NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

Please mention the ROANOKE-CHOWAN TIMES when writing to advertisers

We are pleased to learn from the Orange County News that the University of North Carolina has the largest enrollment in the history of the University.

THERE will be an important meeting of the Northampton Cotton Growers Association at Jackson next Saturday, beginning at 11 o'clock. Questions of vital interest to the farmers will be discussed and a large attendance is desired.

OUR Jackson correspondent gives us a gentle rap about our failure to solicit advertisements and to answer letters. The criticism is just. Of late it has been impossible for the editor of this paper to do all the work he undertakes. As to advertisements we got all we can take care of without any solicitation on our part, and some we would be better off without. Our idea about a County paper is that we must not let advertisements, though they pay well, crowd out reading matter. The proportion of reading matter to advertisements must be carefully looked after. The fewer advertisements a paper has the more valuable the advertising space, hence we can charge a little more for our space than most county papers.

RICH SQUARE needs and should have a graded school. Our High School cannot accommodate all who wish to patronize it. At least daily some one applies to a member of the board of trustees to enter their children but for lack of room no provision can be made for them at present. A number of families who have been patronizing other schools now wish to send their children here, and others wish to move here to receive the benefits of our excellent school. There are about two hundred white children of school age within easy reach of Rich Square, enough for a very creditable graded school. We believe our people would gladly support such a school, if once established. We need to enlarge our public school district, and levy a special school tax to supplement the present school fund. What say you, citizens of Rich Square and vicinity? The thing can be done. Now is the time to act.

It makes no difference how long you have been sick, if you are troubled with indigestion, constipation, liver and kidney troubles, Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will make you well. 50 cents at Rich Square Drug Co.

On board a Cunarder crossing the ocean a dispute arose outside New York Bay about a sailing vessel some distance from the liner as to what direction the vessel was heading for. Some said she was sailing toward them, others that she was going opposite direction. The captain on Cunarder put his glass on vessel and said she ain't moving this way or t'other, she's anchored. That's the way with lots of merchants. We've never found time to anchor yet and we are arranging this season to run faster than ever.

You'll find us ready to serve in all our varied lines. Come at once.

FROM GEORGE

Alice Evans, of Portsmouth, Va., has been the guest of friends and relatives here the last week. James N. Futrell, who does not fancy picking cotton anyway at his advanced age, got the end of his finger clipped off while he was adjusting the cycle of the mowing machine last week.

Joseph P. Brown, who attended Ohio Yearly meeting of Friends, returned home last week. He reports an excellent meeting and a very enjoyable time he had visiting among Ohio farmers who have been favored with a very abundant crop this year.

Several of our people expect to attend the Murfreesboro Fair this week, and hear Governor Glenn. And quite a good number of our citizens anticipate shaking hands with Roosevelt at Raleigh on the 19th.

While Benjamin P. Brown is away from home, preaching, our other Quaker preacher, Henry T. Outland is very busy protecting the chickens. He has this season up to the present time, killed with his shot gun 12 large hawks.

The next temperance meeting will meet next Firstday afternoon the 15th at Horton's school house. A good program will be given. The meeting at that place last month was not held on account of heavy rains on the day appointed for the meeting.

J. A. Copeland of Ahoskie, was the guest of his brother, Eli B. Copeland of near Eagletown, on last Sixthday.

J. B. Pleasant and aunt, Louisa Lyons, of Virginia, arrived last Seventhday to visit his sister, Lena Stanford and family.

Sarah Parker is attending her two sons, Julia and Sedron, who are sick with fever at Newport News.

The county road outfit is expected in this township in two weeks and will prepare the roads for the winter.

The gin and saw mill of W. J. Brown has been exceedingly busy or t'other last few weeks. Much of the cotton of our section has already been baled.

Mattie S. Spivey and Henrietta Grant, of Rehoboth, who have been the guests of W. E. Spivey and other friends here, returned home Firstday.

J. J. Purvis is stacking his pea and crab grass hay immediately after it is cut, making some of the finest quality of hay. He got his idea from the Practical Farmer, which consists of three twelve foot poles fastened at the top and their feet extended and fastened at equal distance from each other by a firm pole or scantling about three feet from the ground, and the hay so piled on these last mentioned pieces and around the poles that a large hollow place is left in the middle. After a stack of considerable size is made around this first frame, then another set of stakes is placed on the stack above and the process continued as before.

The patrons of Olney High school, who reside in the district will receive full benefit of all the public money during the four months of the public school, but from the fact that the Olney High school gives a better and more extended course of study with superior advantages, than the public school money will afford, the patrons of the district will be required to pay a small additional amount to the school to defray the expense of superior teachers. Patrons of the school not residing in the district will have to pay full tuition during the four months of public school while citizens will not.

Since our last issue, Wm. Jessup has had somewhat of a relapse with the return of fever, which, with the complications of the case, has alarmed his friends again, but at present normal forces seem to be gaining control, and hope has revived. The nurse, who has been with him for a week, had to leave Secondday to fill engagements previously made at Norfolk.

W. E. Spivey has recently shipped 300 ties and 90 cords of wood from the Jess-up sidetrack.

Blanche Flythe, of Severn was the guest of friends here last week. Sarah E. Halleck, who is continuing her religious work in England, writes to her friends here from Birmingham, that she expects to take the steamer for Philadelphia on 18th of this month. She doubtless anticipates reaching home in time for our Yearly meeting in 11th mo.

Mary Spivey, Margaret Brown and Ruth Peeler and other teachers of our vicinity, are taking the teachers examination at Jackson today.

He writes: "At the age of 11 months, our little girl was in declining health, with serious throat trouble, and two physicians gave her up. We were almost in despair, when we resolved to try Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds.
