ALEXANDER NEWS

Alexander Mill, Feb. 7.—Quite a number of the Alexander people are sick. Several of the children have measles.

Little Marion Yates Brown, the eleven months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Brown, died last Sunday afternoon at the hospital in Spartanburg. The child had been sick for two or three weeks but doctors were unable to find out just what was wrong with him. The hospital doctors operated on his head for mastoid trouble. The little fellow suffered almost intense pain up until his death. Marion Yates was unusually bright and made friends with every one. We greatly sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. Brown in the loss of their little one. The beautiful floral offering was a token of the Alexander people's love and respect for Mr. and Mrs. Brown and for the departed little one.

Miss Ola Wilkins spent last Saturday in Spartanburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hamrick, Mrs. Nelson Gillespie and son James, spent last Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hamrick and Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Matheny.

Mrs. A. C. Allison and Miss Esther Harris attended a club meeting at the Rutherfordton Court House yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Marion Bianton preached at Sandy Springs church last Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Blanton spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Strickland, who live near Harris.

Miss Nola Patrick and Miss Ola Wilkins went to Forest City last Monday night to hear the "Converse Glee Club."

GERTRUDE PHILBECK

To us there is one so true, so dear,
One whom we all love and revere;
And she's as fair, as dear,
As sweet as a flower rare.

If there is work to do she's always there
Whether it be pleasant or whether it be drear.
She likes work as well as fun
And she is a friend to everyone.

Many days from us she has been away,
But absence makes hearts grow fonder, they say;
And so, eagerly, we await her return
With a love that makes our very hearts burn.

Who is she, this sweet, lovely maid
Of whom the prophets of good so much have said?
Bend close that you her name may hear—
Gertrude is that name so sweet, so dear.

The POLICY of PROGRESS

A STATEMENT by GENERAL MOTORS

It is the policy of General Motors to maintain continuous improvement, in every one of its car divisions, with no interruption in production.

This means that you enjoy the benefits of new engineering developments promptly — just as soon as they have been thoroughly tested on the 1245-acre Proving Ground.

It means that you can now order the new Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Oakland, Buick, LaSalle, Cadillac, or GMC Truck, and receive immediate delivery.

Behind this policy of continuous improvement is an organization so widespread and resourceful that it can make and sell quality automobiles more economically than any automobile manufacturer in the world.

In the north and south it logs and mills its own lumber. In the east it makes its own ball bearings and radiators. In the middle west it produces its own plate glass. Its plants are busy in 33 important American cities.

From almost 5,000 suppliers, its materials are obtained—steel by the hundreds of thousands of tons—wire by the tens of thousands of miles—upholstery by the acre—nuts, bolts and washers by the millions. Its sales and service take place through 33,000 dealers. More than 275,000 families look directly to General Motors for their livelihood—almost a million and a half men, women and children in every community in the land.

Meaning so much to so many, General Motors has felt a supreme obligation to look ahead.

Are there methods by which General Motors cars can be better built to better serve?

Are there new ideas which can increase the utility and pleasure and safety of motoring?

Are there new materials which can add to owner satisfaction?

Such are the questions that all General Motors engineers have always asked. The answers have made it possible, year after year, to offer an increasing measure of beauty in design, modern performance, riding comfort and distinct style. Thus in every price class, from Cadillac to Chevrolet, purchasers are constantly benefiting from the General Motors policy of progress.
