MOORE-HASTINGS

The many friends of Miss Alethia Hastings and Mr. Andrew Crawford Moore, Jr., will be interested to learn of their marriage, which was solemnized on Wednesday, October 3, at 6:30 p. m., at the First Methodist church, Charlotte. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a small circle of intimate friends and relatives by the Rev. W. W. Peele, pastor of both bride and bridegroom.

The bride was lovely in a traveling costume of brown and tan novelty imported tweed with brown accessories. Her corsage was of butterfly roses and swansonia.

Mrs. Moore is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hastings of Dallas and has made her home in this city for the past several years.

Mr. Moore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Moore of Forest City, and is connected with the general offices of the Piedmont & Northern Railway company of this city.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Moore left for Washington and other points north. After October 15 they will be at home at 408 West Tenth street.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. B. Gordon Moore and Miss Alda Moore of Forest City and Miss Kate Moore of Belmont.—Charlotte Observer.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our kind friends and neighbors for their kindness during the sickness and death of our precious little daughter, Dorothy, and for the many beautiful flowers.

TEST PLOT RESULTS ARE MADE PUBLIC

Ellenboro Fertilizer Demonstration Corn Plots Show Some Surprising Results

Ellenboro, Oct. 17.—The field meeting held at Ellenboro Tuesday to study the cotton and corn fertilizer tests, conducted co-operatively by the agricultural department of the Ellenboro school and the Chilean Nitrate of Soda Educational Bureau, was attended by thirty-five farmers who heard Mr. Homer H. B. Mask, Nitrate of Soda Representative from Raleigh, talk on fertilizing corn and cotton. Mr. Mask told the farmers how to fertilize these crops by pointing out the results of different methods of fertilization used in the tests. County Agent F. E. Patton and J. M. Osteen, District Agricultural Supervisor, from Troy, N. C., were present and made talks. Estimating contests were conducted and $16.00 were given away to eight farmers who came the nearest in guessing the actual yields of corn and cotton produced on the various plots.

On weighing the corn produced on the various plots that made up the test the best yield was found to be 54.3 bushels of shelled corn per acre from the use of 200 pounds of nitrate of soda applied as a side-dressing when the corn was about knee high. This plot was planted to peas last season also proved to be the most profitable way to fertilize corn, giving a profit of $17.00 per acre after subtracting the cost of the fertilizer. The yields obtained from the other plots of the test are: 30.4 bushels from the use of 300 pounds of an 8-3-3 fertilizer all applied at planting time, 32-1 bushels was found to be the yield of the check plot where fertilizer was not used, 50.8 bushels as a result of using 250 pounds of acid phosphate and 25 pounds of muriate of potash at planting time with 200 pounds of nitrate of soda as a side-dressing, and 53.3 bushels was the acre yield as a result of applying 250 pounds of acid phosphate and 25 pounds of muriate of potash at planting with 300 pounds of nitrate of soda applied to the corn when about knee high. The plot on which the 300 pounds of the 8-3-3 fertilizer was used at planting shows a loss of nearly $7.00 per acre compared with a profit above the cost of fertilizer of $17.00 per acre from the use of 200 pounds of nitrate of soda used as a side dressing despite the fact that 200 pounds of soda does not cost as much as 300 pounds of an 8-3-3 fertilizer.

The test plainly demonstrated that the corn plant needs an abundance of a quickly available source of ammonia after it is knee high, and that it does not pay to put much if any ammonia in the fertilizer that goes under the corn. Too much ammonia under corn at planting time grows the stalk at the expense of the ear.

The men who won in the estimating contest and won a total of $8.00 are: W. E. Hamrick, L. W. McKinney, J. S. Allen, J. D. McKinney and E. B. Wilson.
Yields from the cotton fertilizer test will be made public as soon as picking has been completed.

JUDGE COCKE SPEAKS TWICE IN RUTHERFORD

Raps Idea Smith Responsible For Crimes Of Tweed, 60 Years Ago

Rutherfordton, Oct. 13.—Judge Philip C. Cocke of Asheville spoke to a large and enthusiastic audience at W. L. Log's store, near Bostic Saturday afternoon and at Cliffside at night. Attorney S. P. Dunagan introduced him at both places.

At each place Judge Cocke devoted much of his speech to extolling the achievements of the Democratic party in the state and nation.

In discussing Tammany hall and the effort being made to discredit Governor Smith's candidacy because of the corporation of Boss Tweed some 60 years ago the speaker said: "Boss Tweed was prosecuted and his conviction obtained by that great New York Lawyer Samuel J. Tilden, a Democrat and a member of Tammany Hall, himself, long before Al Smith was born."

"Only recently we hear that the treasurer of the mission board of one of the religious denominations of the nation had stolen a million dollars. Most certainly the criticism of this act of crime and corruption should be restricted to the individual himself and by the some token the criminal acts of boss Tweed of Tammany Hall, committed some 60 years ago, should be charged to him alone." Judge Cocke closed his address by making a strong plea for the support of Congressman Weaver, Governor Max Gardner and the entire state Democratic ticket.

Three solid cars of limestone have been ordered by farmers of Montgomery to help with growing legume crops this winter.

Great quantities of hairy vetch, barley and rye seed are being purchased by landowners of Moore county for planting this fall.
