PLAN FOR MORE TRANSATLANTIC TELEPHONING

New Short-Wave Transmitting Station Will Be Located Near Trenton, N. J.

It is planned to provide additional transatlantic telephone circuits to supplement the present voice channel and to care for the increasing popularity of the existing transoceanic service. During the first eight months of 1928 the number of calls completed over the present circuit between America and Europe represented an increase of 300 per cent over the same eight months of 1927.

A tract of land comprising approximately 800 acres has been assembled by purchase and lease seven miles north of Trenton, N. J. Here it is planned to begin construction at an early date of short wave transmitting stations, which, together with receiving stations completed or planned by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company at Netcong, N. J., and similar installations in Great Britain, will provide three additional circuits for transatlantic calls. Sufficient property has been secured to provide for possible future expansions, including a circuit to South America. The entire tract is composed of level farm land lying in Hopewell and Lawrence townships, one mile northwest of Lawrenceville and five miles west of Princeton.

Construction will be started shortly on an antenna system 4,500 feet long, which will be divided into three short wave transmitting units. Two buildings will be required to house the necessary power and transmitting equipment.

The location of a tract for short wave transmitting was determined after extensive tests for the purpose of ascertaining the conditions necessary for the best transmission. In addition it was desired to locate the station as near as practicable to New York City, taking such factors into account. Wire connection will be made to the New York long distance office by telephone cable through Lawrenceville, connecting into the New York-Philadelphia cable route. An additional open wire route will be connected to the tract from the north in order to provide an emergency routing.
