

RUTHERFORDTON WOMAN, AGED 80, DIED THURSDAY

Mrs. M. C. Toms, One of County's Oldest and Best Known Characters, Passes Into Great Beyond

Rutherfordton, Oct. 15.—After an illness extending over a period of several months, at 4:30 Thursday morning the soul of Mrs. M. C. Toms passed into the Great Beyond, and sorrow is expressed throughout the town where she has long been a highly esteemed and beloved citizen. The funeral service was conducted from her late residence at 4:30 Friday afternoon, with Dr. W. R. Ware in charge assisted by Rev. W. L. Latham. Interment was in the Rutherfordton cemetery.

Mrs. Toms was born October 30, 1848, a daughter of the late J. H. Carpenter and the widow of the late J. M. Toms, both well known men and of outstanding prominence in the early history of Rutherford County. Quiet and unobtrusive by nature only those who knew her intimately were aware of the unselfishness of her sacrificial life. She was a life member of Floyd's Creek Baptist church and her faith was manifest in her daily life, doing for others, and many acts of kindness to the poor and unfortunate, counting it a privilege to do the little things day by day for loved ones, and the friends and the lonely hearts who came to her for cheer and comfort.

Surviving are one son Mr. B. C. Toms, of Salisbury, one daughter Mrs. C. B. Justice and a sister Mrs. V. C. Hicks of Rutherfordton. She was a sister of the late Rev. J. B. Carpenter.

GREEKS USED BUTTONS ON ARMOR

Washington, Oct. 18.—(Autocaster) —Kate McK. Elderkin of Princeton, N. J., has reported to the Archaeological Institute of American that the old Greeks and Romans used buttons instead of buckles on their armor to fasten the shoulder straps to the cuirass. Cords and leather thongs, wrapped around the buttons and tied, were often substituted for button-holes.

The buttons themselves had a central hole and were held in place by knotted string or cord.

SHAW LIKES SHAW AGAIN

London, Oct. 18.—(Autocaster)—No, this is not another story of the great playwright's egotism "Shaw likes Shaw again" only means that the town of Shaw, in the upper Thames Valley, has removed its old ban on the works of George Bernard Shaw and recommended that the free library obtain copies of his latest books.

HALF-HEARTED Never Felt Well

"I don't see why women will drag around, in a halfhearted way, never feeling well, barely able to drag, when Cardui might help put them on their feet, as it did me," says Mrs. Geo. S. Hunter, of Columbus, Ga.

"I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks.

"I could not work, and just dragged around the house.

"I got very thin. I went from a hundred and twenty-six pounds down to less than a hundred.

"I sent to the store for Cardui, and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve. My side hurt less, and I began to mend in health.

"Cardui acted as a fine tonic. I do not feel like the same person. I am well now, and still gaining."
