Looking back upon the accomplishments of the first six months of the new Kiwanis year, and the numerous activities in behalf of Forest City and the county at large, the local Kiwanis Club can indeed feel humbly and justly proud of its present standing in the Carolinas District. Not content, however, with the splendid record of the past, the second six months of the year have been ushered in with a whoop and bang, the first meeting of the new period as sponsor to the most unique and original joint meeting ever held in the district at Lake Lure, July 4. The grand climax, however, was reserved for Monday night of this week, when almost the entire membership proudly escorted their wives, sweethearts and lady friends to the magnificent new banquet hall just completed by Cowan Blanton, Forest City's popular caterer. The hall, above Mr. Blanton's cafe, is a marvel of beauty and distinctiveness with beautifully tinted and harmoniously blended colors of all the decorations, fixtures and furniture. Delightfully cool with dozens of electric fans amid the soft glow of shaded lights, Ladies night in the new quarters was voted a decided success.
