in the belief that riches always brings real contentment. A friend of ours was asking her husband if he remembered the time they were so poor they had to eat liver and onions. "Yes," he said, "now that we're rich we don't eat them because WE CAN'T AFFORD THEM." Real contentment is found by profiting by opportunities. Our store offers golden opportunities continually. Talking about groceries? The problem of living economically is a serious matter with a great majority of families. It is incumbent upon you to trade with us and you'll get the quality in everything at a low figure. Consider food values at all times when planning meals.

THE REDPATH CHAUTAUQUA HERE NEXT WEEK

Opening Program Will be Given Tuesday—Will Continue Until June 2.

Plans for The Redpath Chautauqua have been completed, and the management will pitch their tent in Forest City next Tuesday for a five day's run. Everything points to one of the best Chautauqua seasons yet held in Forest City. Season tickets are only $2.50. The following is a resume of the five days' program:

The great Broadway comedy success "Tommy," the beautiful musical production "An Alpine Romance" and an amazing, spectacular performance of magic and mystery by the Great Laurant are among the many big attractions scheduled to appear during this season's annual Redpath Week which opens in Forest City, Tuesday May 20th and continues for five, crowded, interesting days.

"Tommy" comes with a record of scoring an overnight hit on Broadway, where it ran for over a year at the Eltinge Theatre. Here is a comedy that is like a breath of clean, buoyant air, according to the critics. It has the merit of telling a human, understandable story with shouts of laughter and gripping pathos, through real, living human beings.

Like a glimpse into the heart of the Alps is the notable musical production "An Alpine Romance" to be presented by the famous Fitchell Yodlers. The picturesque Tyrol with its colorful costumes, fascinating melodies and quaint folk dances is unforgettably portrayed. The Fiechtls came to America from Innsbruck, Tyrol, the very cradle of the music-loving, music-loving Tyroleans. With them here will be Jack Yost and Constantine Wunderle whose Victor phonograph records are known and loved by thousands.

That peerless magician the Great Laurant has been secured to appear here in a magic show of wonders, which will be a truly gala event and a red letter joy night. Laurant is one of the sauest, most picturesque magicians ever seen on the platform. Hindu magic, the craft of the ancient Chinese and modern American illusions and mysteries follow each other with startling rapidity. A Laurant entertainment is a veritable revel in the land of mystery.

Edward Tomlinson, who will lecture on "The Meeting of the Americas," will give a popular and entertaining discussion of Latin-American questions in the light of his attendance at the recent Pan-American Conference at Havana, and of his detailed personal investigations in South America.

The Herrick Male Quartet, which fires the opening gun of Redpath week, is known everywhere as a top-notch success. This jolly, rollicking quartet, all college men, sing their songs and present their sketches and impersonations with infectious high spirit and true college "pep."

Major John J. Hill, the first white man to traverse Africa from Cape Town to Cairo, will lecture on "Savages I Met in Africa." For two and one-half years during his African explorations, Major Hill never saw another white man. He tells a vivid, amazing tale of bushmen, cannibals, fakirs, jungles and forests.

"The famous humorous-philosopher "Kill-the-Blues" Cope will give one of his noted lectures filled with fun, facts and fancy. Mr. Cope earned his sobriquet of "Kill-the-Blues" during the war when, as a lecturer-entertainer, he was making an army laugh, and the nick-name has stuck in peace-time because of his extraordinary ability to inspire jollity and good feeling.

David Wulf Anderson bring the story of a human Washington, a Washington who is "something more than a picture on the wall, a statue in the park." He bases his great lecture on a wealth of uniquely interesting material which he has personally collected and which has never found its way into books.

Among other popular attractions are the Mozart Concert Company, presenting unique entertainment specialties that please and delight; and the Grosjean Novelty Company, featuring the melodious marimbaxylophone, which never fails to score a tremendous hit.

Something new in children's entertainments will be featured this season. "Junior Town" will be in full swing every day under the big brown Redpath tent. The boys and girls will have the fun of running their own town, with mayor, councilmen and all the officials of a model city. A capable Junior Supervisor will be in charge. She has many delightful surprises planned, which make it important for every youngster to be on hand every day for "Junior Town."

THIS TIME OF YEAR

Just at this time of year
When Nature doth best appear,
And the birds sing like they'd never hush again;

When the South wind's gentle breeze,
Kisses flowers and flirts with trees,
And the clouds float by to drop the needed rain;

When you feel somewhat lazy,
In the shadows thick and hazy,
As the sun shines from the skies so blue and clear.

Just at such a time as this,
When life is full of bliss,
Then we feel, in all his beauty,
God is near.

Merle Price.

When arraigned for failure to procure a dog license Charles Kilburn of Chicago showed a doctor's certificate that he was a sufferer from rheumatism.

Miss Phyllis Seal of Brighton, Eng., won $2,250 in a breach of promise suit, but refused the money, saying she only wanted vindication.

Rev. R. B. Disney of Leicester, Eng., resigned his pastorate because his congregation objected to his teaching the young people about sex matters.

Indications are now that North Carolina will have a large crop of peaches this year. Better quality of fruit is secured when the peaches are thinned, say horticulturists.

It Pays to Watch Your Step When You Buy Balloons

Unknown brands are risky "bargains" in any type of tire—but especially so with Balloons.

Balloons work at lower pressures. They've got to be flexible. And it takes good materials and the highest degree of manufacturing skill to combine flexibility with strength in a tire carcass.

Pathfinder Balloons are made and guaranteed by Goodyear, the world's largest manufacturer of quality tires. They're a safe and sane solution to your equipment problems AT A MIGHTY LOW PRICE.
