FRESH SALADS ARE IMPORTANT DURING COLD WINTER MONTHS

By JOSEPH BOGGIA, Chef The Plaza Hotel, New York City

COMING between the main course and the dessert, the perfectly prepared salad affords a welcome contrast to the heavier foods—the soups, roasts and puddings—which we naturally turn to during the cold winter months. Equally important is the fact that salads provide essential vitamins and mineral salts, and so are a valuable substitute for the fresh vegetables which are by no means so plentiful or inexpensive as during the summer.

For these reasons, the efficient housewife will see to it that salads are a regular item on her winter menus. She will not, however, confine herself and her family to a few standard varieties. She will remember that salads are capable of assuming an infinite variety of forms. Thus she will avoid the reproach of monotony so greatly dreaded by every woman who prides herself upon her proficiency in the art of the cuisine.

TOMATO SALAD LEOPOLD—Soak two-thirds box gelatine for fifteen minutes in one-half cup cold water. Add to one can strained tomatoes which have simmered fifteen minutes with one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon powdered sugar, a fleck of onion, three cloves and a pinch of thyme. Strain and pour into coffee cups and chill. Remove from molds and place on lettuce leaves. Garnish with mayonnaise dressing made as follows: Add to one egg one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon mustard, a dash of pepper and paprika, a few grains cayenne and one teaspoon vinegar. Beat thoroughly. Add one and a half cups salad oil, a tablespoon at a time. Beat thoroughly after each tablespoon until a half cup of the oil has been added and the dressing is thick. When all the oil has been added, add six teaspoons lemon juice and five teaspoons vinegar.

PIMENTO CABBAGE SALAD—Add one-fourth cup vinegar to one tablespoon flour, one-half teaspoon dry mustard, one-half teaspoon salt and one tablespoon sugar. Place in a small saucepan over the fire for a few moments, without letting it come to a boil. Then slowly add one cup diluted evaporated milk, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens. Boil for one minute and remove from fire. Add two tablespoons salad oil, a dash of onion juice, and one can of pimento chopped fine. Mix thoroughly and serve with shaved cabbage.

CUCUMBER ASPIC SALAD—Peel and chop fine one cucumber. Season with salt and pepper. Let stand a half hour in four tablespoons warm vinegar. Add two tablespoons lemon juice and one-third cup sugar to one-quarter cup boiling water. Mix with the liquid drained from the cucumbers. Pour into the hot mixture two tablespoons of gelatine that have been soaked for a few minutes in a half cup of cold water. Add, a drop at a time, green vegetable coloring until you have the color desired. Cool and strain through cheesecloth over the chopped cucumber. Place in a mold that has been chilled in cold water. Keep in refrigerator until firm. Garnish with cream cheese balls and serve on crisp lettuce leaves with French dressing.

DR. A. C. DUNCAN WINS THE JOHN NORRIS LOVING CUP

The annual golf tournament of the Rutherford Country Club was held last week. More players participated in the tournament than on any previous year, which undoubtedly indicates that golf is continuing to grow more popular.

Dr. A. C. Duncan, of Forest City, was low medalist, winning the tournament and the John Norris loving cup. Dr. Duncan's score for the four rounds, or 36 holes, was 150 and Mr. G. A. Williams, of Spindale, was close second with 153. The drawings have been completed for the match play tournament, which is in progress this week.

It is interesting to note that most every afternoon about 4 or 5 o'clock you can see a score or more players on the course playing the ancient Scottish game. Among this number you usually see several ladies. It is understood that the club is planning to have a tournament for ladies in the very near future and it is hoped that during the present drive for membership (which has been very satisfactory) that a considerable number of ladies will be added to the new roster.

AN APPRECIATION.

To The Voters of Rutherford County: I am deeply grateful for the splendid note of confidence given me in the primary last Saturday, and wish to express my appreciation for the support of my friends, and the splendid work they did in my behalf.

Many of my friends have urged me to call a second primary, assuring me that I would be one of the three high men in that count. However, my investigation discloses that the expense to Rutherford County of a second primary would be at least one thousand dollars. I find also that there is some sentiment against a second primary, because of the usual hard contests.

At the outset of my campaign I announced my policy would be to save the county every unnecessary expense. After giving the matter careful consideration I am convinced that I can better serve the Democratic Party and Rutherford County, by avoiding the bitterness usually engendered, and at the same time there will be a considerable expense saved the county.

While under the law I am entitled to call a second primary, under the circumstances outlined above, I will not do so, but will be before the people again two years from now unless prevented by circumstances and conditions beyond my control.

Again thanking my friends and supporters, I am,

Sincerely,

K. E. SIMPSON.
