BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

The subject for the mid-week service last Wednesday night was the "Social and Moral Condition existing when Jesus Came." The week before the subject was "Political Conditions at the coming of Jesus." The subject this week will be the "Religious Conditions existing at the time Christ came." These studies preface a study of the Life of Christ.

The W. M. S. observed the week of prayer last week meeting each afternoon at the R. R. Haynes Memorial Building. On Tuesday of last week they decided to make some quilts for the Orphanage and during their spare time several quilts were made ready for quilting. On Tuesday night of this week they met at the memorial building for an old time "quilting bee" and quilted several of the quilts. They now have about twelve nice new quilts.

The rough weather Sunday morning cut attendance the lowest it has been in years. Only 287 were in time to be counted when the records were made in the Sunday school. A number came in late and others came in time for the preaching service.

The teachers will hold their meeting at memorial building Thursday night, meeting at 7:15. Mrs. John L. Scruggs and Messrs. S. T. Padgett and P. C. Hawkins are the committee to arrange program for the last half hour period of the meetings when all departments meet together. This committee will serve during December.

Mrs. R. B. Watkins and Mrs. P. R. Greene received diplomas for having completed a study of the Sunday school manual.

For many years the Sunday school, or the church has been giving the members, especially those in the Junior Department and below this age, a Christmas Treat consisting of candies, nuts, fruits, etc. Last Sunday morning when the Superintendent asked if this would be the program again this year, Mr. P. C. Hawkins, Superintendent of the Junior Department arose and stated that some of the Juniors and their teachers suggested in their Department that instead of receiving a gift from the church, Christmas, that they bring a gift to the church. This idea seemed to strike with favor and in a few minutes the entire school voted unanimously to dispose with this feature this year and instead make a gift to the church. The pastor said he approved the move and stated that sometimes we are too prone to think of what we can get from the church instead of what we can give to it.

Mr. J. C. Cowan of Rutherfordton was a visitor at church last Sunday. We were glad to have him and a few others who were visiting here. Mr. Cowan is Superintendent of the M. E. Sunday School at Rutherfordton.

The subject for the morning sermon was "A Pattern for Service" and Rev. Smith pointed out that Jesus found opportunity for service everywhere, though He made no show of His service.

The text for the evening service was 1st Cor. 9: 34; "So run that ye may attain."

More Than Mere Impression

A student once asked a great master how to mix his colors or paints. To which the master replied: "Prime colors, a little oil and lots of brains, well mixed."

So with printing. A good printing job is more than type, paper, ink and a press. Craftsmanship is in selection of type faces suited to the job in hand; paper in tones, shades or colors; harmonious ink selections, careful press make-ready—and the result, printed matter which conveys character.

Let us demonstrate all we mean in your next printing job. Good printing costs no more than inferior jobs.
