"MISS FOREST CITY" IN CHARLOTTE OBSERVER

A picture of Miss Willie Lou Jones, who won the title "Miss Forest City" in the recent beauty contest sponsored by The Courier, appeared in Tuesday's Charlotte Observer, along with that of one of South Carolina's beauties.

"Miss Forest City" will appear in newspapers throughout the entire country and Miss Jones will prove a most worthy representative of our little city.

The national beauty contest, in which a photo of Miss Jones has been entered will be held in New York City, October 15. Miss Jones has a great chance to win in this national contest.

The publishing of Miss Jones' photograph throughout the United States will prove of much publicity value to our city, and will show to the world just how pretty the girls grow in Forest City.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father in his infinite wisdom and goodness did on Feb. 15, 1928, remove from our midst, our much beloved friend, co-worker and Sunday school superintendent, Mrs. Alta Randall Magness. We deplore her untimely death, therefore, be it resolved:

First—That the entire membership of the Oak Grove Sunday school, of which she was a most excellent and worthy superintendent, wish to record our sincere love and appreciation of the devotion and dignity which marked her consecrated Christian life.

Second—That we will cherish the memory of her christian character and influence in our Sunday school and church.

Third—That we, the members of Oak Grove Sunday school, feel deeply our love and will endeavor to follow her example in being wholeheartedly true in the service and offerings of our church and Sunday school.

Fourth—We thank God for having felt the influence of her gentle Christian life radiating its goodness and power to all those around her.

Fifth—We extend to her bereaved ones our tender sympathy, and trust that her life as a wife and mother will lead and beckon all those about her, to follow on till they, like her, shall pass into the home of the soul, on the other side.
