THURSDAY, JULY 8, 1926

The towns in the Roanoke-Chowan section are lining up with the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce. Seaboard, in Northampton, is one of the latest. The great trouble heretofore has been that the towns join and then wait for the central office to do the rest. Joining alone will not do the work. We need active local organizations in every town to work in cooperation with the central body. There are great opportunities passing right before us all the time. We need observant business men to grab them as they pass.

THE ROAD SITUATION

The public road situation in Northampton is not very encouraging to those who want to see every town and community center in the county connected up with a road that can be used for ordinary traffic for 52 weeks in the year. The county meeting advertised to be held at Jackson last Monday to formulate plans did not materialize for the reason hardly a dozen people were present to attend the meeting. It was postponed to Wednesday, August 18.

During the intervening weeks this paper will publish all the plans suggested, beginning next week, together with such observations as may seem best.

CONDITION OF CROPS

Weather conditions have been good during the past week thru out the Roanoke Chowan section for all crops. The rainfall has been unevenly distributed but no large areas have suffered for lack of rain.

All crops have made good growth except lice infested cotton fields. Cotton chopping continued up to July, the latest, perhaps, known here before. Much of the cotton has made a good growth, but the large acreage of bare fields is bound to cut down the total yields. Hardly a field can be found that does not contain large spots on which there is no cotton. There is a poor stand of peanuts also in many fields. Corn is in better condition than any other staple crop. It is fine.

A larger acreage is being planted in soybeans than ever before. The soybean is fast becoming one of the main crops of this section.

The Irish potato crop was poor.

Jackson Presents "Cupid Up To Date"

On Friday evening, July 9th, the P. T. A. will offer one of the funniest, most unique musical comedies that has ever been shown in Jackson, "Cupid Up To Date." The cast will be made up entirely of local people and will include snappy choruses, new and catchy steps and clever songs.

Miss Janet Holoman will take the part of Dolly Extreme while Mr. Stancell Seldon plays Will Steady, her fiance. Miss Annie Belle Gay is Common Sense and Mr. Ballard Gay is Father Time. These and many others go to make up the cast for this enjoyable production which will be staged at the High School auditorium Friday evening, July 9th, at 8:30 P. M.
