BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES.

Attendance was off again last Sunday and only 403 were in time to be counted present. We were glad to welcome 14 visitors and two new members in the Sunday school.

General officers and three new deacons were elected Sunday morning to begin service the first Sunday in July.

The pastor read from Mark 2:26-35 and his subject was "The Sunday School."

The pastor, Rev. J. A. Hunnicutt spoke at High Shoals Sunday afternoon when new deacons were ordained to that office.

Sunday morning at the close of the service Mrs. Clayton was received into the church by letter and Miss Leona Sizemore was received for baptism. The baptismal service will be held next Sunday evening.

In addition to a mixed quartet a part of the orchestra assisted the choir Sunday.

Sunday evening Rev. Dan. T. Hurley, a missionary to Roumania spoke to a large and appreciative audience. Rev. Hurley was the guest till Monday of Rev. and Mrs. Hunnicutt. Monday he left for Charlotte where he was to meet Mrs. Hurley and have pictures made preliminary to securing their passports to return to Roumania later on. Rev. Hurley in passing spoke of the significance of the return of Carol to the throne.

A number of meetings of various organizations of the church will be held during the week.

It was announced Sunday that Prof. Ruebush, of Dayton, Va., will be here Sunday, June 22nd, and on Monday following he will begin a two weeks school of music at the Baptist church. Everybody in town is cordially invited to attend the school. Often we hear people say they cannot sing a song until they have heard it several times and learn it by hearing it sung by others. Now is a good time to learn to read music for yourself and we are sure one will enjoy singing much more after becoming able to read music.

MR. C. C. HARRIS DEAD.

Mr. C. C. Harris died at his home on River View street at eleven o'clock Thursday night of last week. The funeral was held at Prospect church on Friday afternoon and the body laid to rest in the cemetery near by. Mr. Harris had been ill for some time. He is survived by his wife and several children.

Sounds The Same.

Sympathetic neighbor inquiring about sick friend:—"How is your mother today, Thomas?"
"She aint no better."
"Goodness—your grammar is very poor, Thomas."
"Naw she ain't sick, she's takin' care of maw!"

Order in the Court Room.

Judge (severely): "The idea of a big strong man of your size beating up a poor weak woman like that!"
Mose: "But, yoah honah, she keeps irritating me all de time."
Judge: "How does she irritate you?"
Mose: "Well, Jedge, it's like dis: She keeps sayin' 'Hit me! Beat me! Just hit me once and I'll have you hauled up before that bald-headed old reprobate of a Jedge, and see what he'll do to you."
Judge: "Discharged!"

Going Down.

He (as canoe rocks): Don't be afraid, we're only ten feet from land.
She (looking around): Where is it?
He: Underneath us.

Local Happenings

Messrs Yates Miller and Ralph Crawford are taking a vacation this week which accounts for their absence from their posts of duty at the store this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Haynes and children, Miss Hazel and Master G. C. Jr., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Caldwell. Mr. Haynes and his family are now located at their summer home at Chestnut Hills for the summer.

Mrs. Sarah Love and daughter, Miss Virginia Mae and Miss Beth Caldwell are visiting in Charlotte.

Mr. Andrew Love of the office force is attending the commencement exercises of his Alma Mater at Chapel Hill this week.

Mr. Charles Haynes spent the week end at Chestnut Hill.

Mrs. J. R. Shull of Charlotte, spent last Wednesday here with Messrs. B. P. Caldwell and W. H. Haynes.

Miss Una Edwards who recently underwent an operation at the Rutherford hospital accompanied by her sister, Miss Ruth Edwards of Rutherford were visiting here Saturday. Miss Edwards is fast recuperating from her recent operation.

We have just learned with regret of the illness of Mr. J. V. McFarland of Rutherford known to his host of friends as "Sheriff Jim." Mr. McFarland one time made his home here and is the father of Mrs. Maurice Hendrick.

Dr. J. C. Mills, our new druggist and Mrs. Mills are now domiciled in their new home here on Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. Myles Haynes attended the commencement exercises at Lynchburg, Va., of Randolph-Macon college last week. They were joined at Greensboro by Miss Rosa Mae Haynes who has just finished her junior year at Meridith college. Miss Amanda Haynes oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haynes was graduated from Randolph-Macon last week. Both Misses Amanda and Rosa Mae are now at home here.

Much interest is being manifest in the play to be given June the 20th under the auspices of the Textile Lions Club composed of men of Henrietta, Caroleen, Avondale and Cliffside. The play, "The Blue Bonnet" will be presented in the Auditorium of the "Twin High" school building.

