GEORGE-WOODLAND NEWS

Rich Square-Woodland Road Completed--Seriouly Cut In Cotton Gin--Other News

Misses Bryte and Ethel Daniel were in Norfolk Saturday shopping.

Raymond Benthall and Edward Lee, students at Wake Forest College, were home Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Grimes, Raleigh, called on Mrs. Grimes' mother, Mrs. Ella G. Jessup, one day the past week.

Edwin Brown and Elwood Parker spent the week end with friends at Guilford College.

Mrs. W. J. Brown attended the Methodist Conference at Durham Friday and Saturday.

Miss Anna Rebecca Purvis recently visited friends at Guilford College.

Frederick B. Sainty, London, England, spent the past week with Friends in this and the Rich Square communities. While here he delivered a number of strong, helpful sermons and lectures which were very interesting and instructive. He has traveled in most of the countries of Europe since the World War and is very familiar with conditions as they really exist over there and it was very educating to be in his company and get reliable information about post-war conditions.

Rich Square and Woodland have at last been connected by a splendid highway. The job of sanding the road between the two places was completed the past week. The road has been sanded about two miles on beyond here towards Murfreesboro, making eight miles of road on which sand has been hauled. The sand for these eight miles was gotten off of J. H. Parker's land mainly. The steam shovel and crew moved Saturday beyond the "creek" over towards Murfreesboro where they have located some good sand for that end of the road. The engineer having to pass on the quality of the sand for road building purposes said the sand they found on J. H. Parker's land was the best they had seen any place in the State, which indicates we will have a fine road.

Our community was shocked last week when the news was flashed around that Thomas Griffin had been seriously cut and mangled in the cotton gin here belonging to Griffin and Dunning. Two doctors, C. G. and W. R. Parker, were hurriedly summoned and the tedious job of sewing up the wounded parts was begun. Five cuts about six inches long were found across his chest on the left side. His left arm about the elbow and hand were badly mangled. It took about 250 stitches to get the wounds sewed up properly. A trained nurse was summoned and has been with him since the accident. While he has suffered terribly during the past few days, it is thought he is getting along as well as could be expected.

Dr. Raiford and family, Sedley, Va., spent Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. A. W. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lane, Tyner, spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Copeland.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Outland and son, Elton, spent the week end with relatives in High Point.

A committee from the Parent-Teacher Association here prepared a delightful supper and served the Kiwanians of Ahoskie and members from other parts of Hertford as well as a number from Northampton, at their reg-

ROXBEL NEWS

Mrs. James H. Wilkins left Saturday to visit her sister, Mrs. Robert Hayes, Raleigh.

Mrs. Lulian Modlin, of Boykins, Va., spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sadler.

Messrs H. R. Paschal, Paul Jilcott, Wm. J. Capehart, Julian Norfleet and Guy Tyler attended the foot ball game Wednesday--Scotland Neck vs Greenville.

Dr. and Mrs. A. Capehart, and W. J. Capehart spent Friday and Saturday in Norfolk.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Barnes, of Ahoskie, spent Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Barnes.

Mr. Wayland Barnes, of Colerain, spent Sunday with relatives here.

Mr. Fred Brass of Philadelphia spent Thursday in town with friends.

Mrs. M. C. Wood, Mrs. Janie Norfleet, Mrs. Lillian C. Watson, Mrs. G. B. Spivey and Mrs. Elizabeth Cherry spent Monday in Tarboro.

Mr. E. R. Tyler and Mr. Joe Burden spent Tuesday in Murfreesboro.

Mr. Jimmie Jenkins was in Powellsville Thursday on business.

Mr. Joe Burden and Mr. E. R. Tyler were in Scotland Neck Wednesday to witness the football game.

ular meeting last Monday night. Perhaps the principal feature of the splendid program rendered was the timely and very appropriate talk of Mr. J. T. Chase, Roanoke Rapids, who is connected with the Virginia Light and Power Company. Mr. Chase sees a great future for North Carolina, and especially for Eastern North Carolina. He said there was nothing North Carolinians could not do. He recalled the little school house with 30 children at Roanoke Rapids when he went there 20 years ago, when the school term, too, was only 3 months. Now they have one of the finest school buildings in the State with more than twice the number of teachers they had pupils 20 years ago. He was in New England sometime ago and was impressed with the fact that the cotton mills are moving from there to North Carolina. Thirty-five moved into the State last year. Mr. Chase sees great possibilities in store for Eastern North Carolina because of the Power line which is being built through here. He said they expected to go into every community that it was possible to go into and they expected to be a part of each community and interested in every enterprise that makes for the betterment of every neighborhood where their line goes. With our unsurpassed soil, our splendid climate, our progressive, energetic, wide awake people and a power line with unlimited power, Mr. Chase could see Eastern North Carolina the brightest spot in the United States. Others to take part on the program were: Mrs. C. W. Parker, Menola, who rendered two very beautiful solos, accompanied by Miss Aman, music teacher in the local high school, and Mr. Charles H. Jenkins, Aulander, who made a very appropriate talk on behalf of Chowan College. He thought the finest investment one can make is to invest in the human mind. He hoped everyone who possibly could do so, would contribute liberally to the $100,000 endowment for the College.

