The help of friends will make this column more interesting. Please call 140 and report items for this column. All news items of interest to women are welcomed.

Young Matrons Circle.

The Young Matrons Circle of the First Baptist W. M. U. will meet with Mrs. Wilbur McBrayer Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Visit Florence Mill.

Mesdames B. J. and A. Farry Barber, of Hendersonville, were guests Monday of Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Barber. While here these ladies made a visit to Florence Mills which is always interesting to see how the raw cotton is sent through the different machines and comes out in a beautiful product of outing flannel ready for the market. It is always such a pleasure (as the writer knows) to take one's friends through this wonderful factory, for one is shown every courtesy by the management and they are always eager to explain the different processes the raw cotton passes through, before coming out in many and varied patterns ready to ship.

Miss Wilda Queen is moving her sewing shop back to its old location over The Courier office this week.

Mr. Flay Weathers, of Furman University, Greenville, S. C., spent the Spring holidays here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Weathers.

TO THE VOTERS OF RUTHERFORD COUNTY.

I wish to say that, for fifteen years I have had a deep desire to serve Rutherford County in an official way, and have worked constantly to that end. My sincere desire is to be Clerk of Court of this county, and if nominated and elected, I pledge my best service to the Democratic Party, and to the citizenship of the county.

You will pardon this personal reference, I came to this county as citizen June 11th, 1911, nearly nineteen years ago, and cast my first vote for Woodrow Wilson and the entire Democratic ticket for the year 1912, and have lived up to the requirements of the party from that good day, and shall continue to do so.

Not having a single blood relative in the county to cast a vote or even say a word in my behalf, I must look to you and your friends for help in this election, therefore I will appreciate your making some inquiry about my qualifications and if favorably impressed, I will very much appreciate anything you do for me.

LLOYD WILLIAMSON.
Political Advt.

Rev. S. N. Watson, former beloved pastor of the Baptist church here, but now located at Bladenboro, was the guest of his son, Mr. Max Watson, at Spindale Tuesday night. He was a pleasant caller at this office Wednesday and the editor was delighted to see this kind friend who extended every courtesy and help upon our arrival in this city when we purchased The Courier.

WOMAN'S CLUB

Dramatic Club.

The members of the Dramatic department of the Woman's club and several visitors were delightfully entertained last Thursday evening in the spacious home of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Bostic, Sr., on East Main street. The home was beautifully decorated with cut flowers. Mrs. W. C. Bostic, Jr., Miss Lilah Padgett and Miss Eva Hollman were hostesses to the club.

Mrs. W. C. Bostic, Jr., presided over the business meeting, after which Mrs. D. H. Sutton had charge of the program which centered around the recent literary achievements of the south. Mrs. Sutton gave a brief review of the outstanding authors and their works of our own state and mentioned the fact that several Pulitzer prizes have been won by southerners.

Miss Ruth Moore read a very interesting article "The Cadets of New Market" or "A Reminder to the Critics of the South" written by Gerald Johnson. In this article Johnson says that the south is gaining world recognition because of its industrial and intellectual awakening but that the past generation of the south has been unjustly criticised because of their small contribution to literature. He reminds the critics that the south could not be expected to achieve anything in the literary world when all of their energy had to be used in making a living, and that the Cadets of New Market who came back home lived heroically to make possible the present economic condition which has enabled the present generation to accomplish what it has in literature and the arts.

Mrs. W. C. Bostic, Jr., sang with much expression two negro spirituals "Nobody Knows De Trouble I've Seen" and "My Little Banjo".

At the conclusion of the program light refreshments were served by the hostesses which were greatly enjoyed by all.

Senior Music Club Meets.

The members of the Music Club and a large number of guests were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. R. E. Biggerstaff, last Friday afternoon. Mesdames J. F. Weathers, G. J. Henry, A. M. Glickman and Jack Michalove were joint hostesses with Mrs. Biggerstaff. The beautiful home was made attractive with spring flowers.

Selections from Bach, whom posterity has justly acclaimed the "Musician's Musician," were artistically rendered. The club was happy to have Misses Doris and Frances Ledbetter, two talented young musicians from the Junior club, appear on the following program.

Paper "J. S. Bach," Miss Anne Lovelace.

Piano Solos—Inventions No. 1, 8, 14; Bach, Frances Ledbetter.

Vocal Solo—My Heart Ever Faithful, Bach; Miss Ruth Meares.

Vocal Solo—Ave Maria, Bach-Gounod; Miss Mae Farnham.

Piano Solo—Doris Ledbetter, Chorus, Unfold Ye Portals From The Redemption, Mesdames R. R. Howes, F. E. Webb, C. A. Petty, F. F. Black, Broadus Moore, R. E. Biggerstaff and Annie Ware.

At the conclusion of the program the hostess served a beautiful and tempting ice course carrying out the Easter colors of yellow and white.

THE LIONS ARE COMING.

The Textile Lions Club has accepted an invitation to meet with the Kiwanis Club here next Monday night.

At the meeting here Monday night a feature was the singing of Mrs. Glickman's glee club. The boys will appear at the club next Monday night.

To err is human. And in some cases about the only evidence that the erring brother is such.

Spindale Men Heard Over WBT

Spindale, Mar. 24.—A large number of radio fans were delighted with a program of vocal selections, broadcast Sunday afternoon by the Spindale Quartette, from Station WBT, Charlotte.

The Spindale Quartette is composed of Messrs G. B. Howard, J. W. Starnes, D. C. Cole and T. O. Hendrix. They have appeared on radio programs several times within the past year from Charlotte and Asheville stations and elsewhere. The program rendered Sunday afternoon consisted principally of sacred music and negro spirituals.

The Quartette recently recorded several selections for a phonograph company, and these records are now on sale locally.

BASEBALL BOYS GUESTS OF THE ROMINA

The management of the Romina Theatre was host to the members of the baseball team Monday night, all the boys coming out to enjoy a good show. It is the policy of the theatre to give the boys a free show following the winning of any game at home, and Monday night's entertainment was for the winning of the first game last Friday.

IN REPLY TO HOOVER'S PSALM.

Hoover is my shepherd, and I am not in want.

I had rather lie down on Hoover's park benches, than to kneel before the priest.

Al Smith would have led us by the saloons and our children would be in want.

Al has restored many to doubt the Democratic party.

Al would have led us in the destruction of a drunkard's path.

Yea, though I walk through the shadow of the red, white and blue, I fear no Pope.

I do not fear evil for thou art with me.

Thy papal and Rome.

They frighten me.

He would have reduced my wages by immigration;

Thou anointest my income with plenty;

My income runneth over my expenses.

Surely to goodness and mercy they will pay back borrowed money if this is the day of Republican administration,

And others could live in fine houses forever.
