Higher and Still Higher!

The cost of living is becoming serious. Prices for the necessities of life continue to soar, and expenses generally run higher and still higher. The hour for entrenchment is at hand. Waste must be cut out and saving introduced as its substitute.

No better means of saving can be found than a savings account in a good banking house.

Citizen's Bank of Murfreesboro, invites your account, large or small. A small account becomes the foundation for greater things, as "large oaks from small acorns grow."

Land Sale.

By virtue of two Mortgage Deeds from Miles Peoples, recorded in the Register of Deeds office at Jackson, North Carolina, Northampton County, in book 159 pages 28 and 46, default having been made in the payment of the debts thereby secured, I will offer at public auction at Conway, N. C., on Saturday, December 16, 1916, at about 3 o'clock P. M., the following real estate, to-wit: One tract known as the Miles Peoples home place and bounded as follows; on the North by the lands of July Peoples, on the East by Henry Jostler, on the South by William Jordan, on the West by the Boone tract, containing 10 acres more or less.

One tract known as the Boone tract, and bounded as follows: On the North by the lands of July Peoples, on the West by the Realty Co., on the South by William Jordan, and the East by the Miles Peoples home tract, containing 20 acres, more or less.

These two tracts are joining each other and will be sold separately or together.

Terms of sale, cash.
This 14th day of Nov., 1916.

County Teachers Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the Northampton County Teacher's Association held in the graded school building at Jackson on Saturday the 18th instant. The morning session will open promptly at ten thirty o'clock. Every teacher is urged to be present and on time. Several important matters must come up for discussion at this meeting. The following items are among the most important for discussion at this meeting:

County Commencement, 1917
The teacher's improvement through a course of professional reading. The Reading Circle.

Industrial Education in the Public Schools.

P. J. LONG,
County Superintendent.

Socrates And His Wife.

Whether being beaten over the head with a broom by your wife is conducive to philosophic retrospection or deductive cogitation or not is open to discussion, but the fact remains that this was Socrates' daily portion and he was the wisest man the world has ever known, all the morals of all religions are founded on his discourses and he was the greatest philosopher of all time, according to Marshall J. Gauvin, who delivered the first of the season's series of Rationalistic lectures in the Academy theatre last night under the auspices of the Pittsburg Rationalistic Society.

"Every man who reads and thinks today reads and thinks the thoughts of Socrates," declared Mr. Gauvin, "Is it not a disgrace that millions in this twentieth century never heard of his life and death?"

Mr. Gauvin got about as much applause from the crowded house as is usually given on week-nights to the choruses of pretty girls and the comedians. He told of the life of Socrates, and especially of the latter's wife, who, the world has accorded for the last 2,400, was the meanest woman in history. Socrates married her, thinking that if he was able to get along with her it would be very easy for him to be in peace with the most terrible of the world, other than her.—Pittsburg Leader.
