

DR. ZENO WALL BRINGING GREAT MESSAGES TO THE TABERNACLE AUDIENCES

County Wide Baptist Revival Meeting With Splendid Success—Dr. L. R. Scarborough Arrives Today to Take Charge

The Wall-Scarborough revival which is being held in Forest City began Sunday evening. Dr. Zeno Wall, who will have charge of the services until today (Thursday) brought a stirring message to the congregation on the need of a revival.

The singing Sunday evening was in charge of Mr. Jordan, formerly of Alexander, but now of Georgetown, Ky. During the song service a quartet was rendered by Messrs. J. J. Lattimore, Tom Lattimore, Mal Spangler and Rush Hamrick, of Shelby.

At the opening of the devotional period Dr. W. A. Ayers called on the various delegations to arise in order to determine what churches were present. This showed large delegations present from Cliffside, Avondale, Henrietta, Caroleen, Ellenboro, Alexander, Bostic, Spindale and Florence, with a large number of Forest City Methodists and Presbyterians present. All churches in town suspended services Sunday evening for the meeting.

Dr. Ayers presented Dr. Zeno Wall, pastor of the Shelby Baptist church, who spoke on "Heavenly Desires".

In the opening of his address he stressed the need of a great revival and urged all to work and pray toward that end. His text was taken from Mark 11: 24. "Therefore I say unto you, what things soever you desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them." He said that a Heavenly desire was unselfish and unusual, and that, when for years, people kept praying for loved ones who were lost that that constituted an unusual desire.

At the close of his talk he requested all those who wanted to see an old time revival to come to the front and shake hands with the pastors standing there. The response was large and gratifying. Dr. Ayers then requested that all present pause Monday for a word of prayer when the noon whistles blew.

At the opening of Monday evening's service Mr. Pontier of Baltimore, sang a solo during the song service. Rev. C. C. Matheny, moderator of the Sandy Run Association, told how for the past three years he had wanted all the churches of the association to combine in a great revival. Rev. Snyder, of Bessemer City, a Moody Bible Institute student, led the offertory prayer. After the offertory Mr. Jordan, who will have charge of the music until Mr. Reynolds arrives, sang a solo.

At the opening of Dr. Wall's sermon he urged those present to tell the sick of the meetings and to carry the benefits of the meetings to those who are unable to attend. His subject for the evening was 'Heavenly Regrets.' Dr. Wall named three of the chiefest regrets, in his opinion, which would face all on entering Heaven. They were regret for not asking for more of the benefits of Heaven; the regret of not asking more of the people on earth in the way of dedication and consecration; and the regret of not having done more on earth for the advancement of the Kingdom of Heaven.

A large number of hands went up in response to a question asked by Dr. Ayers as to how many had stopped for a word of prayer when the whistles blew Monday. He urged them to repeat this Tuesday at noon.

Day services were held Tuesday and Wednesday.

The services Tuesday night began in the open air tabernacle, but at the close of the song service the congregation was moved into the church on account of the threatening storm. A large number of people were present when the services opened, and if many had not left when the congregation was transferred to the church

The golden rule is a good one to follow, but there are far too many people who want to head the procession.

The road hog often times gets what is coming to him, but he never gets butchered like the rest of the hogs.

the auditorium would have been filled.

The services in the church began by candle light, the electric power having gone off. Mr. Jordan sang a solo. The lights having come on again, Dr. Wall read several verses from the 126th Psalm, selecting the last verse as his text.

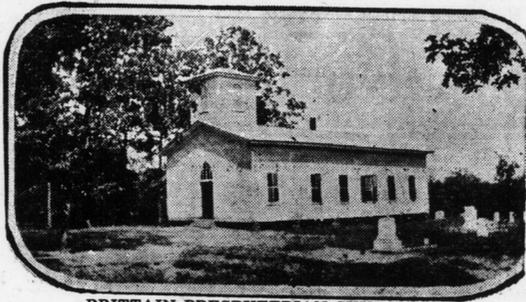

His subject for the evening was 'Working by Weeping.' The main thought of his sermon was the great good done by weeping, and used as an illustration an incident where the tears of a mother brought a soldier to accept Christ while he was in camp in Louisiana during the World War.

Dr. Ayers then urged as many as can possibly do so to attend the morning services, and stated that a delegation of 150 or 200 people from Shelby would attend the meeting Wednesday night, showing the love the members of Dr. Wall's church had for him. He also spoke of the co-operation of the various denominations in Forest City and stated that the ushers of the Methodist church would assist during the meeting.

Dr. L. R. Scarborough will arrive today (Thursday) and will relieve Dr. Zeno Wall. Dr. Scarborough will be in charge of the services until their conclusion August 5.

LOCAL CHAPTER YOUNG TAR HEEL FARMERS TO CAMP

Cool Springs Boys to Leave July 30 for White Lake in Bladen County

The Cool Springs Chapter of Young Tar Heel Farmers will leave Monday, July 30, for a week's encampment at White Lake in Bladen County. There will be seven other chapters of the organization camping there at the same time and the local boys expect to have a royal good time fishing, swimming, boating, and doing all the recreational things that have been planned by the founders of the camp.

White Lake is one of the most picturesque and unusual lakes in the state. It is located in the long leaf pine section and the trip takes the boys from the mountains to the coast. While the boys are at the camp they expect to take two side trips: One to Wilmington to visit the ocean and the other to the Willard Experiment Station. The boys are going in a school bus and will take different routes going down and coming back in order to see as much of the state as possible.

The camp site was given to the vocational agriculture students of the state and it is equipped to care for six or eight schools at once. The boys take their own provisions from home and there is a central mess hall and kitchen. The camp has a director and recreational leader, and each chapter will be accompanied by the teacher of agriculture from the school to which they belong.

The boys from Cool Springs will make one of the longest treks to the camp made by any school in the state. They are expected to travel over 500 miles before their return. The Cool Springs Chapter is one of the most active in the state, and includes in its membership one of the seven ranking members in the entire organization. The chapter here was one of the first in the state to sign up for the camp and the boys are looking forward to the trip with much pleasure.
