"HOOVER PROSPERITY" BRINGS FORTH "HOOVER OVERALLS"

The pup goes to Renn Drum, of the Cleveland Star, for the best Hoover joke (or fact) this week. In his column, "Around our Town" he says:

"Last week, according to William Leslie's column in the Morganton News-Herald, a man walked in a store there and asked for a pair of Hoover overalls.

"Whaddaye mean, Hoover overalls?" the clerk queried.

"Oh, just an ordinary pair of overalls," the customer replied, "with reinforced seat and no pockets."

"Last week it seems several persons were gathered at Mr. Kemp Kendall's tailor shop telling prosperity jokes. Mr. Kendall or some of those present declared that Hoover, after all, was a sociable fellow. "He is so fond of fishing himself that it appears as if he wants us all to enjoy his favorite sport and has made conditions so that most of us have nothing to do but fish." A Republican, it is said, was a member of the group and the statement brought a retort from him: "Say what you will about Mr. Hoover, but I give him credit for doing one thing for me that no other president or human has ever done—he's taught me to like cabbage in the summer time."

Death Claims Mrs. Adline P. Hodge

Rutherfordton, July 28.—Mrs. Adline Payseur Hodge, widow of the late Joe Hodge, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Daisy Martin near the Seaboard depot Sunday morning, July 20, about five o'clock after an extended illness. Funeral services were held at the home Monday morning, July 21, at ten o'clock with her pastor, Rev. E. B. Jenkins in charge of the services and interment followed in the Rutherfordton cemetery.

Besides Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Hodge leaves five grandchildren, three brothers, Messrs. L. C. and George Payseur of Lancaster, S. C.; Jeff Payseur of Lincolnton and one sister, Mrs. Jennie Koone, also of Lincolnton.

Mrs. Hodge would have been 85 years old Nov. 6th, 1930, as she was born in 1845. She married Mr. Joe Hodge on Aug. 15, 1880. Soon afterwards she joined the Baptist church and was a faithful member until the end. She was a member here at the time of her death. She was a native of Lincoln county, but has made Rutherford her home for many years. Her husband died in 1922. She enjoyed a wide circle of friends and relatives.

An Episcopal rector while spending his vacation roughing it in the mountains of north Georgia, became somewhat lonesome for some of his own religious faith, and sighting a cabin in the distance, approached it and inquired of the woman at home if she knew of any Episcopalians in that vicinity.

"Wall, mister," she replied, "I couldn't tell you, for John does all the trappin' of varmints about here, but you can go back to the stable where he nails up their hides and see what you can find."—Pathfinder.