Mr. D. C. Whitaker of the office force has left for his vacation. He will join his family who are spending some time at Norfolk, Va.

Miss Vivia Hairr, member of the faculty of one of Gastonia's schools and a former member of the local school faculty is visiting Mrs. H. L. Robertson and Miss Sarah Lou Jenkins.

Mrs. C. D. Hughes is singing in a revival meeting in West End Methodist church, in Gastonia. Dr. Taylor, pastor of the church, is doing the preaching.

The Woman's Community prayer meeting which meets every Tuesday afternoon will meet this week with Mrs. E. D. Crocker of South Main street. These meetings are proving very interesting and helpful and all the ladies are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle Lovelace spent their vacation last week at Union Mills and Gastonia.

The Men's Community prayer meeting held every Sunday morning at 8:30 at the R. R. Haynes Memorial building was led Sunday morning by Rev. E. A. Blanton. There was special music by a quartet. Some who attended the meetings for a while are conspicuous by their absence of late and say it is pretty hard to get up in time to attend the meeting and then get to Sunday school. We are having good meetings and want all the men and boys who can possibly come to meet with us next Sunday morning.

GOOD FARM PRACTICES REDUCE WEEVIL LOSS

Close spacing of cotton combined with the judicious use of fertilizer is helping thousands of farmers to outsmart the boll weevil. These two practices make it possible to hurry the development of a large number of bolls so that they are out of danger when the weevil begins to do its worst damage.

Where weevil infestation is heavy it is always difficult to mature the bolls on the upper half of the stalks. Experiments have shown, however, that a full crop of cotton may still be grown by spacing the stalks closer and by leaving two stalks per hill instead of one.

An abundance of plant food is necessary to form and develop the bolls on the two stalks in half the time as was formerly required to mature the same number of bolls on one stalk. The best way to supply this food is to side-dress with quick-acting nitrogen fertilizer at the first or second cultivation after chopping. The extra plant food speeds up the formation of squares and the development of bolls before the heavy weevil attack begins. Although the weevil will likely destroy the bolls at the top of the stalk the large bolls at the bottom, set early in the season, are safely out of danger.

The side-dressing is applied 35 to 40 days after planting or at about chopping time. The common application is 100 to 200 pounds of Chilean nitrate of soda per acre. The nitrate dissolves in the soil just like sugar and is absorbed at once through the roots of the plant.

Late Caller: "The light is going out—what shall I do?"
Betty (yawning): Accompany it."

Home Canning Made Easy

9 CANNING POINTS

1. Have all equipment in readiness before canning is started.

2. Pack products in jars or cans that will seal air tight. Spoilage in canned foods is frequently due to imperfect containers.

3. Pressure cookers are helpful in the canning of meat and all non-acid vegetables. The high pressure obtainable thus assuring perfect sterilization. Pressure cookers also save time and fuel.

4. If you live in the South, or in very high altitudes, or in the west coast states, get the time-tables for canning recommended by your state college. In these sections it is recommended not to use hot water for the canning of vegetables and meats but the pressure cooker.

OFFER $5,825 IN PRIZES IN NATIONAL CANNING CONTEST

To ward off a threatened surplus of farm products in many sections and to improve more housewives with the economy and healthfulness of home canned foods, a National Canning Contest is now under way to find the best jar of canned fruit, vegetables and meat in the country. Two hundred and twenty-two cash prizes totalling $5,825 have been hung up by the Sears, Roebuck Agricultural Foundation, including a grand sweepstakes prize of $1,250 for the best jar of canned food entered in the contest. Any woman or girl is eligible to enter the contest, but entries must be in not later than October 1, 1929. Further information on the contest and free jar and entry blanks for sending in entries may be had by writing to Anne Williams, director, National Canning Contest, 925 S. Homan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

5. For exhibit and contest purposes always use glass jars.

6. Empty space in a jar will not lessen the keeping qualities of the food, but it detracts from the appearance and is a waste of jar space. However, if a glass jar has lost liquid during processing, do not open to re-fill.

7. To can fruit juices pasteurize for from 25 to 30 minutes at 160 to 170 degrees. Boiling fruit juice destroys the flavor.

8. Canning does not change poor products into good products so use good products to put into jars. And do not spoil good products by half-way methods of canning. Use the quickest, safest, and most efficient method of canning, which is the pressure cooker method.

9. Before storing canned products away in a cool dry airy place for winter use keep the jars under observation at room temperature for at least one week.
