A number of the young folks en- joyed a cotton picking at Mr. L. B. Lowery's, Friday night.

Mr. E. A. Blanton of Cliffside was a visitor in our community Sunday.

So much bad weather this winter, has caused our Sunday school at Oak Grove to fall off considerably, but it seems to be increasing some now.

About one hundred were present Sunday. We hope everybody will come back and bring some one with them, and help build up our Sunday school again.

Mr. Crayton McDaniel of near Gilkey was a visitor at Mr. J. S. Bed- ford's one day last week.

Mr. Riley Padgett of near Harris spent Friday night at the home of his uncle, Mr. T. E. Randall.

Mr. J. C. Randall was a visitor at Mr. L. W. Wilkie's Wednesday.

BOY SERIOUSLY INJURED WHEN HIT ON HEAD

Fred Bryant, aged about sixteen years, is in serious condition at the home of his parents near the gram- mar school building, as a result of a blow on the head with a piece of plank by some unknown party Satur- day morning. It is reported that he, along with several other boys, were matching pennies near the Florence Mills Saturday morning. An argument ensued, and as young Bryant stooped to gather up some coins from the ground someone hit him with a plank. He was carried to his home and placed on the porch, where he was later found unconscious by his parents. He has been unconscious since that time, except when an ice cap is kept on his head, it is said.

Preliminary for Triangular Debate

The preliminary for the Triangular debate was held Friday afternoon. The subject this year is: Resolved: That Congress should enact the Mc- Nary Haugen Farm Relief Bill. Those winning out were: Affirmative; Wy- man Wood, Bernice Kanipe. Nega- tive; Aileen Padgett, Thomas Long.

Chapel

The students of Cool Springs High have been enjoying a series of in- teresting and unusual chapel pro- grams. There have been talks by in- teresting people, and plays and pro- grams by the student talent.

Last Wednesday Mrs. D. H. Sut- ton talked to us. The subject of her talk was "Folk songs of North Car- olina." Mrs. Sutton hopes that a national school of music may be de- veloped from America's folk songs. She is an interesting speaker, for her subjects are interesting, and her talks are well presented. The stu- dents all enjoyed hearing her.

L'envoi

(With Apologies to Kipling)
When school's last bell is ringed, and I've slammed my books in the desk,
When I've rushed thru the crowd at the doorway, with all the speed possessed.
I am thru; and gee! I'm glad of it— until a new day is begun
And leaving all cares behind me, I start for a bit of fun.

First I haste down to the street corner, and there meet the same old crowd.
We walk the streets in rapture, and talk and giggle aloud,
We search ourselves for some money and then we seek the drug store,

We down our last nickle with sor- row, and beseechingly beg for more.

We ride 'till the afternoon's ending then gather at a movie show,
'Till midnight we gasp at scenes, thrilling, and then to our beds we go.
But when morning dawns, oh hor-
