SENIOR CLASS OF HOLLIS BANQUETS AT SHELBY

Hollis, Apr. 12.—The senior class class of Hollis high school held their annual banquet at the Hotel Charles Shelby, Wednesday night. The dining room was appropriately decorated in class colors and a sumptuous dinner was served by the management.

Mr. Grady Withrow acted the part of toastmaster to perfection. His ready wit and inexhaustible supply of good humor prevented a moment's dullness during the evening. A number of guests made brief and appropriate talks in response to toasts by the seniors. Prof. Clyde A. Erwin was guest of honor and delivered a most fitting address. His topic was "Preparation for Life."

During the banquet Mr. Webb called the toastmaster over the phone and extended and invitation to the entire party to attend the Webb theatre as his guests. The offer was heartily accepted and the remainder of the evening spent at the theatre.

The following attended: Seniors—Misses Mattie Lee Campbell, Effie Daves, Viola Gamble, Matt and Ola Gettys, Clara Mae Gordon and Laura Mae Irvin; Messrs. C. C. Crow, Blaine Jones, Buford McCarron and Kenyon Withrow. Little Miss Oreeta Daves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Daves was mascot.

In addition to these were Mr. and Mrs. Grady Withrow. Mr. E. M. Jones, Prof. Clyde A. Erwin, and the Hollis high school teachers, Miss Edith McRee, Mr. J. L. Rhyne and Mr. J. J. Tarlton.
