

The P.-T. A. Holds Final Meeting

On Friday night, May 18, the Parent-Teachers' Association held its regular meeting in the Forest City grammar grade building. The attendance was swelled by the fathers who "counted double" because of their presence. Many children were also present, lending their enthusiasm to the success of the program.

Mrs. S. J. Asbury opened the meeting with prayer, then asked that everyone sing the "Old North State" song, substituting in the second verse "the Parent-Teachers forever." Mr. Charles C. Erwin, principal of the High school talked very enthusiastically on the topic of the garden-project among the school children (There were fifty-eight pupils to take part in the contest.)

After the talk by Mr. Erwin, the president presented the awards for the best gardens, for attendance, and for scholarship. It is interesting to note that all the prizes were manufactured of cotton.

Mrs. Asbury gave a splendid report of the year's work in the association, after which Miss Agnes Barnes asked for the floor. Resolutions of appreciation of Mrs. Asbury were adopted. A copy follows:

We, the members of the Parent-Teachers' Association of Forest City at the last meeting of the said organization for the year 1930-31, do hereby offer these resolutions:

Be it resolved: Firstly, That Mrs. S. J. Asbury be thanked publicly for her most efficient leadership, her earnest willingness to serve the Parent-Teachers' Association and to uphold its principles, of progressive helpfulness in the community, and for her devout loyalty to the schools of Forest City.

Secondly, That the other officers and the Executive Board be commended for their loyal support and cooperation in all matters.

Thirdly, That the teachers and patrons of the schools be thanked for their attendance of the meetings and support of Mrs. S. J. Asbury and her co-officers.

Fourthly, That a copy of these resolutions be given to Mrs. S. J. Asbury, a copy be spread on the minutes of the Parent-Teachers' Association; and also that a copy be published in the Forest City Courier.

"Signed: Agnes Barnes, Mrs. J. V. Ware, Jean Andrews."

After another song, the organization adjourned until next fall.

New Income Source From Capon Sales

Cheap summer cockerels may be caponized and sold at good prices in late winter and early spring when other sources of farm income have been exhausted.

"This ready money comes at a time when it is most needed by farm families to pay pressing obligations such as store accounts, taxes, car licenses and medical bills," says L. F. Brumfield, county agent of Yadkin county and an experience hand in capon production. "Twenty-one farm families in Yadkin county having experienced in capon production in the last few years find them a profitable source of income. However, it is not advisable to attempt the work unless one knows how and when to market; has a supply of home grown feed; is interested in the work, and has a suitable breed of poultry."

Mr. Brumfield finds that caponizing should be done during the latter part of June or the first of July to bring the birds to maturity at the time mentioned. Light Brahas and Jersey Giants grow into beautiful capons by March when the price for this kind of poultry meat is at its best. The Brahma possesses a long, broad breast with deep, smooth meat and grades prime or prime fancy.

This breed will weigh more at maturity than most other breeds which may be caponized. The common Barred Plymouth Rock also does well.

Before a capon can be put into best condition, the body frame must be well developed and nothing helps in this like a good range during the growing period. This range should furnish shade, fresh water, protection from bad weather, a well drained soil free of disease, and an ample supply of green picking. After the birds are matured and near the marketing time, Mr. Brumfield advises limiting the range and giving plenty of the fattening mash.

The fattening period will vary from ten days to two weeks and no sales should be made until after January 20 or later.

THE CAROLINA INSTALLS NEW COOLING SYSTEM

Spindale, May 19.—New cooling and ventilating equipment is being installed at the Carolina Theatre this week. The system forces 15000 cubic feet of fresh air into the theatre a minute and is especially adapted for talking pictures, and is not to be confused with the old type equipment that simply stirred up the air that is already in the theatre. It brings in brisk cooling currents of fresh air that makes theatre-going in hot weather a positive pleasure.
