BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

For a long time our Sunday school has been very much like a "teeter board" in the matter of attendance. One Sunday it is up and the next it is down, but for the past several Sundays we are glad to note, that there has been a slight gain each Sunday over the last one.

At the close of Sunday school last Sunday the Dorcas class gave an interesting program. Mrs. R. B. Watkins, president of the class in charge.

Mrs. Watkins stated several things that some of the members had accomplished during the past year. Four have memorized more than one hundred verses of the Scriptures including entire chapters. Several read the Bible through while others had read the New Testament through. Mrs. P. R. Greene is teacher of the class. Mrs. E. D. Crocker made the closing talk which was very interesting.

The text for the morning was Luke 5:4, and the subject was "Expect great things of God; attempt great things for God."

The B. Y. P. U.'s are still going strong, but they all regret very much to lose the director, Mr. Putnam who with his family are moving to Gastonia. Letters of dismission were granted to Mr. and Mrs. Putnam Sunday and also to Mr. J. V. Kendrick and family who have moved near Mt. Pleasant (Cleveland County.)

The pastor asked his audience Sunday night to read Luke 15. His text was Luke 15: 12. The subject: "The portion that falleth to me."

Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Smith had for dinner guests Sunday evening Misses Huskerson; Haggard and Jefferson and Messrs. Clarence Little and Thad Yelton of South Mountain Institute.

AMERICAN LEGION MEETING

The hall was crowded last Friday night for the American Legion meeting and many could not get seats. The audience sang "America" after which Mr. Zon Robinson made the address of welcome. Then followed a very interesting program by the local school. There were numbers by the Avondale Quartette and the local high school quartette which were generously applauded. Prof. F. S. Hall, principal of the Avondale school introduced Mr. Powers, Commander of Fred Williams post at Rutherfordton who in turn introduced Mr. Stover Dunnagan, lawyer of Rutherfordton who presented the speaker of the evening, Mr. Thomas Bird, Past Commander North Carolina American Legion.

FUNERAL OF G. W. SCRUGGS

The funeral of Mr. George W. Scruggs was held at the local Baptist church on Wednesday afternoon of last week at 2:00 o'clock. Mr. Scruggs died at a hospital in Shelby Tuesday morning after being struck on the head with a stick late Sunday. Rev. Henry Waldrop of Shelby and Rev. R. C. Smith of the local church officiated after which the body was interred in the local cemetery. The grave was covered with many beautiful flowers, silent tributes from many friends and loved ones who mourn his untimely passing. Mr. Scruggs was born August 8th, 1900 and at the time of his death was a member of the Riverside Baptist church of Greenville, S. C.

Miss Virginia Moore is absent from her place in the Store account of illness.

About all that some people can save are cigar coupons, trading stamps, and tinfoil.

Congress will soon be asked for an appropriation for the Chicago World's Fair. No doubt it will come under the heading of war expenses.

SENIORS ENTERTAIN

The boys of the Senior class of the local High School delightfully entertained the Senior and Sophomore girls basket ball teams Monday night at the Memorial building. The room was tastefully decorated with the colors of each class. The colors of the Seniors is the "Rainbow," while that of the Sophomores is "Gold and Lavender."
