HAPPY MOTHERHOOD

The happiness of motherhood is too often checked because the mother's strength is not equal to her cares, while her unselfish devotion neglects her own health. It is a duty of husband or friend to see that she gets the pure medicinal nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, which is not a drug or stimulant but nature's concentrated oil-food tonic to enrich and enliven the blood, strengthen the nerves and aid the appetite. Physicians everywhere prescribe Scott's Emulsion for overworked, nervous, tired women; it builds up and holds up their strength. Get Scott's at your nearest drug store.

Elm Grove School.

This is one of the newest schools in the County but is taking its place with the most progressive. The writer had the pleasure of attending a part of the closing exercises Tuesday of this week and was delighted at the evidences of the good work of the teachers and hearty cooperation of the patrons of the school.

The school is in what is known as the Tyler district and is in the Southeast corner of the County, near where Northampton, Bertie and Hertford counties join. This was the first year of the school in its new building and at the new location and was taught by Mr. Alvah Martin of Conway and Miss Evelyn Elliott of Rich Square. The committee made no mistake in the selection of teachers. The boys and girls gave evidence of careful training and they will be heard from again.

Mr. J. T. Flythe delivered the commencement address which was a strong presentation of the value of education. He made it clear that to be a success the boy or girl must be trained for the everyday duties of life.

This school is beautifully located. The high rolling lands that stretch out in every direction, and the beautiful fields in plain view make it an ideal location for an ideal rural school. The patrons have good cause to be proud of their school.

A Fine Road.

Work on the Eagletown road is progressing nicely, and great improvements are being made. The convict force is now at J. T. Elliott's. Perhaps the greatest improvement in the township is on the road from Woodland to Annetta. This is a beautiful piece of road. It needs more sand which it is intended to supply during the summer. Soon we will have the prettiest fifteen mile drive to be found in the country. The distance from Woodland to Rich Square is six miles, from here to Annetta six miles, and from Annetta to Woodland three miles. Progressive, thrifty farmers live all along this road, vying with each other as to who can raise the finest crops and keep the best stock, and when the road is completed the isolation will be removed and the farm homes will be viewed daily by a number of people who rarely if ever pass that way now.

An Osculatory Ode.

It is related that a pretty girl who does newspaper work wrote this: "The greatest surprise to a girl who gets kissed for the first time is that there is no taste to it." How she found that out is not related, and it may be in bad form to inquire. However, an old bachelor who has read her unsupported statement roars back in this form:

"No taste to it? By the great hen feather in Cupid's dart, that girl must be color blind in the palate! They tell us—those who have tried it—we have not—that it tastes like double distilled essence of honey spread on pumpkin pie. Away back in the dim and joyful years of long ago, before we lost our teeth and our cinch in the beautiful prize, the prettiest girl in all the world told us that it felt like a covey of frightened quail flying out of each ear and ended up with a sensation similar to that which might be produced by a flock of angels pouring a golden stream of molasses down one's back.

"No taste to a first kiss? Great Scott! It would make a wooden Indian's hair curl."—Greensboro News.

Many Drunks.

Last week there were perhaps a hundred colored men and boys in Rich Square who were under the influence of liquor and upon enquiry we learned that the drunks were caused by a beverage called "meal wine." This was a new one on us, but we are informed that it has been on the market in this part of the State for a long time, and is made from corn meal and molasses or sugar, and is quite extensively sold as a beverage. Anything that will produce intoxication seems to find good sale. Perhaps the "meal wine" is no better nor worse than the booze usually shipped here from Virginia.
