

TOM'S SUCCESS

There lived a small family near the foot hills of the Blue Ridge Mountains. In this family were three children: Tom, Mary, and James. James, because he was a sickly lad and the youngest of the three, was the pet of the family. The family was very poor and it was hard for Mr. Buchanan to make a living for the three children without the aid of his wife who had been dead only a short time. The oldest boy, Tom, was only fifteen years old when his mother died.

School was to open soon and poor Tom could not see how he was to go; yet he felt the growing desire for an education and for service. Tom was to be a junior in high school that year, but his heart beat with sadness as the school term drew near for he feared he could not enter.

Tom arose early one morning and was out working hard just before sunrise when a man came down the road in a fine car. He saw Tom and stopped and said to him, "My boy, why are you out working so hard when all your friends and neighbors are sleeping?"

Tom explained to the rich Northerner that he was a poor boy seeking for an education. He told the man that his mother was dead, his father's health was failing fast, and he had a young sister and brother to help educate and make a living for.

By Tom's conversation the rich Northerner knew that he had been called to preach the gospel to the lost world. Soon he realized, from the lad's talk, that he himself was a lost man. He was converted there near the road.

When he left Tom he said, "Son, I will be back by here about eleven o'clock. I would like to see you." Tom said, "My home is about a mile from here. Will you come back and take lunch with me?" Mr. Court agreed to visit in Tom's home for he wanted to meet his father.

Tom's little heart began to beat faster and faster as he came near his home. Over and over he said to himself, "What shall we have for lunch, and who will prepare the meal?" Tom knew his little sister could not cook. The task would be his. He prepared the meal as best he could. The family was very poor, therefore, they did not have much to eat.

Mr. Court was there by eleven o'clock. The meal was finished and Mr. Buchanan, Tom, and Mr. Court all engaged in a conversation and forgot the meal was to be served at eleven. Mr. Court saw how Tom desired an education and how anxious his father was for him to be educated. He knew the poor boy needed help to develop that God-given talent. Mr. Court asked Mr. Buchanan to let him take Tom with him to New York and send him to school. Tom could work in his office to help pay his expenses. Mr. Court was a prominent Lawyer of New York, so he could educate Tom by letting him work in his office.

Tom was very anxious to get an education, but who would provide for the family?

Tom's father consented for him to go with the man to New York. He was to receive his education, expenses, and ten dollars a month was to be sent to his father to help provide for the needs of the family.

They started for New York that afternoon. They were three weeks on the trip. Tom saw things that he had never dreamed of seeing. Indeed it was an educational trip for him for he had seen only a few hills near the Blue Ridge. He was delighted with his trip and with the city of New York.

He finished his high school work in two years and had more than made his expenses, besides the ten dollars a month for his father.

The lawyer promised Tom he would send him through college and send his father fifteen dollars a month for the next four years if he would work as he had done for the past two years.

Tom made the promise and went to work as he had done. In four years he finished college and received his degree with many honors. He spent two years in a Baptist Seminary and made a high record.

Tom could not thank his friend enough for what he had done for him.

One day Tom visited the first Baptist church in Asheville where they called him for pastor.

Tom moved his father, small sister, and brother to Asheville. He educated his sister and brother and cared for his aged father. He was one of the best preachers that the Baptist church had had for many years.

HALF-HEARTED Never Felt Well

"I don't see why women will drag around, in a half-hearted way, never feeling well, barely able to drag, when Cardui might help put them on their feet, as it did me," says Mrs. Geo. S. Hunter, of Columbus, Ga.

"I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks.

"I could not work, and just dragged around the house.

"I got very thin. I went from a hundred and twenty-six pounds down to less than a hundred.

"I sent to the store for Cardui, and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve. My side hurt less, and I began to mend in health.

"Cardui acted as a fine tonic. I do not feel like the same person. I am well now, and still gaining."
