TWO GIRLS OFFER BODIES FOR MONEY

Raleigh.—A. S. Brower, comptroller at North Carolina State college, has received a letter from two North Carolina girls who want to sell their bodies for medical research.

"Times are so bad, I and a friend of mine must have some money immediately," the letter reads.

"If there is any chance of our selling our bodies and getting the benefit of the money while we are still living, we guarantee that you could get our bodies upon our death," it adds.

Mr. Brower refused to divulge the names of the girls, but said they lived in one of the larger cities of the state. The girls asked that their names be kept strictly confidential.
