

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. O. T. CRAWLEY

Funeral For Cliffside Woman Held Sunday Afternoon at Cliffside

Cliffside, April 1st.—Mrs. O. T. Crawley of this place died at the Rutherford Hospital Saturday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock, following a brief illness. Funeral services and burial were held at Cliffside Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock with her pastor, Rev. R. C. Smith in charge. The church was filled with sorrowing friends and relatives. Interment followed in the Cliffside cemetery. A large collection of beautiful flowers showed the high esteem in which she was held.

Mrs. Crawley is survived by her husband, several children and the following brothers and sisters; Messrs R. R. and J. P. McCraw, being brothers of the deceased while the sisters are, Miss Bertha McCraw and Mrs. Howard Burgess, of Cliffside.

Those in charge of the flowers were; Mesdames J. C. Carpenter, R.

L. Sparks, A. E. Morehead, R. C. Watkins, W. J. Laughridge, M. C. Simmons, T. S. Tate and J. J. Frye. The pall bearers were; Messrs R. L. Sparks, Chester Scruggs, Monroe Bridges, T. S. Tate, N. E. Tate and L. E. Ramsey. Hightower and Matheny of Henrietta were in charge of the burial.

Mrs. Crawley was 36 years of age and was a devoted member of the Cliffside Baptist church. She was held in high esteem by a wide circle of friends and relatives. Her husband is the assistant overseer in the spinning room of the Cliffside Mills.

MISSIONARY TELLS OF NEW YEAR CELEBRATION

C. P. O. Box No. 1234.
Shanghai, China, Feb. 15.

Dear Editor:—We are in the midst of the Chinese Big feast—Chinese New Year. Every one's birthday comes on this day. Should a child be born on even the last hour of the last day of the old year it would be two years old on New Years. New Year came on Sunday, February 10. Every store was closed. All work stopped. But it was not quiet! It was like many Fourth of July's in one. Oh! the fire-crackers! At midnight I was wakened by a vast broadside of large and small fire-crackers and they kept it up for days. In the morning the ground was covered as by red snow—the "confetti" of exploded fire-works. Fire-crackers are but a part of the feast—the noisy part.

The last day of the year everybody is busy—the men at closing up their accounts. All bills must be collected and all debts paid. Woe be to the man who does not pay his debts. The women are very busy. The house must be made as clean as a pin and decorated, and the brooms hidden—bad luck if they appear on New Year. Before the New Year sun rises all kinds of food must be gotten ready! Guests—many will come during those days and they must be feasted. Few people see slumber the last night of the old year. But when the sun rises, calm reigns over the household. As one walks out between 6 and 9 a. m. the whole town is asleep. Sunday indeed! But excitement arouses them and about 10 o'clock you'll find the streets alive with people dressed in their best "bib and tucker" and you hear, "Kong Hyi Fah-dzai!"—"Congratulations and abounding wealth to you," shouted from one to another. The closed doors are plastered with appropriate sayings written on blood-red strips of paper. Go to open spaces of the city and see crowds encircling puppet shops, acrobats, monkey performers, squirming dragons, entertainers of all kinds, and pedlars of sweets and children's toys—Vanity Fair! Go to the temples and you find thousands burning incense and candles before all the idols, praying for wealth, old age and bliss.

One interesting god connected with the New Year is the god-of-wealth which is worshipped especially on the 5th—his birthday. The money spent on fire-crackers in his honor would pay China's national debt. Few begin work again until he is properly worshipped. Another is the kitchen-god. He is a paper god and sits over the stove in the kitchen where he spies on the doings of the family for a year. On the 23rd of the 12th month he is given a big feast. Sweet syrup is put in his mouth and he is put in a beautiful paper sedan chair and burned in glorious style, accompanied by fire-works—which is sending him to the Upper-god to report on their years' doings—all this fuss and sweetness is to bribe him to speak well of their family to his majesty. When he returns on the last night of the old year—a new idol is bought and placed with little ceremony—in the old nich—it will be a year before he reports again—why "taffy" him now?

