"West Of Broadway" Coming This Week

Of course you have heard a great deal about "West of Broadway". This is the play which is sponsored by the Forest City Woman's Club and directed by Miss Irma Frances Bray, of the National Producing Company of Kansas City, Mo. "West of Broadway" makes its initial bow tonight at 8:15 in the Forest City High school auditorium. The play runs both Wednesday and Thursday, November 19th and 20th.

"West of Broadway" is a comedy drama in three acts, a play within a play. It opens with a pageant of our local grammar school children. Between each act are choruses of high school boys and girls, and these dances enjoy the reputation of being the prettiest on the road this season. The play itself is unique in that it pleases all types of dramatic tasts, for in it we find everything from the most rollicking comedy to serious and beautiful drama. As to the play itself: a troupe of Broadway actors are stranded in Hamilton Junction "the bridge up north is washed out" so Jim Twyman, the station agent tells them: as he talks to the actors Twyman gets a happy idea. His niece Lida Bannister is stage-struck. Why not have these actors try her out—tell her she can't act, and then she will marry Joe Blake the village banker, as he has planned, and everybody will be happy. John Buskin, manager of the company agrees to do this the following day at the Junction House, local hotel. Josh and the Hawkins run the Junction House, and are responsible for a lot of clever lines and fun.

The excitement begins at noon when everybody in town comes to the Junction House to see Leily Bannister get tried out, yes, they all come, cousin Sally the "village newspaper", Mrs. Allen the up-stage wife of the new druggist, Henry Wood, the village dumb-bell, the dear old village gossip, came enmasse. Has Leila talent? Will she make good? You do just what the villagers did, all come and see for

The last act, a play which the ohn Buskin Repertory company puts on for the villagers. This is where we find our very good drama our moments of laughter, these and rilling scenes which hold us, our athos, but any more would be telling. Come and see.

Forest City literally runs riot th dramatic talent, to quote Miss Bray. Imagine John Lester Duncan the important manager of the Reertory company "Weenie" Brown who "aims he runs the Junction use, Miss Connie Frye, who plays hal role in a most competent maner, A. C. Finch, the fiery mayor who hasn't allowed a show in forty years, R. C. Alexander, the up and Funeral Held For awake comedian, Mrs. Hewitt, as Salley, who "tells the mayor a thing or two" and space forbids more, but! another page of this issue.
