

COUNTY HAS MANY COLLEGE STUDENTS

Partial List of Rutherford's College Students Given—Names of 123 Reported to This Office.

Rutherford county has a large number of young people in the various colleges in this and other states. The following list of 123 students, their addresses and college which they are attending, has been compiled from the news items reaching The Courier during the past three weeks. This list is by no means complete, but every college student whose name has been reported to this office appears in the list. Many of these students have taken advantage of The Courier's special subscription rate of one dollar for the school term, and have subscribed for their county paper.

DOBBIN'S FINER FEELINGS.

"The horse you sold me last week is a fine animal, but I can't get him to hold his head up."

"Oh, it's because of his pride. He'll hold it up as soon as he's paid for."—Gutierrez (Madrid)

Fit The Poultry For Fall Fairs

Before chickens can win many prizes at fall fairs, they must be carefully selected and fitted for the show. It is only by a careful, systematic examination that one can find all the faults of a bird.

"Before selecting the birds to be entered, place the males in individual coops and the females either in these individual coops or small group coops," advises C. F. Parrish, extension poultryman at State college. "Those having many birds to condition may equip a building for the purpose though most small exhibitors use temporary quarters. The important thing is to have the birds where they may be handled easily at any time without the possibility of making them wild or breaking the plumage."

Mr. Parrish does not advise force feeding to get the birds in shape. There are times, however, when a few extra ounces of flesh may turn a decision in a bird's favor. Extra feeding may also help to develop a better plumage. The best way to go about getting these desirable attributes is in the addition of a more concentrated and palatable feed to the regular ration.

Every bird to be exhibited should be taught to pose, says Mr. Parrish. This takes time and must be carefully done. Do not give up with first failures or be satisfied with a poor pose. Talk to the bird, rub it and feed from the hand. In this way the bird gains confidence and associates feeding with the hand.

Practically all white birds are washed before exhibiting. One that has not been washed looks out of place in strong competition. For tubs are needed to do this effectively. In the first, the water must be warm and plenty of soap suds used. This is rinsed off in gradually cooler water in the other three tubs with bluing added to the last one. After washing, allow the bird to stand in a dripping coop for 30 minutes before going into the exhibition coop dry completely.

HILL-BLAKE.

The following appeared in Friday's Charlotte Observer:

"Mrs. Ward Flowers will entertain with three tables of bridge at her home, 2308 East Seventh St., at 8 o'clock tonight in honor of Miss Jacqueline Hill, bride-elect, of October.

"Miss Hill will wed Mr. Paul Blake, of Lumberton at her home in Spindale on October 1."

The bride-elect is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hill of Spindale. She is a graduate of Mars Hill college and attended Carson-Newman college in Tennessee. For some time she has held a position in Charlotte.

She has many friends throughout the county who will be interested in the above announcement.

WE CLAIM PARITY.

Bureau of Standards of the U. S. Department of Commerce has taken upon itself the task of defining the position of the woman's waist line. It seems that is a subject which could best be decided at an arms conference.—Wichita Beacon.

Smoke Chesterfield

MILDER, YES—BUT SOMETHING MORE. Chesterfield offers richness, aroma, satisfying flavor.

BETTER TASTE—that's the answer; and that's what smokers get in Chesterfield in fullest measure—the flavor and aroma of mellow tobaccos, exactly blended and cross-blended. Better taste, and milder too!