Next to idol-worship gambling takes a big place in New Year celebrations—gambling everywhere! What they eat and drink, and the fire-crackers, and gambling, all, in some way or other, symbolize or point to the sound "Kao-sen"—excellent! in the sense of rising high in wealth and station—especially in wealth. It's indeed a wonderfully interesting time, and is indulged in even by beggars—for they receive a harvest of alms.

The Nationalist Government ordered that Chinese New Year should not be observed this year. It might as well have tried to turn back the greatest tidal wave of history! National commands stop the observance of Chinese New Year's customs? Only the conversion of these people to Christ will stop this idol worship and lead to the worship of the true God. And to us the glad part of it is that each year more leave the false and adopt the true as the Chinese one by one are born anew. We are not discouraged. Pray much for China. Kindest regards and best wishes.

Yours in Christ's glad service,
(Rev.) H. G. C. HALLOCK.

WHY CHICKENS DIE, SUBJECT OF BULLETIN

Raleigh, N. C., April 1.—Improper feeding is the greatest cause of poultry mortality among the farm flocks of North Carolina.

"Out of 1,800 sick and dead birds sent to the State College poultry disease laboratory for study, over 22 percent die from diseases of the digestive tract," says R. S. Dearstyn, research poultryman. "Nearly 16 percent died of diseases of the gland organs; a little over nine percent died of nervous trouble and about 9 percent of respiratory diseases. The percentages dying from other troubles were successively smaller. It is apparent, however, that disorders of the digestive system may be the primary cause of death in several of these groups. At least 48.1 percent might be attributed to this cause."

In his studies, Prof. Dearstyn found a seasonal tendency for the occurrence of respiratory and septicemic diseases. He also found that mortality from nutritional diseases had a seasonal occurrence which may be traced to a lack of green supplements during the time of the year when actual green feed is not available.

The studies made by Prof. Dearstyn will represent general conditions and not isolated cases for it is rarely that a poultryman sends in specimens to the laboratory unless the conditions becomes epidemic. The occasional loss of a bird is not viewed with any alarm and sometimes this attitude is carried to such an extreme that a large number of preventable deaths in the flocks makes it unprofitable. Death in the poultry flock does not confine itself to any distinct age limit though carelessness in incubation may be a factor in the death of young chicks and even adult birds later.

The causes of death in poultry flocks is discussed quite thoroughly in Bulletin 264 of the North Carolina Experiment Station recently published at State College. Those who wish copies of the publication may have them on application to the Agricultural Editor.

Concerning people who like the sound of their own voices, J. W. Sanders observes that the steam that blows the whistle is never used to turn the wheel.

RUTHERFORD ENTITLED TO NINE MORE C.M.T.C. STUDENTS

Rutherford County is entitled to nine more young men before its quota is filled for the Citizens Military Training Camp at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., from June 13th to July 12th, according to an announcement last week in Asheville by Capt. H. F.

Rathjen of the U. S. Army. All applications should be sent to him in Asheville at once.

No doubt the pre-election order for bullets in Mexico is earnestly desired as an order for ballots in our country.

Have you noticed what's going on at the new hardware store.

Middle Life Troubles

"ABOUT twenty years ago, my health was very bad," says Mrs. Mat Howard, of Terrell, Texas. "I was passing through a critical time in my life, and I suffered a great deal. I was not at all strong, and my nerves got all upset. I had hot flashes, and sometimes would get suddenly so faint I could not stand up. My head would whirl, and I could not see a thing. I would have to lie down for hours at a time. I improved so much after I had taken Cardui for a while. I continued the medicine for some months, until I had passed the critical period. Since then, I have given Cardui to my five daughters. All of them have continued the use of Cardui in their homes. We have all been better for having taken it."
