CERTIFICATE OF DISSOLUTION

State of North Carolina, Department of State.

To All Whom These Presents May Come—Greetings:

Whereas, it appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the Wakefield Flower Shop, Incorporated, a corporation of this state, whose principal office is situated in the city of Forest City, County of Rutherford, State of North Carolina (Mrs. J. W. McKinney being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 22, Consolidated Statutes, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this certificate of dissolution.

Now, therefore, I, J. A. Hartness, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 11th day of March, 1931, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of the said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my office as provided by law.

In testimony whereof I have set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 11th day of March, A. D., 1931.

J. A. HARTNESS, Secretary of State.

Lose Fat Safely and Quickly

Kruschen Salts—(a perfect combination of the six mineral salts your body should have to function properly) purify your blood of harmful acids, and aid the kidneys and bowels to throw off waste material—the continual formation of which is probably the cause of your fat.

In this modern age of living, it's impossible to get these salts from the fancy foods you eat—but don't worry just as long as you have Kruschen Salts.

Take a half teaspoon every morning before breakfast in a glass of hot water—little by little that ugly fat disappears, you'll feel better than ever before—years younger, more energy. You'll soon possess that enviable beauty, clear skin, sparkling eyes, superb figure which only perfect health can impart.

An 85c bottle (last 4 weeks) at Peoples Drug Store and Gray Drug Company or any progressive druggist in America. Money back if Kruschen doesn't convince you that it is the safest, quickest, easiest way to lose fat.

A Hartford woman writes, "I'll tell the world Kruschen Salts is wonderful stuff to reduce." An Ohio woman lost 10 pounds with one bottle.

Good Yields Required For Cotton Profit

Studies made last year on the farms of 36 Wayne and Johnson cotton growers indicated that not a single man growing less than 340 pounds of lint cotton an acre made any money. All but two of those producing this much or above made some profit.

"Our field studies of the cost of cotton production in Wayne and Johnson counties last season indicate that 340 pounds of lint cotton per acre is the dead line between profit and loss with this crop," says R. H. Rogers, farm management expert at State college. "In making this study, 36 growers kept accurate records of their labor and cost figures for the entire season. Not a single grower who made less than 340 pounds of lint an acre made any profit, but those averaging a yield equal to this or above made some profit with the exception of two men. The average yield for all the farms was 370 pounds of lint an acre and ranged from 205 to 517 pounds."

The studies further revealed, says Rogers, that the average cost of producing a pound of lint was 9.5 cents. The range was from 5.8 to 18.9 cents a pound. Figured on a basis of 10 cents as the average price received by growers, 64 percent of the farmers in the survey made some profit above all expenses. The state average for 1930 was 244 pounds of lint an acre. Yet on four of the farms studied where the yields approximated the state average, being 244.8 pounds an acre, the average net cost was $34.21 an acre or an average cost per pound of 14 cents to produce. These growers lost 4 cents a pound easily on their production.

In other words, says the farm management man, to make any profit this year, the cotton growers of North Carolina must increase their production an acre by 100 pounds.

Frying Pan May Hurt Poultry Flock

Fried chicken is a delicious dish when prepared as only a good North Carolina housewife can prepare it, but too frequent use of the most vigorous spring chickens for this dish will hurt the flock next year.

"Do not let the best of the early hatched cockerels go to the frying pan this spring as they are the ones to use as breeding males next season," cautions C. F. Parrish, poultry extension worker at State college. "The first selections of breeding males should be made from the early hatched chicks. Save only those which mature early, and have the size, constitutional vigor and the other desirable traits of the breed being grown. The late-hatched cockerels will in all probability cause weak and undersized chicks."

For breeding purposes, those cockerels showing early sexual maturity are desirable. This is indicated by the rapid development of the comb and wattles and the age at which they grow. The size of the body is an important characteristic of a good breeder, says Mr. Parrish, and may be determined by handling the bird. Those cockerels with a long, wide back, great depth of body, and a long, straight keel bone, should be chosen.

Mr. Parrish says high constitutional vigor is essential and affects the general appearance, size and shape of the bird. Cockerels having this vigor are alert, active, refined and well developed. The head of the vigorous male is wide across the skull, set with full, prominent eyes and has a strong, well arched beak. The body is developed with a full round breast and a full abdomen. The shanks are large, containing a large amount of pigmentation and are set well under the body. Birds of poor vitality are the opposite, being ill-shaped, under-developed, small and pale shanked.

Two Apple Bulletins Are Now Available

"Soil Management for Apple Orchards" and "Apple Spraying" are the titles of two excellent, new extension circulars, recently prepared by H. R. Niswonger, extension horticulturist at State college, and now available to commercial orchardists or to owners of home orchards in North Carolina.

In these two publications, Mr. Niswonger has drawn upon his years of experience with the successful and practical apple growers of the State and the facts are determined largely by the field demonstrations which certain orchardists have conducted in co-operation with Mr. Niswonger and the county farm agents.

The bulletin on soil management for the apple orchard is an entirely new thing. For many years, Mr. Niswonger has conducted demonstrations in the use of cover crops, the plowing under of legumes, fertilization with nitrate of soda and other practices. As a result of the field work, he is now in a position to advocate the practices which he sets forward in his new publication.

The bulletin on apple spraying was also prepared after similar field work. Mr. Niswonger makes the point that under North Carolina conditions, it is impossible to produce a crop of apples absolutely free from injuries caused by insects, but it is entirely possible to produce a crop that will grade out 90 percent of U. S. No. 1 fruit. This can be done of course, if the right principles of spraying management are followed. These principles consist in the correct timing of sprays, thorough application of the mixtures, and the use of materials that will control the particular insects being fought. The bullet-