FARM DEMONSTRATION WORK

Hogs are making as much profit now as during the war time inflation period. This is due to the high price of hogs and the low price of corn at this time. We are overlooking a profit making proposition if we fail to raise hogs. We should remember though that these prices will not continue always. It is not necessary that we buy high priced pure bred hogs from which to raise porkers and the profit comes from selling them as finished hogs to kill. Good grade sows that will raise large litters and can be bought at fair prices are the kind you should buy.

I believe we can expect good prices for hogs during all of the coming year. They may work to a lower level but will still leave a good profit. Hog cholera has done great damage in the corn belt. It is said to be more severe than the 1915 epidemic and is hard capped by lack of serum. You can realize the seriousness of the outbreak when you know that in Iowa alone in 1913, 2,500,000 head were lost from this cause. This decrease in hogs will be offset in part at least by the large cotton crop with its supply of cotton seed oil which will effect lard prices. While we may expect lower prices I believe we may expect a good profit during all of the coming year.

We should remember that hogs properly handled—

Will pay $2 a bushel for the corn given them.

Produce as many pounds of pork per acre as that land will produce of cotton.

Return a profit of five to seven cents a pound gain when harvesting corn grown on good land.

Return five times as much profit on corn as is realized from selling it at market price.

Maintain the fertility of the land by keeping on it the fertility produced by it.

Make a profit every day in the year and returns twice a year.

MEETING

Do not fail to attend the meeting of the Kirby Farmers Club which will be held at Severn at 7:30 Thursday, Nov. 18th. Mr. Shay of State College will tell you how to make money with hogs.

E. P. GULLEDGE,
County Agent.

NEWS FROM KELFORD

Investigation of Automobile Wreck Reveals no One Was to Blame--Approaching Marriage

Invitations have been received by friends in Kelford to the marriage of Dr. Moody White of Halifax and Miss Mary Ellen Griffin of Woodland on Nov. 17th. Dr. White had a very successful practice in Kelford while he was located in Lewiston and made many friends by his close application to his profession and his pleasant personality.

Professor Pollock's All Star Team came over from Aulander last week and engaged Professor McCain's girls in a game of Basketball. A most brilliant game was witnessed, Aulander fighting splendidly to the last ditch, but was compelled to go down in defeat before the skillful and clever passes of the well trained Roxobel-Kelford girls, by a score of 24 to 0. But as to the results of a game played by the boys from Aulander and the boys of Roxobel-Kelford, immediately after the girls game, this deponent sayeth not.

The Rev. Mr. H. C. Lowder, principal of the Pendleton High School, came over to Kelford and conducted the Sunday morning services at Kelford Baptist church. His subject was ungratefulness, and the manner in which he handled it was pleasing and delightful to his hearers and made a profound impression upon the congregation.

Mr. Carlton Cherry is home for the week from Wake Forest College. He will attend the Griffin-White nuptials at Woodland Wednesday as Best Man.

The automobile wreck that occurred Sunday night, Nov. 7th, between Kelford and Roxobel in which Mr. Elbert Hall lost his life, was thoroughly investigated in Justice Cobb's court last Friday. As is Justice Cobb's custom in all cases he very thoroughly investigated every phase of the case by the examination of quite a number of witnesses who were first on the scene and developed the fact that the wreck was purely accidental and no one was to blame.

Mr. Geo. T. Parker, while operating a band saw in his shop last week, lost the top of his right thumb by getting it caught between a piece of timber and the saw guide. Mr. Parker lost three fingers from the same hand about twenty years ago in an accident with a circular saw.

A letter from Geo. T. Parker, Jr., Erie, Pa., to his parents written on Armistice Day, stated that snow in Erie was two inches deep and still falling with the thermometer standing at the freezing point.

The Willing Workers Society of Kelford will hold a Bazaar and serve a Turkey dinner on Friday evening, December 10th, at the rooms of the Kelford Radio Club. It is hoped that a goodly number will come and enjoy the festivities of the evening and contribute to a good cause.

Miss Claire Howell and her guests, Misses Bettie Star Howell and Evelyn Byrd of Norfolk spent Thursday afternoon here with Mrs. J. A. Pruden.

Mrs. J. A. Pruden and Mrs. M. N. Carpenter went to Weldon Friday afternoon shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Gray and daughter and Mr. A. L. Gray spent a couple of days last week in Richmond.

The Missionary Society of Sharon M. E. Church met with Mrs. Jordan Edwards Wednesday afternoon.
