Democratic Sentiment is Sweeping the Country.

Washington is the home of political writers for the newspapers of the United States. Most of them have been traveling about the country "feeling the pulse," so to speak. These political writers, who represent both Republican and Democratic papers, are of one mind as to the result of the coming congressional election. They do not hesitate to say that conditions could not be worse for the Republicans, while they report that the Democrats are active, united and aggressive everywhere. These men, who have been out in the States and investigated conditions, say that the victory for the Democrats will be a most decisive one, and such is the tenor of their dispatches to Republican as well as Democratic papers.

The Washington Times, a Republican paper, has had three of its special political writers traveling for the purpose of investigating and analyzing the political situation in those States and districts where the fighting has been the keenest. They are unanimous in the stories they have sent their papers, and that is to the effect that the G. O. P. is going down to defeat. Here is the result of the investigation of these writers as announced by the Times:

"The investigation of the Times political writers, when considered with other information on political conditions, shows that several important events may be predicted with hardly any qualification.

"The next House will be Democratic.

"The Insurgents will at least be a potent factor in the next House and may control the Republican caucus.

"The next Senate will have a greater Democratic membership, the Democrats, perhaps, gaining as many as six senators.

"New York is quite likely to elect a Democratic Governor, and it may send a Democrat to the Senate to succeed Depew.

"Massachusetts may go Democratic.

"New Sersey may go Democratic and elect a Democrat to succeed Kean.

"Ohio is almost certain to elect a Democratic Governor, and may send a Democrat to the Senate to succeed Dick.

"Indiana is likely to elect a Democrat to the Senate to succeed Beveredge.

"Nebraska will probably elect a Republican Governor, but it may endorse Hitchcock, Democrat, for the Senate, under its 'Oregon' plan, to succeed Burkett."

"Mene, Tekle, Upharsin."

Attorney-General Bickett.

There is a great political upheaval in progress. It was started by the farmers and is being waged by them. For the first time monopoly is waging a losing fight. The people are getting into the saddle. The Republicans see the hand-writing on the wall: "Mene, tekle, upharsin," which, being literally translated, means: "The Republican party has been lying and stealing and the people are finding it out." The farmers compelled the Republican party to adopt the tariff revision of the platform, but Congress sold to the trusts and betrayed the people. The tariff schedules were written by the tariff beneficiaries. Not a single farmer, mechanic, working man or laborer was consulted, nor were their interests considered. No farm products are affected by the tariff. Their prices are the same the world over. They come in competition with the farm products of the world. Every necessity the farmer buys for himself and for the cultivation of the farm has no competition and the price is fixed by the tariff-made trusts. One hundred thousand farmers every year are leaving the United States and going to Canada, because the price of their farm products are the same there while their necessary supplies are 50 per cent. cheaper. These people prefer a country ruled by a king, to our free United States under Republican tariff-graft rule.

The Elizabeth Browning Book Club.

Miss Patte James, in her usual charming manner, gave the Elizabeth Browning Book Club a very enjoyable entertainment on last Thursday afternoon.

Upon entering the hall the guests were invited by Miss Katie McLean into the sitting room, where delicious punch was served by Miss Lila McLean.

The subject for the afternoon was the "Expansion of the United States." The following interesting papers were read: "First Steps in American Expansion," by Miss Lila McLean; "Early Pathfinders," by Miss Martha Everett," and "Pittsburg, the Gateway of the West," by Miss Bessie Covington. A beautiful instrumental solo, by Miss Bessie Bryant, was thoroughly enjoyed.

The contest for the afternoon was especially interesting, as it was "Shakespearean Romance." Of the many who cut for the prize, Miss Bessie Shepherd cut nearest the mark, and she was presented a beautiful book.

Miss James, assisted by Misses Katie and Lila McLean, served a delicious salad course, followed by mints.

The guests of the afternoon were Mesdames Peter McLean, Bettie T. Shaw, Bessie Turner, Misses Julia Stewart, Bessie Shepherd, Alice Covington, Berta Mathews, Carrie Mathews, Olivia Brooks, Mary Watson and Mary Patterson.

Death of Mrs. C. W. Clark.

Mrs. C. W. Clark, who had been ill with typhoid fever for the past few weeks, died at her home in Laurinburg Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. While the announcement of her death was not altogether unexpected, it will be received with regret by her friends and relatives. She is survived by her husband, mother and two small children, who accompanied her remains to her former home near Wilmington, where she was buried Monday afternoon.

The EXCHANGE joins her other friends in extending to the bereaved ones its sympathy.

Worth Considering.

The more estates created in North Carolina the richer will be our State.

Every Life Insurance policy is an estate created or in process.

Do you prefer to create your estate in your home State or in another?

Is it not a fact that North Carolina needs to keep at home every available dollar?

If you can secure from a Home Company a standard article at a standard price, is it not poor business policy to go to a foreign company for it?

The "GUARANTEED ACCUMULATION POLICY" of the Greensboro Life Insurance Company, in substantial guaranteed benefits, is the admitted equal of any contract of any company and is far superior to most.

Get the best and get it at home. You will help yourself first. You will help your State next. In helping your State you help yourself again and so become a double beneficiary.

DOING THEIR DUTY.

Scores of Laurinburg readers are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty.

When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick.

Backache and many kidney ills follow;

Urinary trouble, diabetes.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all.

Laurinburg people endorse our claim.

J. G. Sauls, of Laurinburg, N. C., says:

"If my recommendation of Doan's Kidney Pills will benefit any other sufferer from kidney trouble, I am pleased to allow it to be published. I can truthfully say that I never before used a remedy that helped me as much as Doan's Kidney Pills. My kidneys were weak and did not perform their functions properly, and I was often obliged to arise several times during the night to pass the kidney secretions. My back ached a great deal, sometimes so severely that I had to quit work. The plasters and liniments I tried did not seem to help me, and when a friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills I began their use. They certainly did wonders for me. I have not had an attack of backache since then and my kidneys have also been restored to their normal condition."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

"What you want to do is to have that mudhole in the road fixed," said the visitor.

"That goes to show," replied Farmer Cornassel, "how little you reformers understand conditions. I've purty nigh paid off a mortgage with the money I made haulin' automobiles out o' that mud hole."

Why stiff sole shoes hurt

At every step you take, your foot bends. The sole of the ordinary shoe bends scarcely at all. The ball of your foot, bearing the entire weight of your body, rubs against the sole.

This constant rub, rub, rub is what causes hard, callous places, what irritates the delicate nerves; makes your feet burn, throb, ache!

Why the Fall styles feel so different in the Red Cross Shoe

The sole of the Red Cross Shoe is flexible. Tanned by a special process, it bends with your foot. The moment you walk in it, you feel the difference. There is none of the strain, none of the tension of stiff soles. It entirely prevents the smarting and burning thousands of women complain about.

Women who have never been able to endure dress shoes, wear the most fashionable Red Cross models without breaking them in. They put them on in the store and begin wearing them at once, they are so easy on the feet.

Whatever hurts your feet, keep the nerves of your whole body at an unnatural tension, wears you out. The Red Cross Shoe removes this tension and saves your strength. It enables you to be on your feet hours at a time with perfect comfort.

Don't let anything prevent you from wearing the Red Cross Shoe this season.

Oxfords $3.50, $4. High Shoes $4, $4.50, $5.
