

ELECTION BOARD CANVASSES THE COUNTY'S VOTE

Official Count Shows But Few Errors in Table Published By The Courier Last Week

Rutherfordton, Nov. 12.—The Rutherford county Board of Elections, in session here Thursday, canvassed the votes for each precinct in the county. The official vote as reported by the board varies but little from the figures published in last week's issue of The Courier.

Crawford, republican candidate for legislature, received 5076 votes while Biggerstaff, democratic candidate, received 5419. The county's official presidential vote stood: Smith 4146; Hoover 5762, or twenty less for Smith than reported last week. Sewell, republican gubernatorial candidate received 5121 votes to Gardner's 5312. Other errors in last week's table are as follows: Wood, democratic candidate for senator, received 5528 votes instead of 5518; Morrow, his republican opponent, polled 4958 instead of 4926. Hightower, democratic coroner received 5517 votes instead of 5527, and Keeter polled 5040 instead of 5034.

All democratic state officers carried the county by a majority of 195 to 350. The largest vote polled by any state democratic officer was 5358 and the smallest 5239. The republican state ticket received from 5025 to 5146 votes. Baxter Durham for state auditor and Frank Grist for commissioner of labor and printing, each led the state democratic ticket, Rutherford county, receiving 5,358 votes while their republican opponents received 5,120 votes each.

A. T. Allen, democratic candidate for state superintendent of education, trailed the state ticket in the county, receiving 5,239 votes while his republican opponent received 5,146 votes. The democratic state ticket averaged 230 lead over the state republican ticket.

Total Eclipse of the Moon Nov. 27

Visible from beginning to end everywhere in the United States, there will be a total eclipse of the moon early in the morning of November 27th. The chart above provides a graphic time-table of the eclipse.

Total Eclipse of the Moon Visible on November 27

But You'll Have to Be Up Early to See It!

Everyone in the United States will have the opportunity of seeing the total eclipse of the moon coming November 27—but the spectators will have to be pretty early. For the moon will enter the earth's shadow at 2:24 A. M., eastern standard time. Total eclipse begins at 3:33 and lasts until 4:29 o'clock, when the moon begins to emerge. At 5:39 A. M., the eclipse will be over. Central times are one hour earlier, mountain times two hours and Pacific times three hours.

The moon will probably not disappear from view although entirely within the shadow for nearly an hour. Considerable sunlight is refracted into the shadow through the ring of the earth's atmosphere around the base of the shadow. The moon at that time will be dim and noticeable red like the setting sun.

During a lunar eclipse, recent observations have shown, the moon's surface temperature drops from 170 degrees Fahrenheit immediately before the eclipse to 190 degrees below zero during the total phase.

A drop of 360 degrees in an hour or two! Some cold wave! Of course, no one lives on the moon, for it is airless and barren. The absence of atmospheric protection permits the sudden change in temperature. During the long lunar night, a thermometer at the surface would register not higher than 150 degrees below zero.

The earth's cinical shadow stretches nearly a million miles into space. At intervals of 29 1-2 days the moon, then at the full phase, overtakes the shadow; but it passes usually above or below and there is no eclipse. The number of lunar eclipses in a year varies from three to none at all. Some of them are only partial and not visible from the earth. Astronomers now know far in advance the times and circumstances of eclipses. At the times of full moon, near the middle and the end of the year, conditions are most favorable for eclipses.

ASKS ANTI-SMITH VOTERS RETURN

Langston Urges That All Party Differences Be Forgotten

Goldsboro, N. C., Nov. 12.—Appeal that factionalism in North Carolina be forgotten since the political campaign is over, was contained in a statement issued Thursday by Colonel John D. Langston, who was chairman of the Democratic veterans organization.

"Let us bury permanently three words," the statement said: "they are 'Smithites, anti-Smithites and Hoover Democrats.' As these words have served their purposes, let us forget them to the end that bitter memories may die with them. To the erstwhile Smithites I would say that I am firmly convinced that Governor Smith would have it so. He knows how to take defeat.

"To the erstwhile anti-Smithites I would say that I am convinced that the conscientious opponents of Governor Smith would have it so.

"To the erstwhile Hoover Democrats I would say that you have just been out visiting; night is coming on and it's time to come home."

Virginia and North Carolina have gone Republican, but we'll be damned if they know what fur.—Spartanburg Herald.

North Carolina for Hoover. Well that means that political strife in that state is just beginning. They will be answering for that crime for a generation.—Spartanburg Herald.
