

HARMONY SEEN IN DEMOCRATIC RANKS

Special Vigorous Effort Being Made to Interest Youth In Politics as Campaign is Planned.

Raleigh, July 28.—The Democrats of North Carolina are entering the Senatorial campaign this Fall with complete harmony replacing the bitterness which has characterized political affairs in North Carolina for the past three years.

Much of the credit for this harmony, which is apparent on the surface and which actually extends all through the party machine, is due to the action of Josiah William Bailey, in leaving the management of the party in the hands of Governor Gardner and State Chairman O. M. Mull, instead of naming one of his own men as chairman to conduct his campaign.

It is much easier for the old Simmons forces to rally to the support of the Democratic Party and the Democratic nominee, when they will work under the direction of Chairman Mull, who, because of his official position, remained strictly neutral in the primary fight, than it would be for them to fight under the leadership of Bailey's pre-primary manager, Shuping, or some one who had been closely identified with the intra-party battle. Raleigh politicians generally believe that the events of the past week, and the harmony which marked the meeting of the Democratic State Executive Committee here on Wednesday night indicate that while Mr. Bailey aspires to succeed Senator Simmons as this State's representative in the United States Senate, he has no aspirations to succeed Mr. Simmons as political boss of North Carolina. Certainly the welfare of the party is being put first by all those who were at the meeting.

For similar reasons the gubernatorial and Senatorial campaigns in 1932 have been postponed until after the general election this year. Mr. Mull is rigorously avoiding being lined up as a supporter of any of the five candidates for governor, or any of the prospective candidates for Senator, and he will see to it that none of the members of the party organization working under him use their position in the party for any purpose other than to elect Bailey and beat Congressman Pritchard.

Women's activities in the coming campaign will be directed by Mrs. Thomas O'Berry, of Goldsboro, who succeeded Miss Mary Henderson, of Salisbury, as vice-chairman of the committee on Wednesday. Miss Henderson retired voluntarily, and Mrs. O'Berry was the unanimous choice to succeed her.

Special vigorous efforts will be made to get the young people of the State interested in politics, and voting the Democratic ticket this year. This work will be under the direction of Tyre C. Taylor, Governor Gardner's private secretary, and president of the Young Peoples Democratic Clubs, and their full-time organizer, Roy Harriss, Carolina football star, who has already visited many counties of the State and organized Democratic Clubs for the Young Voters.

Oratory will probably be plentiful on the Democratic side of this campaign. Candidate Bailey will end the "Bailey Silence" of the pre-primary days, and other leaders of the party, including former Governor Morrison, Clyde Hoey, Governor Gardner, and the five candidates for governor, R. L. Fountain, Albert L. Cox, J. C. B. Eringhaus, T. L. Johnson, and Dennis G. Brummitt, will probably take the stump for the party.

OLD FORT'S CELEBRATION.

Whites, Catawba and Cherokee Indians Sunday gathered in Old Fort to celebrate the founding of the town and to erect a granite monument to those pioneer settlers who there held what was for long the farthest outpost of the advancing culture that at length overspread the domain of the Indians.

Thus commemorating their ancestors and their civic origin, the people of Old Fort set an example to all the other North Carolina communities.

There is much in present-day life giving warrant for the reiterated statement that our civilization has all the characteristics of thoughtless youth. One of the marks of heedless adolescence is our indifference to the past out of which the life of today has sprung, our carelessness in failing to preserve the history of the pioneer days.

But there are increasing evidences of another mind in the people concerning their history, with all its wealth of stirring deeds. Historical societies are at work searching out and storing up records. Communities are raising memorials and collecting relics. Old Fort proposes eventually to restore the ancient stockade with its defenses and blockhouse.

Rutherford people feel an intimate interest in the Old Fort celebration. The old blockhouse was the westerly gateway for the settlers from the headquarters of the Catawba and that section who, after the Revolutionary War, crossed the mountains into Swannanoa Valley. Among the first of these was Samuel Davidson, the Alexanders and others who established the "Swannanoa settlement."

GARDNER WILL CUT VACATION

Raleigh, July 28.—The four week vacation for North Carolina governor has been definitely abandoned by Governor Gardner.

The governor said today that he was planning to take a short vacation, of a week or two, sometime later in the summer. He will spend his vacation in North Carolina, but he has not decided where he will go.

Throughout the heat wave, the governor stayed at his desk in Raleigh, kept there primarily because of the starting of the Brookings survey of the state government.

"This survey and the studies of the other commissions and research bodies now at work will furnish to the 1931 general assembly more information about the state's business than it has ever been possible to have prepared for a general assembly. In fact it will be quite worth one's while having to forego a large part of his vacation period even with the weather conditions that now prevail in Raleigh," the governor said today.

Governor McLean, believing that a complete rest from the cares of office was necessary, spent a month at an isolated camp in the woods of northern Wisconsin during his term of office each summer. Governor Morrison, disliking the heat of Raleigh, spent his vacations in Asheville, and took care of emergency matters while on his vacation.

OLD DOCTOR'S IDEA IS BIG HELP TO ELDERLY PEOPLE

In 1885, Dr. Caldwell made a discovery for which elderly people the world over praise him today!

Years of practice convinced him that many people were endangering their health by a careless choice of laxatives. So he began a search for a harmless prescription which would be thoroughly effective, yet would neither gripe nor form any habit. At last he found it.

Over and over he wrote it, when he found people bilious, headachy, out of sorts, weak or feverish; with coated tongue, bad breath, no appetite or energy. It relieved the most obstinate cases, and yet was gentle with women, children and elderly people.

Today, this same famous, effective prescription, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is the world's most popular laxative. It may be obtained from any drugstore.

Are You Ready

When your Children Cry for It

Baby has little upsets at times. All your care cannot prevent them. But you can be prepared. Then you can do what any experienced nurse would do—what most physicians would tell you to do—give a few drops of plain Castoria. No sooner done than Baby is soothed; relief is just a matter of moments. Yet you have eased your child without use of a single doubtful drug; Castoria is vegetable. So it's safe to use as often as an infant has any little pain you cannot pat away. And it's always ready for the crueler pangs of colic, or constipation, or diarrhea; effective, too, for older children. Twenty-five million bottles were bought last year.

Fletcher's CASTORIA

Doubtless you are one of millions who have found prompt relief from that occasional headache in Bayer Aspirin. But until you invoke its aid for more serious pain, you'll endure much needless suffering! Try it for neuralgia or neuritis. Even for rheumatism. It comforts quickly, and harmlessly. Doctors prescribe it; say it does not affect the heart. Genuine Aspirin has Bayer on each box and tablet.
