CARRIES EAR OF CORN FOR A CHARM

M. H. Morse of Wyoming, Iowa, a veteran of the Union forces, believes that this ear of corn is a wonderful talisman. At the G. A. R. convention held at Portland, Maine, the ear of corn was the center of attraction. At two national conventions of the G. A. R., this same ear of corn was carried by him. He is showing it to William B. Webber, of Massachusetts. The corn averaged 88 bushels to an acre and ran 14 feet high. No wonder the old-timer is proud of his unusual mascot.
