

ELLENBORO TO BUILD ANOTHER POTATO HOUSE

Six Percent Dividend Paid to Stockholders of Ellenboro's First Potato House

Ellenboro, June 18.—At a recent meeting of the stockholders for the Ellenboro Sweet Potato Storage Company when a six per cent dividend was declared to last year's shareholders it was voted by the members of the company to build another 5,000 bushel house at Ellenboro this fall in time to store this season's crop. When completed Ellenboro will have space to store at least 10,000 bushels of sweet potatoes.

A survey at the meeting of the shareholders to ascertain the number of bushels that each expected to store showed that another house was the need of the community. After it was voted to put up another house, providing as many as fifteen more shares could be sold in the company, the following were appointed to form a committee to solicit shares for the new building: Elijah Hamrick, O. R. Coffield, C. B. Harrill, A. B. Bushong and E. E. Harrill. This committee has sold shares to twenty-five people last week and more than the specified number of shares to build the house have already been sold with still more who have expressed themselves as desiring shares.

With more potatoes already set in the community than were set last year at this time and more people still expecting to set plants it is predicted that both houses will be filled this fall. The potatoes in the house last year kept well, and it is believed that this accounts for an increase in acreage.

JOINS LOCAL BALL CLUB

Bostic, June 18.—Steve Kirksey, promising young pitcher of this place, has joined the F. C.-Alexander team. He recently returned from a try-out with the Cheraw, S. C., team of the Sand Hills League. He made good in the practice games, but as he wants to attend the Forest City High school next year, he wouldn't risk his eligibility by signing. "Tim" McKeithan, star pitcher of this year's team, is making good with Cheraw. He has won two of three starts so far and is hitting good.

ELLENBORO HATCHERY DELIVERS 14,500 CHICKS

Ellenboro, June 18.—The Ellenboro School Hatchery closed more than three weeks ago for the season after having hatched 14,500 baby chicks since it began operation early in January of this year. Since chicks have been sold at the lowest possible prices and custom hatching done at a reasonable rate it is believed that the hatchery has been a real service to the community.

It has supplied a local market at a premium price for hundreds of dozens of eggs and has kept money at home which before had been going out of the community and county for baby chicks. Then, local poultrymen have experienced that chicks shipped from a distance in cold weather have been more difficult to raise than those purchased from local hatcheries.

The hatchery has greatly stimulated the growing of poultry within the community as another farm enterprise, thereby helping to diversify agriculture within the township. Poultry is one of the best farm enterprises to give farmers a regular payday throughout the year when properly managed.

Again, it has served to teach the students of agriculture in the school, thereby helping to diversify trips from the school to the hatchery to study selection of eggs for hatching purposes, to work problems in percent hatch and to learn the general principles of incubation. The students placed down the concrete floor in the hatchery room as a part of their school work.
