

COUNTY WELFARE OFFICER MAKES REPORT FOR MONTH

Mrs. F. B. Moss, Superintendent of Public Welfare, Had Busy Time During November

Rutherfordton, Dec. 17.—A total of 124 visits in the county, outside of the office and two outside of the county, is the record for November of Mrs. F. B. Moss, County superintendent of Public Welfare, for visits. The welfare officer continues to be a busy person. A total of 102 people called at the office for special reasons during November. Eleven schools were visited and talks were made in two on attendance and Child Labor problems. Mrs. Moss made six other talks during November to various clubs and public groups.

Other interesting facts about the November report of the Welfare Officer are: A total of three white and five colored children were handled through the Juvenile Court, one white woman and one colored woman were sent to the County Home, after careful investigation while one colored man was sent to the State Hospital at Goldsboro.

Fifty-three absences were reported from school, of which 31 were returned to school and 22 found to be legitimate while eleven indigent pupils were provided for, either with books or clothing. Sixteen conferences were held with teachers.

The Rutherfordton-Spindale-Ruth schools had an "Old Clothes Campaign" at Thanksgiving for the benefit of the Welfare department. This resulted in much valuable aid to the needy.

Two days were spent with Miss Lois Doshier of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare, visiting Mother's Aid cases in the county. Temporary aid was given a number of families who were victims of the influenza epidemic.

One family of dependent transients, a woman and seven children were returned to their home while 41 cases of poor and needy were reported, three were removed from the County Poor list, six helped through outside agencies while 25 cases required only advice and assistance in planning to meet their situation. This was a big saving to the county, financially.

A total of 1159 miles were traveled in and around the county during November.

Office hours are from 9 a. m. to noon while Mrs. Moss usually out of the office in the afternoons. A private poor relief fund is the great need now of the Welfare Department for the holidays. There are many emergency cases that county funds cannot aid.

PAUL WILLIAMS DIED THURSDAY

Young Rutherfordton Grocerman Is Called by Death in Prime of Young Manhood

Rutherfordton, Dec. 17.—Mr. Paul Williams died at the home of his brother, Mr. Curtis Williams here last Thursday morning about 6 o'clock after a week's illness of pneumonia, which developed from flu. All that loving hands and medical skill could do was done to save his life.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist church Friday afternoon at two o'clock with a large crowd of sorrowing friends and relatives in attendance. Rev. E. B. Jenkins and Dr. W. R. Ware were in charge of the services. Dr. Ware, who had known Paul for some time spoke of his love and admiration for him. He deplored the fact that he had been called so early in life and mentioned the fact that his grandmother, Mrs. Doctor C. Brown of Glenwood died Monday morning, at the age of about 82 years.

The floral offering was beautiful and showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held by a large circle of friends and relatives. Interment followed in the Rutherfordton Cemetery. The following were active pall-bearers; being fellow grocermen: Z. L. Cash, K. E. Simpson, Robt. L. Wilkie, W. A. Warlick, W. C. Twitty and J. Cal William while the following were honorary pall-bearers: J. O. Marlowe, G. A. Hines, Zora Keeter, Frank Doggett, Johnie Carnegie and Willie Futrell.

Misses Ruth Moore, Annie Taylor, Doris Keeter, Ellen Erwin, Exidee Blackwood, Wilma McRorie, Rachael Tate, and Mesdames Johnie Carnegie and Grady Yelton were in charge of the flowers.

Mr. Williams is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Williams of the Munford Cove section, three brothers, Messrs. John, Curtis and Badger C. Williams, all of Rutherfordton and two sisters, Mrs. L. V. Harris of the Munford Cove section and Miss Floy Williams.

The deceased would have been 23 years old in January. He was a member of the Grocery firm of Williams Brothers of this place and was noted for his honesty, thrift and friendship. He had a large circle of friends and relatives who are deeply grieved at his passing.

Our heart-felt sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones.

J. Q. GILKEY URGES LEGISLATURE TO ADVERTISE STATE

Asks Appropriation for State Agency for Boosting North Carolina Resources

Marion, Dec. 17.—If North Carolina is to realize fully upon the opportunities for development that are open in every part of the state, it must advertise its resources to the world, J. Q. Gilkey, Marion developer and member of the state board of conservation and development, declared Thursday in advocating the appropriation of a fund by the forthcoming general assembly for this purpose.

Mr. Gilkey pointed out that many, if not most of the southern states, have campaigns under way to attract new industries, and that they are bringing satisfactory results.

"Unfortunately," Mr. Gilkey continued, "we do not have a state-wide chamber of commerce for the promotion of industrial growth and the attraction of tourists. This makes it still more imperative that some state agency undertake a campaign of advertising."

"Although our state has enjoyed a great growth in industry during the past few years, there is no doubt but that it would have been much greater had we made provisions for exploiting still further our natural advantages. There is little doubt, on the other hand, that we have lost many new factories and mills because we have not had a central organization properly equipped to meet competition from elsewhere."

"The fact that our neighbors are reaching out for tourists and factories should impress us with the fact that we will have to do more to compete with them in landing the proportion that should come our way. We need an organization to show prospective new industries that our state offers more and better opportunities than can be found elsewhere and to follow up after they are interested and until they are finally landed."

"A fund of $50,000 per year has been suggested for this proposed program of state advertising, and although it is small, this sum will be an investment that should return many times its total to the state. New industries and new settlers create new tax values and should aid gradually to lighten the individual burden."

"For the entire state to spend in exploiting her resources, $50,000 is a small amount, considerably less than a number of our larger and more progressive chambers of commerce in the larger cities of the state are expending for advertising their communities."

"We are about to spend $2,000,000 in the acquisition of lands for the Great Smoky Mountains National park from the money of the taxpayers of the state of North Carolina. In order to reap the full benefits from this great investment, we should keep constantly before the eyes of the world the wonderful scenery and attractions of that region. Likewise, the state has spent other millions of dollars on the construction of public improvements, especially a system of unexcelled paved roads. Full realization of the benefits of these expenditures demands that we capitalize on them and invite others to share them with us and at the same time promoting the general welfare of the state by doing so."
