLESS THE TIRE SOLD WILL GIVE THE CUSTOMER VALUE RECEIVED.

So they make sure the tire you buy is the one you ought to have, and after you have bought it, they counsel you how to care for it, so that you will get THE LOWEST TIRE COST PER MILE.

As people are learning about our policy and service our business is steadily growing. Right now it is at the high point of several years' operation. We mean to keep it growing, by DE-SERVING your patronage.

Of course, this open-face policy won't appeal to some people. They like a dicker, or a “special.” Well, it simply goes to prove that in certain cases Barnum was right—but conservative.
