Not a fire this time caused the people of town and community to visit the above shown building.

Since The Astounding reduction on the Perfected Whippet was Announced More People Have Been Attracted to This Business Than in Its History.

This plainly shows the people in general are very much interested in saving money and doing business at least cost where possible, and they have been complacently sitting back watching the performance of the Perfected Whippet, which has carried out the remarks of a prominent automotive editor, "that more improvement was made in this automobile than had been experienced in the last sixteen years." They have seen these cars put through the roughest treatment than would be expected even from an ox cart yet it does its stuff on any of the steep hills and on the same economy that it did on the day of advance on the hard surface and hard service. How would it look to you, to be able to peer on a Whippet, which has done 45,000 miles without a single adjustment or penny spent in repairs. This very thing can be shown to you.

The Whippet a thing of beauty, unequalled in economy or record in repairs for the type of motor, has been reduced to such an amazingly low price people can not realize and adequately appreciate the quality incorporated in its make up, and it is hard to conceive the car has the highest quality materials at these low prices, the standard has not only been kept up but even improved several new features added which it did not have when it was at a higher price.

With all its elegance of fine finished, care and accuracy of its materials, extreme economies, easy riding, and it's long endurance without repairs, some of the models come at less price than the cheapest car ever put on the road.
