BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES.

We wrote up all the church news that was in our hands last week, but the editor of the Courier stated to us that because of unavoidable circumstances it had to be left out along with many other communications.

We stated in the church notes last week that the church in conference Sunday, February 2nd, extended a call without a dissenting vote, to Rev. James Allen Hunnicutt, of Mt. Gilead, N. C., and the committee has received a letter from Rev. Hunnicutt stating that he will accept and expects to come on the field April 1st. He and his wife are expected to come up this week and attend the Stephens meetings some.

On February 2nd, we had preaching service at the Baptist church when Rev. Hunnicutt of Mt. Gilead brought to us a great message. We had a large number of visitors present and nine new members in the Sunday school. The Sunday school attendance that day was 421.

Last Sunday there were 402 in Sunday school after which all went to the tabernacle service. There were several visitors and several more enrolled in the Sunday school last Sunday.

The B. Y. P. U's. are meeting at 5:45 Sunday evenings and are dispensing with the assembly for the usual closing program in order to get to the tabernacle for the young people's meeting at 6:30.

On Monday morning of this week many seemed to think that there should be a prayer service at the Baptist church Monday night as there is no service at tabernacle on Monday nights. Notices were posted for the meeting at 7:30. The W. M. S. met at seven o'clock for their regular monthly meeting and after this came into the prayer meeting of the church. Soon the intermediate assembly room was filled and the folding doors were opened and folding chairs placed in the corridor. By the time the last seat was placed it was filled and then the doors on other side of the corridor were opened and the primary assembly room opened up. Men were busy carrying chairs which were filled about as fast as they were placed until some had to be left standing.

This was one of the most unusual meetings we ever attended. People were confessing their faults and praying until about ten o'clock when all joined in an old time hand-shaking. During this time it seemed that all present had one desire to get right with each other and with God. As soon as this occurred people began to break down and ask for prayer. The unsaved were convicted and there were numbers of conversions. The meeting lasted then until midnight or later while one after another "came clean for God." Some who had once been Sunday school teachers came and said they had come back to God and was ready for service again. People were sobbing all over the audience and here and there were groups kneeling in prayer with someone who was under conviction. After most of the folks had gone several men went into another room and joining hands and hearts prayed together and rededicated their lives to God. This after prayer meeting lasted until about one o'clock a. m.

Of the large number who were under conviction all left radiantly happy except one man who said he "must do some things first." It is impossible to describe this meeting, and many stated that they had never in all their lives been in one just like it.

Large crowds are attending the tabernacle meetings and after the prayer meetings of the members of the two churches here Monday night it is expected that the meetings will gain new and greater momentum. Scores have been asking for prayer and there have been several conversions even through an invitation has not been extended. Rev. Stephens has been saying that some other things must get right with the Christians first and we believe that now great results will be accomplished.
