BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

A number were absent from the services last Sunday account of the influenza. We have had several cases here, but fortunately there have been no serious results that we have heard of except Mr. Early who is at the Rutherford Hospital for treatment.

Rev. R. C. Smith brought two fine messages Sunday morning and evening and the B. Y. P. U.'s are doing good work with a good attendance considering the fact that many are ill.

The Wednesday evening services are very interesting as well as instructive. The pastor is giving lectures in the study of the Bible and all are asked to take part in the study and discussion. Next Wednesday evening the second book of Chronicles will be studied.

ANNUAL BAZAAR

The ladies of the Methodist church held their annual Bazaar at the R. R. Haynes Memorial Building last Friday and Saturday. They sold a quantity of fancy work and handmade articles and the young people sold home-made candies. Saturday evening a dinner was served at fifty cents per plate and the plates were loaded with good things to eat. They also served oysters.

Local Happenings

Mr. W. C. Hamrick of Harris, R-1 was a visitor here last Sunday.

Miss Jessie Jackson of Spindale spent Sunday here with friends.

Mr. G. C. Shuford and family accompanied by Miss Virginia Moore spent last Monday in Charlotte.

Most of the teachers spent last Saturday in Spartanburg, S. C.

Mrs. G. C. Martin received a message Monday afternoon stating that her uncle, by marriage, Mr. John Weeks had died at his home near Bostic.

Mrs. Willard Harris died at her home about two and a half miles from here on the Chesnee road at eight o'clock Sunday morning and was buried at Mt. Pleasant, Cleveland county Monday afternoon.

Mr. Archie Hicks of Charlotte was a business visitor here Monday.

Misses Emily and Vena Camp of Forest City were in town Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Freeman and children spent Sunday with Mrs. Freeman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wilson at Shelby.

Mr. A. M. Haynes returned Sunday night from Florida where he spent last week.

Mrs. James Gibson was taken to the Shelby Hospital on Thursday of last week and underwent an operation Friday morning. Her many friends wish for her a speedy recovery.

A LIFE

A day of spring is full of sunshine and bright

Of joy and singing birds from morn till night.

No clouds arise to mar this perfect day,

For love and hope and youth are holding sway.

A summer day at dawn is bright and clear,

But clouds arise at noon and storms are near.

The wind comes up and drives the clouds away

And evening comes; the sun has brighter ray.

An autumn day begins with chill and cold.

All work is done; the year is growing old.

The evening sun sinks down behind the West,

A perfect day of peace and joy and rest.

The day of youth is full of sunshine bright

Of play at hide and seek from morn till night.

No doubts arise to mar this perfect day,

For joy and hope and youth are holding sway;

The manhood day at dawn is bright and clear

But doubts arise at noon; despair is near.

His faith comes up and drives the doubts away.

Success appears and brings a brighter day.

The old age day begins with chill and cold;

All work is done; the man is growing old.

Life's evening sun sinks down behind the West—

A perfect life of peace and joy, now rest.

SLEEP WALKER KILLED

Paducah, Ky., Nov.—C. J. Watwood, 23, fell through a glass door while walking in his sleep.

Watwood, a sleep walker since childhood, was found in the hallway of his home, blood gushing from several wounds. An artery under his arm had been severed and his abdomen gashed.

He died from loss of blood, transfusion having proved of no avail. More than a dozen friends offered their blood.
