During the electric storm Tuesday lightning struck a tree near the corner of Marcus McKimmon's house, about one-half mile north of town. After tearing the tree into splinters the current reached the house and took off about two feet of the corner in which the two old darkies were sleeping. It did its work within arm's reach of their heads and kindling wood was scattered all around them, but they were not hurt.

The "Will O' the Wisp" Club.

The club met on last Wednesday evening with Miss Maggie Sanford, and a delightful "Historical" evening was spent with that charming young lady.

At the calling of the roll the young ladies answered to their names with some well known historical event.

After the business of the meeting was dispensed with, Misses Grace Gill and Olivia Brooks read very interesting and instructive papers on "George Washington" and "The Declaration of Independence."

Then came a guessing contest prepared by the hostess, composed of the names of the famous generals. Misses Edna Brooks and Ruby McKay tied for the prize a beautiful little silver souvenir spoon. Miss McKay was the fortunate winner.

Delicious refreshments were served, and at a late hour the members of the club bade their hostess good night with regret.

The best and last opportunity to visit Wilmington and the Beach this season—Bundy & Covington's excursion.

The same Old Story.

J. A. Kelly relates an experience similar to that which has happened in almost every neighborhood in the United States and has been told and re-told by thousands of others. He says: "Last summer I had an attack of dysentery and purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used according to directions and with entirely satisfactory results. The trouble was controlled much quicker than former attacks when I used other remedies." Mr. Kelly is a well known citizen of Henderson, N. C. For sale by Prince & Blue, Druggists.
